Yesterday afternoon the House of Commons met, the brief Easter holidays having expired, and Mr. J. G. Mr. Anglin gave a detailed statement of the mismanagement of the New Brunswick and Nova Scotia railways last winter, saying that in other days the stage coach mail had been as regular. Hon. Mr. Langevin said many of the statements were new to him. Allowance should be made for the heavy storms. Once during the winter the train had been a week go- ing. Nova Scotia's discontent was at raising the tariff for the carriage of agricultural products. The two Provinces FIRST PRIZE should act harmoniously. It was contemptible for a public man to be striving to revive old animosities.

Hon. Mr. Tilley was surprised to hear his honorable friend (Tupper) charge Mr. Anglia with displaying bitterness and making false statements. He had known Mr. Anglin many years, and had found him to be an amiable gentleman. (Hear! hear!) On religious and political questions he was a perfect peace-maker, always avoiding temptations to make misstatements. (Loud laughter.)

The item passed, also $1,009,000 for increased accommodation between St. John and Point Du Chene, and a deep water wharf at St. John. $527,700 was voted for the construction of canals. The item for the Bay Verte Canal has not passed yet.

Baptist Union Mission.

A very pleasant sight was seen last Real evening by visitors to the vestry of the Germain Street Baptist Church. In one part of the room were the industrious workers at the needle, engaged on fancy and useful articles, such as are seen on the tables of Bazaars. In another part of the room were others preparing tables for a social supper. All around was heard the buzz or conversation. At length supper time came and the room being by this time well filled with those who had come to smile on the "working bees," supper was discussed with all the noise and mirth attendant or such occasions. This part of the programe being over, a literary turn was given to the entertainment by Miss Skinner, one of the executive committee taking the platform, and in a very pleasant, quiet, modest way, at the same time showing in almost every sentence that her whole soul was in the work, NUTMFGS.—500 lbs.
