Baseball.

San Antonio, Texas, March 14—Hugh Jennings, assistant manager of the Giants, is the unhappy possessor of a slight fracture of a rib on his left side, as revealed by the scientific magic of an X-ray photograph. Jennings was hit in the side by a hard-throwing ball in practice on Saturday, but had attributed the resulting discomfort to nothing more serious and a sleepless period induced him to submit to expert examination.
His activity will be curtailed, but not absolutely eliminated, for some days.
