Why Tea Quality Varies

VOU know how the quality of strawberries from the same patch will sometimes vary from one day to

One day sweet, compact, well ripened, well colored, richly flavored-next day it rains, is cloudy,-following picking is soggy, sour, green, coarsely-flavored, poor.

Tea, also, on account of its volatility of flavor, after picking and during the curing process is very susceptible to weather changes. A few hours of sunshine or bad weather after picking may make the difference between good and poor tea.

So that while one picking may be first class, the next from the same garden may be very poor.

I select only the pickings which come up to the Red Rose standards of richness and strength in Indian, and delicacy and fragrance in Ceylon teas, and thus that "rich, fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea is produced and Another tragedy was enacted last night and another victim added to the swelling list of suicides in this city, and that by carbolic acid, when seventeen-year-old Louis Kinsella, son of Patrick Kinsella, 13 Lombard street, poured a dose of carbolic acid into a cup and drank it down. Within an hour he was dead.

Young Kinsella came home a little after seven last evening by way of the union Depot, and was seen by several when passing through the station. He seemed to be in his usual frame of mind and was talking to his mother in the dining room, so that lady says, and in going through to the kitchen said: "Mother, I am going to take a dose of poison."

His mother thinking him only in fun, laughed at him and he went into the kitchen. The next thing Mrs. the kitchen. The next thing Mrs. Kinsella heard was her younger son Joe come running into the dining room saying that there was something wrong with Louis. Rushing out they found him lying on the floor and divining that he had taken carbolic acid the usual homely remedies were given to counteract the effects of the acid, and medical help was summoned. Dr. E. medical help was summoned. Dr. E. J. Broderick, Dr. Jas. Christie and Dr. Gilchrist arrived and did all that was possible, but about half-past eight the young man passed away.

His father, Patrick Kinsella, is a stone cutter by trade. He said that he came home about 7.30 and went into the kitchen. "I saw Louis and not ticed at once something was wrong There was a froth on his lips and hi head hung forward. I smelt the fumes of the acid, and rushed to him. ## American Agriculture Department Will Be Sensational.

WASHINGTON, July 24.-The Post district attorney hopes to secure the vestigation into the cotton report scandal, of two or three more persons, at least one of whom "is now or was form-erly an official of the department of agriculture," and that it is a certainty that the investigation conducted by the department of justice has brought to light a great mass of information, some of which is far more sensational than anything that has so far been made public. It is proposed to summon before the grand jury every official and employe who could possible know anything about the cotton reports.

ASSAILS TIPPING SYSTEM

PORTLAND, Me., July 24. — After having assailed in the most severe terms the practice of tipping college students employed as waiters in summer hotels, before the American Institute here, Mayor James P. Baxter went off on a yachting trip, and on his return Saturday found his mail heavy with letters and clippings from all over the country, most of them of a commendatory character. Mayor Baxter's address created a sensation among the teachers attending the convention, but for some reason they dropped the matter after he left the hall. In the summer hotels of New England, among the students employ-ed at the summer resorts, and the college men generally, the subject has aroused the greatest interest, and the only defense of the custom appears to be made by the notel proprietors, who assert that the season at the beaches and mountain resorts is so short that they are unable to pay wages large enough to make a rule against tipping

The mayor in his address claimed that tipping was a form of bribery, that the college student who holds out his hand to accept the coin offered by a hotel guest whom he is paid to serve is getting a lesson that will blunt his sense of honor and his love of inde-pendence, that it will smooth the way for grafting and bribery later on in

It is quite probable that the new game laws of the province will prevent American sportsmen from coming into this province as they formerly did. Already a number of former hunters have decided not to come this way this year. Last year there was no license required for shooting deer, moose license was $30. This year the license is $50 for either moose or deer and the hunter is allowed to shoot one of each of these animals. There are also many harrassing xestrictions under the new law.
