time can be expected.

If a promoter tries to sell you stock that will double in a year and promises to pay 10 per cent. annual dividend, be careful. He is probably trying to make an easy living on you hard earned cash. Don't be a fool. Lead that stock promoter to the front door and gently kick him over into the next county.

Daylight saving, remarks the Watford Gu de-Advocate, is a great time saver when travelling. One can leave London at 5.42 and arrive in Watford at 5.44, only two minutes wasted on the trip. The only trouble is that it doesn't work both ways.

Many farms are changing hands in this district this spring. Returning to the old home township after some years of absence, one will scarcely know the old places, so many changes have occurred along the concession lines.

Starting Early Plants.

Growers desire to have vegetables as early as possible, and for this reason it is necessary to start plants like cabbage, cauliflower and beets in hotbeds. Others like tomatoes and peppers have too long a season of growth to ripen a sufficient amount of the crop to make it pay. This method gives us from four to six weeks start.

Hot beds should be on the south side of a fence or building. Obtain good fresh manure, turn twice to get fermentation well started. Put it in a pile about eighteen inches to two feet in height, and a foot larger each way than the frame, being careful to trap it thoroughly. To do this put it up in layers of six inches. Then put on the frame, which should be eighteen inches at the back and twelve inches at the front, facing south. Put in four to six inches of soil and put on the glass. Air every day for the first four days to get the soil to the temperature of the fermentation. The soil is then raked and made ready for seed sowing.

The seed is generally sown in rows three inches apart, about 10 seeds to the inch. When the seedlings are showing the first true leaf they are transplanted to other beds, the plants being set two inches apart each way.
With cabbage, cauliflower, beets and lettuce, this one transplanting is all that is necessary. Tomatoes, egg plants, pepper and such plants require two transplantings, the last one four inches apart, or in a four inch inch clay pots or quart berry baskets.

Ventilation and watering are the two most difficult problems in hot-bed raising. Ventilation should be given whenever possible. Even on stormy days the sash should be lifted even if it is only the thickness of a lath that is placed under it. Many growers use a piece of lath three inches long. This gives them three different distances of ventilation, and it may be laid on the glass when not in use, and will be always ready.
Always have the opening away from the wind. You should also ventilate after watering to prevent scalding.

Water carefully, only give what the plants require, especially in the early season, and only in bright days, in the morning. The plants must be dried off by night. As the plants grow the watering will, of necessity, be often but care and thought should be used at all time.

Specialist.

Showing Off.

"Scandal is like a mat."
"How so?"
"It can be laid at any one's door."
—Cincinnati Commercial.

Mean Brute.
"It is always possible for a man to convince a woman against her will," said Mrs. Gabb.
"Yes," replied Mr. Gabb. "And ten minutes later she forgets that she has been convinced."
—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Paradoxical.
"There must be ground for the reports about that married couple's troubles."
"Why must there?"
"Because the reports are so much in the air."
—Baltimore American.

A Standard Medicine.—Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, compounded of entirely vegetable substances known to have a revivifying and salutary effect upon the digestive organs, have through years of use attained so eminent a position that they rank as a standard medicine. The ailing should remember this. Simple in their composition, they can be assimilated by the weakest stomach and are certain to have a healthful and agreeable effect on the sluggish digestive organs.
