The evidence went to shew, from the position in which the deceased was found and the clothes which he appeared to have just taken off, that he had been preparing for bed, and had fallen off the bench upon which he had apparently been sitting while undressing himself. The verdict was death from natural causes.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH. -On Monday last an inquest was held by Dr. J. S. Benson, Coroner, on the body of Alex. Lambert late in the employ of Mr. Thomas Buckley, lumberman. From the evidence it appeared that deceased, in company with Mr. Buckley, and a man named Pitman were walking over a landing of logs on the Napan River, on Monday morning, when a few of the logs started from under their feet. Buckley saw the danger and warned the other two men to look out for them selves. Deceased and Pitman ran ahead while Mr. Buckley stepped back. The deceased either stepped or fell into a hole and one of the logs struck him on the right de and knecked him down. Pitman, 1. the meanwhile, had ran and sprung into the river, and when he looked out of the water he saw Mr. Buckley trying to raise the log resting on deceased's arm. Deceased was then carried to the house of Mr. Cribbs and was visited by Dr. J. S. Benson. He was suffering from shock and was pulseless at the wrist, and the heartbeat was scarcely discernible. There were no bones broken and no external injury was apparent except a scratch on the Death ensued shortly afterwards. The jury returned a verdict of accidental

The Bass-Gaspereaux Matter.

NELSON, April 29th '79. MR. EDITOR :- I need not tell you or any one else how the Advocate has been crying out these ten years past about any one catching or killing bass anywher else save in the North WestRiver But in its issue of 23rd inst., it excels all previous efforts. It says "we are glad to hear that 'the seining for gaspereaux has been pro-"hibited in the river and harbour of Mira michi and Bay du Vin and Black River We meant what we said and we are glad 'to hear it, and so are the bass fishermen of 'the Northwest." Yes, Mr. Advocate th Chief Priest was glad when Judas went to sell his Master and so was Judas when he got the cash in his hand, and so the Editor of the Advocate said he was glad when the seining was stopped. God created great whales and every living creature that moveth and which the waters bringeth forth, but the Advocate claims all tor the rich and its pet lambs of the Northwest. Our rulers ought to know that the greater part of the petitioners who complained of the seines destroying bass were farmers. Everybody in the county who knows anything about bass fishing knows that it was the scoop nets that destroyed the bass. Yes, the Advocate is glad Many shall run through and fro and knowledge shall increase, but did the Advocate increase in knowledge? If is did it would see that these last two years the bass have decreased in the Northwest, the Southwest and they increased hundred fold in the Southwest The Advocate wants knowledge, and let it ask and night during fishing time, or th Captain and crew of the Andover and it will find out how wrong it has been. It widows and ornhans are not. There are tive orphaned families in less than half a mile of shore and two of them have lost father and mother. God sends them fish out of the great and wide sea to their very doors. They can see them, but must not eat them, but, never mind, He that heard the young ravens when they cried to Him for food will hear the widows and orphans also. We must, I suppose, bear our wrongs in patience. NELSON.

HONOR FROM EUROPE :-- It is conceded on all sides that Dr. Ayer's Pills are above comparison with other medicines. Uniting the best elements known to the chemist they are particularly effective against the numerous stomachic disorders for which they are recommended as a cure. These pills are so mild, yet searching, that they are often prescribed by doctors who otherwise do not favor patent medicines. Indeed, with the fruits of Dr. Ayer's genius in the shape of pills, Sarsaparillia, Ague Cure and Cherry Pectoral, one might with impunity travel through desire to please, so much as to express the swamps of tropical America, or follow Stanley on his travels through the interior of Africa .- Amsterdam Nieuws van den

All the "phones" of this phonetic age are surpassed in practical benefit to mankind, by the discovery of Allan's Anti-Fat, the great and only known remedy for obesity, or corpulency.
