LADIES RUN FROISSY
All Important Positions in the Village Filled by Women.

PARIS, Aug. 4.—(Press), a little village in the department of Oise, has never had a feminine or suffragist agitation and yet women there have not only all the rights of the male but are also a stationmaster there is a place of public carter and drummer is taken by a venerable lady approaching 70 who vigorously beats the drum and announces the opening of the market on market days, and even the only hairdresser's shop may be considered a sort of public institution, is kept by a spinster. Froissy is the terminus of a small railway line from St. Just en Chaussée, and the function of the stationmaster, or Madame Le Chef de Gare, as she is called, is rather important. Her husband is conductor on the local train, and as such, curiously enough is under the orders of his wife, who is officially bound to see that he does his duty. The telegraph department is also in the hands of a woman who carries the despatches and sometimes walks ten miles or more to deliver a single message.

The fact that nearly all the public functions in Froissy are monopolized by women is due to a mere coincidence. The father or husband of each of the women occupied the post before them, and when they died, the good people of the village decided in each case that it was only right to let their daughters or wives take their places. The most interesting from a historical point of view is Mile. Marie Marchandine, the village drummer, who is 65 years of age, tall and straight as a poplar. Her maternal grandfather received the medal of St. Helena and had taken part of the Napoleonic wars before he became the village drummer. He had beaten the drum in many a battle and became famous afterwards for the vigils in the market place. Mile. Marchandine's father, who had married this old village drummer, became drummer in turn, and never missed a day until he was 32 years of age, when he suddenly fell dead while beating his drum in the village square. Mile. Marchandine then took up his work and continued to beat the drum as her father and grandfather did before her. It is a solid old drum, too, with big brass hoops, shiny and worn with age, and she loves this relic of the wars of the First Empire as the dearest thing in her possession.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE "HUMANOV" GREAT HIT AT NICKELL

If ladies and their children wish to hear the excellent Humanov Company at the Nickel today they must be early attendants for the crowds were so great yesterday afternoon and evening that hundreds and hundreds were turned away. It was one of the largest days the Nickel ever had in the number of patrons and not one person made an unfavorable comment—in fact, nothing but praise and wonderment was expressed on all sides at the remarkable entertainment, the largest and best ever produced in America for a five-cent place. The chief attraction was of course The Humanov, a company of talented ladies and gentlemen from about New York, who rendered the dialogue for D'Emery's famous drama "The Two Orphans," with force and exactness. As the long reel of film was projected upon the canvas—each act the curtain rising and falling—the movements of the picture principals were followed behind the screen by the players and words supplied with startling effect. The audience sat in rapt attention, bursting now and again into hearty applause and again uttering loud exclamations as the picture showed the old hag, Mother Frochard and her villainous son Jacques maltreated the poor blind girl and the cripple hero, Pierre. The remainder of the programme was made up of two excellent new Pathe pictures and songs by Miss Aubrey and Mr. Gurney, also the old chestnut, "The White Swan," which was depicted in connection with the Humanov production and several Pathe pictures. Tonight the doors will be open again at 8.30 o'clock. Parents are requested to leave their little ones home in the evening; and send them in the afternoon. Infants and very small children excluded after supper.

PLEASED PEOPLE, THOSE WHO ATTENDED THE BLOU LAST NIGHT.

Last night at the Blou was a night of much interest to the hundreds of pleasure seekers who sat with smiling countenances gazing intently on the amusing incidents of the musical programme. The picture in the picture called "The Little Match-maker," and as it brought home to some of the young ladies with their beaming smiles a little reminder of past happenings there was many a titter to be heard from the boxes. Even the older ones smiled amusingly as it brought back recollections of happy days of yore. The picture ended with a song by the day and is one everybody should see. But that's not all of the Blou's programme. The "The Little Match-maker," a laugh from start to finish, and in "Go, Little Cabin Boy" is told a tale of hardship ended by a happy ending who takes up sea-faring as his calling. The musical part of the Blou's programme was highly appreciated and Mr. David Higgins in his rendition of that pretty song, "While the Old Mill Wheel is Turning." Keep your eye on the programme paper; they tell us at the Blou that they are going to have a picture that everybody will want to see.

HAPPY HALF HOUR.

