SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 8, 1887.

The Main Issue Now. Great interest is shown in the Dominion election and we know that wherever they cannot be very far off. What is the main issue now?

Some issues that have largely filled the political mind of the day are, among others, the taking of a rest, and are getting into the background, to say the least. In Quebec the issue has been played for some time, but the issue is not so clear as it once was.

One fact of immense importance to Canada, there is which is not yet quite established as it ought to be. That is the question of the National Policy of Protection to home production. Many political leaders of high position in the Grit party are avowedly hostile to it.

When you visit or leave New York City have in your possession, and in your trunk, a copy of the Standard and a copy of the Standard, and a copy of the Standard, and a copy of the Standard.

Now is the time to speculate. Active fluctuations in the market offer opportunities to speculators to make money.

Dr. Sellmann, the famous antiquarian, has written a life of five feet high. The Ottawa correspondent of the Chicago papers is bigger than that.

Ernest Wiman predicts that should the G.P.R. telegraph system prove out, the Great Northwest will be a worse monopoly than the latter. Erasmian predicts too much, but perhaps Canadians might prefer a native monopoly to one controlled from New York.

The Indian is mighty particular. Salt Lake rekinds into an effort that negro soldiers should be sent to garrison a fort in their vicinity, and threaten to raise large crops of wool, or else reprove them for war horse.

A description of the work upon the Panama Canal reports that ice cuts eight out of a pound of ice will fall off an average, and round you on the head for nothing at all. Globe editors who groan about the cost of living in Canada, under the N.P. should reflect that they do not know when they are well-off or no.

There was a time when Sir Charles Tupper had great influence in the Mall office, but things have changed since then. Still if any man can disseminate a scheme to either buy out or check of that journal, the Commercial War horse is the man.

The Hamilton Spectator insists that Mr. Mowat is not a Christian politician. Well, you must at least admit that he is the most popular politician in this section of Christendom.

Gen. Boulanger will not permit the use of any but best writing materials. Erasmian writes that the military school of France. Were he a Canadian minister he would have to face an election cry for free pens.

Among Mr. Gladstone's birthday presents were three mice and a box of pills—the best and the antiseptic.

It was no more a trick for Mr. Mowat to save the country than it has been on an ice sheet to bend his final personal as bishop in partisan infamy.

With two elections over and a third one in sight, this is a great winter for the book trade. A thing of politics is a law forever.

the electoral. Let our neighbors take warning by Canada. We never know how wide a cold wave will blow over us when the bag door to the Manitoba and her prairie states. They have been blowing about here since, and their breath is often more bracing than general.

The Globe ought to explain what it means by its babble about the comparative prices of tea in England and in Canada, and what has got to do with the N.P. There is no duty upon tea coming into Canada.

A Tupper to the rescue! There is some talk of Sir Charles opposing Mr. Blake in West Durham, but he will probably find plenty to do elsewhere. Anyhow, his support is sure to be of a lot of fun and lighting.

The proposal to substitute Mr. A. E. Landry of Kent, N.B., for Mr. Costigan in the Dominion Cabinet does not look like a decline of French influence. Mr. Landry is an Acadian leader in the conservative and Acadian provinces, and Mr. Costigan is an Acadian leader generally, through the Home Rule complication.

Has the agitation for a President of the City Council any connection with Mr. Howland's resignation? The Mayor's absence during a session of Parliament would necessitate some arrangement of the sort.

The Mail rather discounts the rumors of an early dissolution of Parliament, but as the Mail is no longer an organ is probably known to more about the matter than the rest of us.

The defeat of Rev. Dr. Laing of Dundee, who sought re-election as a school trustee, is an evidence that churchmen often make trouble for themselves when they indulge in political party fights. Mr. Mowat has avenge upon his reverence, such as it is.
