B. C. Map Sent Here Is Praised

What might be considered to be the final word in map-making has arrived from the British Columbia government at the Board of Trade office. It is a large wall draft of the Rocky Mountain Province under date of Jan. 1, 1935, and includes the very latest traceable items discovered by explorers and government agents. A unique feature of the map, which is intended for general informative purposes, is its special markings which locate cities and their population, rural post offices, game preserves, scenic parks, hospitals, auto-camping sites, golf courses, motor-boat reilling stations, waterpower sites, developed and undeveloped, with horsepower indicated; highways paved and unpaved, and as a modern touch, commercial air harbors and radio stations. Probably no map in Canada, it was said, is as comprehensive as this one, and an observer here in New Brunswick might well appropriate the idea in its new tourist campaign.

CHANCE HERE FOR INCREASED TRADE
Large Shipment of Bloaters From Grand Manan, Which Saint John Might Handle.

A trade which might be secured for this port, provided there was direct steamer connection with Haiti, Jamaica and Cuba, has been brought to the attention of the Board of Trade, and they are now looking into the matter. It was stated that the Grand Manan shipped annually between 200,000 and 300,000 18-pound boxes of bloaters to these places and that all went via New York.

It was said that New York brokers bought these fish outright and sold to the southern market from there. D. W. Ledingham pointed out that one of the difficulties in the way of securing the business for this port was lack of direct steamer connection.

The attention of the Board has been called to the New Zealand exhibition at Dunedin, from November until April, at which Canadian goods will be featured. The Canadian trade with New Zealand has grown from $2,500,000 in 1913 to $15,000,000 last year.

Elkin were now loading laths and lumber for United States ports.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF SAINT JOHN.

BOY SINGER HERE PART OF NEXT WEEK
Cyril Rice, up to a few weeks ago leading soloist in the boys' choir of the Church of the Transfiguration, New York, will sing in Imperial Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening in connection with the usual concerts.

Master Rice is in this part of Canada organizing a boys' choir for the Wembley Exhibition, and has been invited to sing in several cities. He is a most unusual vocalist, as his New York position would indicate. It was Master Rice who introduced 16-year-old Walter Dunbrack of this city to the choir of the historic New York church, familiarly known as "The Little Church Around the Corner."

AFTER HAROLD LLOYD'S SCALP!
Imperial Theatre has had so much good program material this week that to mention Douglas McLean in the roaring farce "Never Say Die" is something equally funny to "Charley's Aunt" might be taken with a grain of salt. However, such is the verdict of some who have seen both pictures. Be it known that Mr. McLean is after Harold Lloyd's scalp as a laugh-getter and is employing much the same method in his work. In today's picture he is the innocent victim of a doctor's wrong diagnosis, and the dangerous predicament he finds himself in is as much like the Lloyd picture "Safety Last."

Miss Mary Heasel, vocal teacher of Mount Allison University, will sing again tonight. In last night's concert her vocal offerings were delightful and elicited verily an ovation from an appreciative audience.

WASSONS EXTEND DRUG DEPARTMENT.
Saint John's largest drug store now is able to claim the largest purely drug and medicine section as well. A brand new, forty-foot wall fixture (made in Saint John by the Christie Woodworking Co.) is now fully stocked with pills, tonics, fruit salts, ointments, baby remedies, etc., etc., as well as bulk and package drugs of all kinds. Wassons made this change in order to keep the drugs and medicines in a distinctly separate place, near to their prescription room. The public will be better served now, too, in the larger and more convenient location. To call attention to the extension, Wassons are holding a big week-end sale of drugs and medicines in the Sydney street store, but the prices are the same at 711 Main street.
