

ATION.

The Saint Stephen Rural Cemetery.

SAINT STEPHEN, NEW BRUNSWICK.

MAY 1, 1859.

A PERIOD of three years has now elapsed, since the much needed work of providing a suitable Cemetery in this place was commenced, and it is with gratification, that we now have to record the crowning with complete success the labors of the associated few, who, under much difficulty, undertook and proceeded with the same and perfected it in such a manner as to draw forth the commendations of all spectators.

The grounds which have been selected are beautiful for situation, and embellished with nature's charms, presenting to the eye of the beholder, a varied scene of rare loveliness, and help to assuage the pangs of grief, in the hearts of those who have committed the dust of their departed ones to a resting-place which presents such marks of loveliness—comforted, likewise, with the consideration, that the place of their final repose is under a careful supervision.

Whilst every economy consistent with the nature of this work has been practised, it was still requisite that a considerable amount of money should be expended in doing properly
