AROUND THE CITY

D. ARNOLD FOX
Word was received by the Warden of St. John's (Stone) Church of the safe arrival in England of D. Arnold Fox. Mr. Fox's many friends in the Stone Church congregation and elsewhere will be glad to learn that he stood the journey quite well.

MORE EELS
The workmen of the water and sewerage department are still making war on the eels in the water pipes and yesterday took two out of the fire hydrant at the upper end of Chesley street. One was a regular waterhob, measuring two feet, eight inches in length.

A DIVORCE GRANTED
After many years of patient suffering you can be divorced from your wife or husband completely by applying Putnam's Cura Extractor. This wonderful oil remedy acts in 24 hours and never fails. Refuse a substitute and remember "Putnam's" is the only Painless Remedy. See every where.

THANKSGIVING DINNER
A very successful Thanksgiving dinner was given in the Tabernacle church yesterday by the Ladies' Sewing Circle, under the convalescence of their president, Mrs. William Foster. The dinner was well patronized, and the considerable sum realized will be devoted to the general church fund.

SPECIAL THANKSGIVING SERVICE
A special Thanksgiving service was held last evening in the Main street Baptist church. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Hutchinson referred to the many things for which Canadians especially should give thanks to God. As the day also commemorates the signing of peace the memorial tablet of the church was decorated with a wreath of poppies in memory of the boys who lie "in Flanders' Field."

BOYS' DEPARTMENT MIKE
Some fifteen members of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. had a glorious hike yesterday under the leadership of the secretary of the department, E. A. Morton, and his assistant, Elmer Smith. The boys left early in the morning and hiked out to way of Rockwood Park. They took their dinner and were gone the best part of the day.

M. S. Benson
Word was received yesterday that M. S. Benson of Chatham had suddenly passed away. Mr. Benson was taken ill last week with paralysis of the brain and although hopes were held for his recovery he died yesterday. He was a barrister and a man prominent in business circles in the province, and leaves a host of friends to mourn their loss.

PERSONAL
Dr. Maxon Case, who has been taking a holiday trip, visiting a number of American cities, will arrive home today.
Mrs. S. K. Smith has returned home after a month's visit to Montreal, the guest of Mrs. J. G. Embley, at the Dudley.

Orangemen Attend Divine Service

Sons of England Take Part in Parade—Inspiring Sermon by Rev. Neil McLaughlin.

Members of the Orange Order and Sons of England attended divine service at Queen Square Methodist church Sunday afternoon, and listened to an inspiring address by Rev. Neil McLaughlin. The service was arranged as a public Thanksgiving service by these orders for the many blessings conferred on the Empire and especially that victory had been won on her banners in the great war of the service was under the immediate direction of Dominion Lodge No. 141, L. O. L., and Lodge Portland, & O. E., and other lodges of both orders took part in the parade and service. The ladies of the L. O. E. A. did not parade but they were present at the church in large numbers and took part in the service.

They met at Dominion Lodge Hall, Simonds street, and headed by St. Mary's Band, marched by way of Main, Mill, Union, Sydney, Queen Square to the church, where seats had been reserved in the body of the building. The church was filled to the doors with the members of the societies and their friends were true to their promise. The offering, which amounted to about $75, will be equally divided between the Memorial Home and St. John Protestant Orphans' Home.

Rev. Mr. McLaughlin took as his text Judges 7: "And the Lord said unto Gideon, by the three hundred men that lapped will I save you, and deliver the Midianites into your hands." It was a critical time in the history of Israel when this was spoken. For seven successive years the Midianites had raided the land and carried off the harvests and now they were threatening to make another raid. Gideon had gathered together an army of 32,000 men, but the enemy had 137,000 trained, fighting men opposed to them. Of this 32,000 only 10,000 started for the battle field, the other 22,000 having turned homeward through fear. But the army of defence was still further reduced by the test when they passed through the brook and only 300 met this test.

But this 300 won a great victory because they had in their hearts the real spirit of victory. The 2,700 failed because they lacked the sacrificial and enthusiastic spirit. This was true of life today. It was the men who had this spirit that won great victories. This was true of the order which was addressing the Orange Order, for they had played a large part in preserving the religious and civil liberties of the Empire. The order was born in 1698, and was instituted to help William Prince of Orange in his fight to uphold the freedom of worship which James II. wished to take from them. Ever since that time the order has stood for freedom for all men and special rights for none. Gideon won his fight because God was with him, and the Orange Order won its fight only as God was with them, and if they were true to their principles they were the best friends any country could have.

