October is the month when Association routine work begins in earnest, after the summer vacation season, and the managing committee will meet at 8 yearnagements for the various educational classes and the season's work generally. The Physical Culture committee are called to meet next Wednesday evening to make arrangements for the additional improvements to the equipment of the gymnasium. These improvements will likely be added before the classes open next month so that the gymnasium will be better equipped than ever before and will be all ready for the boys to exercise their muscles in from the very opening of the association's season of active work. The Stock Company engaged for the Opera House will arrive from News and rehearsals and active preparation for the opening performances will begin at once. The greatest care has been associated to severe a fine company and	night they gave very good satisfaction. It is probable, however, that a few additional incandescent lights will be put in to light under the galleries and in the hallways. The pastor, Rev. W. J. Stewart, who is such an energetic and tireless worker, is greatly pleased with the progress that is being made generally and with the spirit of advancement that is developing in the church. Among the Shipping. The Bark Quebec, from Liverpool for St. John abandoned after the late hurricane 150 miles off Halifax, and whose crew was taken off by a steamer and landed at Boston, was picked up by the Gloucester fishing schooner Iolanthe, and has been towed into Halifax. She is in good condition and was found with her lower mast and rigging all standing. She was not leaking except through the two augur holes bored by the crew before abandoning her. The Yankee fisherman was lying by as the crew were taken off by the steamer, and immediately after the last boat left the bark the Yankees stepped on board, took possession of the prize, stopped up the augur holes and towed her to Halifax.
