THINGS OF VALUE.

There never was, and never will be, a universal panacea, in one remedy for all ills to which flesh is heir—the very nature of many cures being such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases, which nature's own restoratives. It relieves the drooping spirits of those with whom a chronic state of morbid despondency and lack of interest in life is a disease, and by tranquillizing the nerves, disposes to sound and refreshing sleep—imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which, being stimulated, courses throughout the veins, strengthening the healthy and normal functions of the system, thereby making activity a necessary result, strengthening the frame, and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand local substance—result, improved appetite, nourishment & dynamism of the system, the giving to the public their superior Quinine Wine at the retail price, and, gauged by the opinion of scientists' this wine approaches nearest perfection of any in the market. All druggists sell it.

It is strange how long a man will remember the five cents he lends you, and how short his memory is in regard to the dollar you lend him.

Always on Hand.—Mr. Thomas H. Porter, Lower Ireland, F. Q. writes: "My son, 18 months old, had croup so bad that nothing gave him relief until a neighbor brought me some of Dr. Thomas' Eucalyptus Oil, which I gave him, and in six hours he was cured. It is the best medicine I ever used and I would not be without a bottle of it in my house."

Mrs. Niblick—You mustn't mind my husband, Mr. Von Bunker, if he swears terribly while he is playing golf.

Von Bunker—And you mustn't mind me, Mrs. Niblick, if I take the words out of his mouth.

The great lung healer is found in that excellent medicine sold as Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages, and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, pains or soreness in the chest, bronchitis, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption.

Desmond—Money is Certainly the slipperiest thing on earth.

Octonot—Oh, I don't know; there's time.

The Demon Dyspepsia.—In olden times it was a popular belief that evil as moved invisibly through the ambient air, seeking to enter into men
