

WEDDINGS

Bacon-Thompson.

The wedding of Miss Bernice R. Thompson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Allan Thompson, of Hatfield's Point, to G. Edward Bacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bacon, of Central Greenwich, was solemnized by Rev. H. A. Goodwin, B. A., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Britton, 58 Victoria street, Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 12, at 3 o'clock. Owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family, only immediate relatives and friends were present. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, George C. Jones, was very pretty in a gown of black Canton crepe with silver trimmings and hat to match. Shortly after the ceremony the bride and groom left by the Valley train for their future home in Central Greenwich, where a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. A dainty supper was served. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome muskrat coat. Many other beautiful gifts were received by the happy couple, including cut glass, china, silver, linen and substantial checks. They are very popular in their community.

Off to bed—fresh and rosy—Happy because Healthy

IS your little one like this? Does he enjoy the good health that is his birthright? Is he radiant with happiness? Is his little body growing strong—his mind alert?

Good health and sound, sturdy development in a child are largely a question of diet. The food given must impart proper and adequate nourishment for the building up of bone, brain, muscle and nerves.

You can assure that nourishment by making "Ovaltine" his daily beverage. For "Ovaltine" contains all the rich body-building elements which abound in creamy milk, fresh eggs and ripe barley malt. It is a concentrated extract from these incomparable foods—in correctly balanced proportions—and made easy to digest and assimilate.

"Ovaltine" supplies super-nourishment. One cup is of greater food value than seven cups of cocoa or three eggs—yet it is easier to digest than milk.

Start to-day to give your little one "Ovaltine" at meals and watch the improvement that results.

Children love the distinctive "Ovaltine" flavor.