The Orange lodges taking part in the service were the Black Knights, Scarlet Chapter, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 7, 24 and 141, and No. 11, L. O. E. A.

Motorists Provided Some Amusement

Cars Without Skid Chains Had Difficulty on the Steep Hills.

Yesterday was a hard day for the motorists, and many humorous happenings were seen on the steeply rising hills. Some of them very nearly ending in tragedy. Mill St. hill and King St. were the most difficult spots and the fellow who was caught out with smooth tires and no chains had a nerve racking time of it for a while. Several turned completely around while coming down King street, and one took to the sidewalk, not however, of his own free will. This gentleman was making for the Union Club, he tried to turn into Germain street but skidded, turned half way round and backed gracefully down the sidewalk for some distance before he could bring the car to a stop. Yesterday afternoon a car was seen trying to get up Chipman Hill, but even got out and tried to push it but no avail. They had to go around and come down the hill.

After a time those coming from the North End to the city got wise and most of them went around Smythe street and North Wharf.

Mrs. Lee Hamer, Asst. Pianist.

Fire Destroyed Tug Lord Beatty

Deckhouses Burned and Hull Badly Damaged Saturday Evening.

Fire of unknown origin practically destroyed the tug Lord Beatty on Saturday evening. Captain Beatty and crew lost all their belongings in the flames. The loss could not be ascertained definitely yesterday as the survey of the portwarden has not been held. The loss to the members of the crew will run well over $1,000, as all their clothing, the clothes on their backs and the equipment in addition to his clothes his entire kit of tools, but managed to save fifty dollars which had under his mattress in his berth.

The boat tied up at her berth, McAvity's wharf, Saturday afternoon and about 10:30 p.m. the fire broke out. About half past six the other members of the crew left the boat for a run up town and everything was in apple pie order at that time, no sign of fire anywhere.

About eight o'clock the flames were seen bursting out and an alarm rung in from box 25. The fire fighters quickly responded but the fire spread so fast that it was impossible to contain it. The blaze was extinguished the whole interior of the craft was a wreck. After the flames had been conquered the boat was towed around into the slip and now lies submerged at high water, waiting for the portwarden survey, which will probably be made today. In addition to the deckhouses and the work on the hull of the boat being destroyed it is thought the machinery is ruined as well.

The Lord Beatty was owned by Nagle & Wilmore and used by them in towing in the harbor. She was one of the best tugs in the port and her loss at this time will be felt severely by the firm, as they were counting on her for the winter trade.

Captain George Morrell was in command; Mr. Smith, Harry Beatty, engineer, and Arthur Butler, fireman. Capt. Morrell lost about $150 worth of clothes; Mr. Beatty a brand new suit, and all his tools, clothes and his whole kit of tools and the other members of the crew all their clothes but what they had on.

Thankful Allies Made Peace Terms

Presbyterians Unite With Knox Church in Service of Praise and Thanksgiving.

The Presbyterians of the city held a united Thanksgiving service, yesterday morning, in Knox church, and the gathering was truly representative of the various Presbyterian churches of the city. Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, pastor of Knox church, presided and conducted the service and the sermon was preached by Rev. J. A. Morrison, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The speaker based his remarks on 1 Chronicles 29:13: "Now, therefore, our God we thank Thee." After taking his hearers back to the days of the early colonists in 1691, three centuries ago, when Thanksgiving was inaugurated and reviewing world happenings since that time, he pointed out the need for optimism today, asking the congregation to consider that, while it was true we did hear of unemployment, of the loss of our capital and labor and various other unpleasant things, what would have happened had the Hun been victorious in the late war, and to return thanks to God that it was the Allies who had won the terms of peace. A feature of the service was the number of ministers in the congregation. All the Presbyterian ministers were seen. Rev. Dr. Steel representing the Methodists and Rev. Dr. Hutchinson, representing the Baptists.

FIVE MEN IN FOR SHELTER

Although the cells were occupied by five inmates Saturday night, none of them were in for arrest, they simply applied to the city for a shelter from the wintry blasts. On Sunday, Joseph Holchuck was arrested for being drunk on St. James street, and also for breaking the shop window of E. Libby, 233 St. James street.

Brig.-Gen. Macdonnell Appointed Senator

Appointed to Senate to Succeed Hon. Claude Macdonnell, Resigned.

