Maria Contro Remarkable Success During Last Year is Reported Many Members Have Died-Interesting Statistics

ST. ANDREWS, July 4.—The High Court, Independent Order of Foresters, convened here at 3 o'clock this afternoon, with D. G. Lingley, St. John high chief ranger, in the chair, and with a good attendance of members of the high court. Mr. Lingley in his annual address cordially welcomed the members to this twenty-third annual session and urged all to take a part in the deliberations. He referred to the welcome by the welcome by the selection of the selec warmth of the welcome by the people of St. Andrews, and to the fact that the supreme councillor, Hon. E. G. Stevenson, was to attend the meeting, and trusted that his impressions would be most pleasant. In reviewing the work of the year, the high chief ranger referred to the good work done by High Secretary Emmerson, and also to the work of Messrs. Sherwood and Todd, and said the plan of paying cash bonuses for new members had produced good results. He advised its contiuance. During the year the high chief ranger made 42 visits, installed the of-ficers of twelve courts, and spoke at six public meetings, besides answering considerable correspondence. Special teference was made to the Foresters' Day parade at St. Andrews, and to a Foresters' picnic at Welsford. He advised a booth at the coming St. John exhibition. After heferring to the reexhibition. After heferring to the re-cent life issurance investigations and the good that will likely result there-from, Mr. Lingley said: "The order at large has enjoyed a large share of pros-perity, the total gain in membership being 7,840, and the surplus, with a gain of $1,160,000, is now over $10,000,-000.

Mr. Lingley regretted that recent Ottawa legislation had compelled Hon. Judge Wedderburn to resign his position as P. S. C. R., so New Brunswick is now for the first time without a representative on the supreme executive. He referred to the matter of attendance of subscales. the greatest questions before the order today, and said the Forester who can provide a remedy will win the hearty thanks of all chief rangers.

evening Principal Falconer dealt with the questions of the baptism and temptation of Christ. These two served to open up and give direction and intensity to His after ministry. In the consciousness of His Messlahship, His divine sonship He flung aside the ideals of His people and accepted with all its consequences the way of the Father's will. It was around His Messiahship that the temptation centred. Wednes-Its principal features are as follows:
For the first offense, $100; for the second, $200; for the third, six months' imprisonment.
