THE LATE PRESIDENT.

There was certainly no hurry on the The following reflections from the Nev sympathetic chord in all hearts, on this, the day of his burial.

In the presence of the great mystery it is only the simple things and the deep things that abide. The pilgrim soul puts off all else as it begins its journey through the Dark Valley. There was no thought of whatever distinction or power or success may have come to him that dwelt with the dying president. Whether he had won or lost his worldly battle, whether the night of his career was sinking amid rejoicing or lamentation was so little to him at that supreme moment that it did not enter his mind at all. As his eyes were closing upon earth and opening, as we must believe, upon a fairer scene, what did he carry with him to the portals of the beyond as the things that he would not put away?

We read that his mind wandered, and in his delirium he spoke of his old home in the little Ohio city and pitifully of his longing to return there to rest. We read that he asked for the woman who had made the journey of hife by his side. We read that he remembered his friends—and were we not all his friends—and bade them farewell. We read that he remembered his God and greeted Him with the murmured words of the song that is also a prayer: Nearer, My God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee. That was all. One's God, one's home and family, one's friends—life holds nothing electhat the soul regrets or remembers as at looks backward before it crosses the peaks of the meuntains.

sumor that President Roosevelt might not be favorable to the Hay-Paunce-fore treaty with Great Britain, says: - His request that all the members of the cabinet, including Secretary Hay, should retain their positions, and Hay, should retain their positions, and his voluntary piedge that he will carry out Mr. McKinley's policy should alloy these fears. Mr. Roosevett is too good a statesman not to know that international peace and friendships cannot exist without reciprocal concessions."

THE CZAR IN FRANCE.

THE CZAR IN FRANCE.

COSAPBIGNE, Sept 18.—The train surving the czar and czarina and suite to this lity today dashed through a double low of bayonets and drawn sabres, interest in some cases a double line of troops was on each side of the track, the first line being foot solders and the second line cavalry. Any outrage along the track was utterly impossible. In the town of Compeigne the streets were entirely clear and the sidewalks were coccupied by soldiers. Every window, however, was filled with spectators, who greeted Emperor Nicholas with incessant cheers. The evening was quietly spent in the castle.

TERRIBLE WINTER AHEAD.

TERRIBLE WINTER AHEAD.

The supply steamer Algerine, now at Sydney from Labrador, went along the coast as far north as Chidly, the north-seat extremity of Labrador. The whole coast was fringed with heavy feet. Fishing from Cape Harrison to Chidly has been a complete failure, in most cases not a fish being caught this summer. At Turnavik, Capt. William Bartlett has been for years carrying on an extensive fish business. Last year he handled 10,000 quintals of fish. This year he could not secure 100, which shows the utter failure of the season.

Chief Ruddick En Route to the Paci-fic Province—Industry Increasing in the Territories.

(Winnipeg Free Press.)

J. A. Ruddick, chief of the dairy branch of the department of agricul-ture, Ottawa, arrived in the city on ture, Ottawa, arrived in the city on Thursday. In conversation with a Free Press representative Mr. Ruddick states that he is on his way west to British Columbia, where he will meet a couple of inspectors and will there devote some time to travelling instruction work in dairying through the Pacific province. Upon completing his work on the coast he will pay a visit to the creameries and cheese factories in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories. He states that Manitoba butter has improved lately and that the improvement both in the article and its packing is commented upon in the Montreal markets.

W. A. Wilson, of Regina, superintendent of creameries for Assiniboia, who was in company with Mr. Ruddick, states that dairy work is rapidly advancing in the Northwest Territories, and the output of butter has greatly increased in volume. The Churchbridge creamery manufactured $5,000 pounds of butter during the whole of last season, but this year they have already made over 100,000 lbs., and the prebability is that this year they have already made over 100,000 lbs., and the prebability is that this year they have already made over 100,000 lbs., and the prebability is that this year they have already made over 100,000 lbs., and the prebability is that this year they output as compared with last season will be increased by 100 per cent. Mr. Wilson estimates an increase of between 60 and 50 per cent. for the entire division.

FAIR AT FORTY.

It was Balzac who discovered that the woman of thirty is more fascinating than the girl of twenty. Now the "Lady's Pictorial" puts the zenith of feminine charm a decade later, declaring that the apple of discord is due to the woman of forty. It is as interesting profession of faith, and one wonders whether the general acceptance of it by mankind has anything to do with that increasing fendency to defer marriage till late in life which modern philosophers have often noticed and sometimes deplored. It the woman of forty is really the most charming it is only natural that bachelors should wish to remain bachelors until they are fit helpmates for her.

MONTREAL, Sept. 18.—In Christ Church Cathedral today the Union Jack and Stars and Stripes were entwined in drapery over the pulpit and other prominent points of the edifice on the occasion of the Anglican Synod's memorial service for the late President McKinley. There was a large gathering in the Cathedral, and Archbishop Bond, assisted by Bishops Courtney, Baldwin and Mills, conducted the impressive burlal service of the Church of England. There was no sermon, the rest of the service consisting of appropriate hymns and canticles.