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—Brig.-General Archibald Hayes Macdonnell, C. M. G., D. S. O., of Toronto, has been appointed to the Senate to succeed Hon. Claude Macdonnell, who has resigned, it was announced today.

The announcement in St. John of the appointment of Brigadier-General Macdonnell to the Senate was made by his Worship Mayor E. A. Schofield, during the holding of the indoor sports meet at the Armories yesterday evening. The newly elected Senator, who was present for the witnessing of the contests, and made the opening address, was loudly cheered, and he received many congratulations from his numerous friends. While the appointment fills an Ontario vacancy, caused by the resignation of his brother, Senator Claude Macdonnell, it is the elevation of Brigadier-General Macdonnell to the Senate is a very popular one in New Brunswick from every standpoint.

Grand Military Career.
Brigadier-General Macdonnell was born in Toronto, on February 6, 1868. He joined the militia in February, 1888. In 1893 he was appointed to the permanent force and was posted to the Infantry Station at Fredericton.

On the outbreak of the South African war, he went to South Africa with the 1st Canadian contingent, and shortly after his return to Canada, Brigadier-General Macdonnell proceeded to the permanent force and was posted to the Staff of the 1st Canadian Contingent. After serving for six months in that capacity, Brigadier-General Macdonnell was transferred to the Staff to take command of the Royal Canadian Regiment with which he served in the trenches for seven months. Subsequently on his return to this country, he was selected for the Staff College in England, where he spent two years at military studies extending from 1905 to 1907.

Served in Trenches.
Early in January, 1907, the newly appointed Senator was employed on the staff at Halifax, and was sent to Toronto as Chief Staff Officer for Western Ontario Command in 1910. At the time of the rearrangement of the military districts Brigadier-General Macdonnell was transferred to the Staff of the 1st Canadian Contingent. After serving for six months in that capacity, Brigadier-General Macdonnell was transferred to the Staff to take command of the Royal Canadian Regiment with which he served in the trenches for seven months. Subsequently on his return to this country, he was selected for the Staff College in England, where he spent two years at military studies extending from 1905 to 1907.

Car Turns Turtle With Occupants

Two Ladies and Man Have Narrow Escape from Serious Injuries.

Two ladies and a man had a narrow escape from death, or serious injury, on Sunday afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding turned turtle with them, but fortunately they escaped with minor bruises. In order to avoid hitting the driver of the car made a swift swerve into Stanley street and over went the car. Several of those who saw the accident at once hurried to the scene and it was found the driver of the car was suffering from cuts about the face, and the ladies from shock. They were taken into a nearby house and after a short time were able to proceed to their homes.

First Snowfall of The Season

Two and Three-Tenths Inches Dropped Yesterday—Streets and Walks Slippery.

The weather man decided he would take a hand in the celebration of Thanksgiving this year and sent the first snow storm of the season as his share. The snow started coming down about nine o'clock in the morning and kept it up until about eight o'clock in the evening. The streets were very slippery and the kiddies sliding on the sidewalks, made the footing very uncertain for the pedestrians. The snow started coming down to "watch your step" if they wished to remain upright. The automobile had a hard time of it all day unless they were equipped with chains.

During the day the thermometer never got above the freezing point, the lowest reading being 28 above and the lowest 24 above. At the weather bureau last evening the instrument showed that during the day there had

In there a "Justrite" Acetylene Hunters' Head-Light

In Your Hunting Outfit?

Throws the light exactly where the hunter is looking, giving him perfect freedom of both hands.

The strong, white, penetrating light of the "Justrite" projects about 300 feet with the ordinary lens, and with the special lens, about 500 feet. It won't blow out, has self-lighting attachment, making matches unnecessary, and burns 10 hours on one charge eight ounces 1-4 inch carbide. Fits on front of the cap, and is attached to the generator—easily carried in the pocket—by a strong fibrous covered rubber hose. Come in and we'll gladly show you a "Justrite."

LIVELY BLAZE IN BISHOP'S PALACE

An alarm was rung in from box 54 at about 10:30 Sunday morning for a fire in the Bishop's Palace. It is believed the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion in a coal bin. It is a considerable portion of the floor in the Reverend Father Dale's library to reach the blaze, but other than that but little damage was done. As the fire occurred just as those attending 9:30 Mass were leaving the Cathedral and those going to 10:30 were arriving the work of the firemen was viewed by an unusually large crowd.

Workers of Dukes Ward will meet this evening in the Seaman's Mission and every evening until election day.
