

BILL.

An Act to amend an Act passed in the 13th and 14th years of Her Majesty's Reign, relating to Agriculture in Lower Canada, in so far as the 5 said Act concerns navigable Rivers and Rivulets, and the Banks thereof, used in the floating and conveyance of wood and timber.

10 WHEREAS it is provided and enacted by the second Preamble. section of an Act passed in the thirteenth and fourteenth years of Her Majesty's Reign, intituled "An "Act to repeal certain Acts therein mentioned, relating to "Agriculture, and to provide for the remedy of abuses
"prejudicial to Agriculture," that "no person shall enter 15 "into or pass through any field, whether it be sown or
"unsown, nor along the banks of any River or Rivulet,
"nor into nor through any garden, coppice, or other "property whatsoever, without the permission of the "proprietor, or some person duly authorised by him to "grant such permission, under a penalty of not less than 20 "five shillings nor more than thirty shillings for every "such offence, and over and above the amount of "damages occasioned thereby," and it hath been represented that the aforesaid provision is a great impediment to lumberers, and others engaged in the conveyance of timber down Rivers navigable and used therefor in 25 this Province: And whereas the lumbering business, manufacture of wood, and trade in timber, are of great importance, and it is therefore necessary to secure to such lumberers and others, every facility and convenience which the laws of the Province afford for the driving and safe conveyance by water of such wood or timber, in rafts or otherwise, whether for fuel or for mercantile purposes, from the places where manufactured to the 30 market: Be it therefore enacted, &c.

13 & 14 V.;
c. 40.

35 And it is hereby declared and enacted by the authority of the same, that nothing in the aforesaid section of the above in part recited Act shall be construed to prevent any person or persons from the full and free use of any navigable River, Rivulet, Stream, or watercourse, and 40 the banks thereof on either side, in that part of this Province which formerly constituted Lower Canada, proper for the floating and conveyance of wood or timber, or for the general purposes of navigation, but that all such Rivers, Rivulets, Streams and watercourses, and the banks thereof on either side, to such extent as 45 may be necessary and in accordance with the laws usages and customs of that part of this Province which formerly constituted Lower Canada, shall be and remain free to the public as fully and entirely to all intents and purposes as if the above recited clause of the aforesaid 50 Act had never been passed, nor made part thereof.

Sec. 2 of the said Act not to apply to Navigable Rivers, &c., and the banks thereof.