When applause is bestowed on three out of four pictures it's a pretty good sign that the pictures are good. That was the case last night at the Happy Half Hour, and scores were demanded for the songs. Miss Holmes made a charming little selection. Just A Lay of the Jay, the "hit" of the musical comedy Dolly Varden. The song which was sung by Louis Glasco, and it is doubtful if she surpassed Miss Holmes' singing of it last evening. Singing to a slight old, Mr. Buchanan was forced to sing a somewhat lighter number than usual and he chose two songs. "The Little Match-maker" and "Wearyin' For You, and I Love You Truly." Today he will sing a big New York song, "The Rose Said To Me." As usual encores were demanded. One of the handsomest marine pictures ever seen is "The Happy Hour" and the beautiful tinting is a feature. Brush Making is a decidedly instructive picture, showing the making of brushes from start to finish. Love and Fortune is a very fine dramatic picture, richly hand-colored, and many declared it to be the best seen here in months. Applause was bestowed on each of the above pictures at each performance. A disappointing rehearsal is a comedy picture and serves as a warning to stage aspirants. Prof. Titus made a great hit with "When The Harvest Moon is Shining On The River," and Harry Letroy was heard to applaud advantage in his "The Girl in Memory." The S. R. O. sign was in evidence as usual. Same show today and another good one tomorrow.

THE PRINCESS.

The Princess Theatre was re-opened yesterday and the performances were largely attended. The reappearance of Harry Newcombe was greeted with rounds of applause. Mr. Newcombe was in good form yesterday and his rich baritone voice was never heard to better advantage. He is doubtless one of the finest baritones ever heard in the city and the excellent manner in which he sang "Rose" was a treat. The programme of motion pictures are a selected lot of high class films. A garment film that was well received is entitled "Penniless Poet's Luck." A luckless and proverbially poor poet meets with good fortune and for a day, at least, he seems to enjoy life. The landlord calls for the rent, and as it is not forthcoming the poet is obliged to vacate the premises. Taking with him an old mantle clock, he sallies forth to realize what he can on his property. A hack is engaged, and the first stop is at a pawnshop, where his persistence to realize on the adjudged worthless property results in an altercation, during which the framework of the clock is broken. Now a fruitless search for a banker is made. The coachman will not dandle his fare until he receives his money. All attempts to escape are frustrated. Finally he sells his coat and vest and with the proceeds he is taken to the restaurant. Here he places a bet and wins. He buys the book-maker's coat, pays the coachman, and then is driven to a fashionable resort. The coachman receives a liberal tip and the clock.

Other interesting pictures are "Clarinet Solo," "The Girl of the Year," "Money" and "I Do Declare," all latest productions from the best studios.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT AT NAPAN RIVER

In Which Two Boys Lost Their Lives WERE WADING Tried to Cross Stream and Sank in Eight Feet of Water

CHATHAM, N. B., Aug. 3.—A sad drowning accident took place this morning at Napan River, when Frank Robertson, only son of Rev. John Robertson, an aged Presbyterian minister, residing at Napan, and Frank Dickson, the only son of James Dickson, lost their lives in the Napan River. It appears that Frank Robertson came down to the river about ten o'clock and invited Dickson, who was wading on the north side of the river, to come for a swim. Mr. Dickson declined and called across the river to Frank Dickson. In a few minutes the two young men were wading out into the river, one from each bank.

Mr. Dickson went on with his work and for about ten minutes he was in a hollow, which hid him from sight. Mr. Dickson, in a few minutes, had disappeared, but that their clothes were on the banks. He called to Harry Robertson, who was wading near him, and Andrew Dickson began a frantic search, finally locating both bodies in the water. Mr. Dickson was a young man, about 20 years of age, and was a very fine swimmer. He was wearing a white shirt and dark trousers. He was found about 100 yards from the shore. His body was recovered and taken to the hospital. The other young man, Frank Robertson, was also a very fine swimmer. He was wearing a white shirt and dark trousers. He was found about 100 yards from the shore. His body was recovered and taken to the hospital.

WANTS MORE PARKS.

Paris Pleasure Grounds Found Inadequate to the Size of City.

PARIS, Aug. 4.—A bill has been laid on the table of the Chamber of Deputies to transfer from the State to the city, the fortifications of Paris. It is proposed that the fortifications which form a rampart round Paris, should be converted into a boulevard, and at least four new parks and a number of squares and gardens should be laid out. Only four and a half per cent. of the area of Paris is open land, whereas the London has 14 per cent. The fortifications are obsolete for military purposes, and besides being a dumping ground are the resort at night of dangerous characters. The open places of Paris have not kept pace with the growth of population, and the justly admired sense of space with which Paris has been laid out in accordance with the Napoleonic idea has become to some extent misleading. Paris therefore, breaks out in what Dickens called "a spring rash" of pleasure grounds.
