

NEWS FROM IRELAND.

KILDARE.

Dr. Carter, of Killeen, coroner for the county, held an inquest on September 26th, on a man named Thomas Anderson, who was found lying dead in his bed between two of his children, on the same day. The deceased was in his usual good health, and had been engaged stacking corn in a field outside the town, when towards evening he was suddenly seized with giddiness in the head and violent pain about the heart. He was immediately removed off the field to his house, and requested to be put to bed, having felt, as had been in his case for some weeks previous, and the parties in charge of the house and of Anderson's young children, not thinking his illness very serious, had neither the priest nor the doctor called in to see the dying man until life was extinct. The jury returned a verdict of death from heart disease.

WEXFORD.

A wreck with sad loss of life took place on September 28th, on the Wexford coast. The ship Langdale, Jenkinson master, bound from San Francisco to Liverpool, with wheat, went ashore near Carnore Point. The captain, his wife, and three children, and four of the crew—Booth, Steel, Coderfeld, and Macconney—endeavored to get to shore in the ship's boat, but it capsized, and all were lost. The remainder of the crew, twenty-three in number, were saved.

ARMAGH.

At the Market-hill Petty Sessions on Sept. 26th, a man named John McArdle, who lives near Market-hill, county Armagh, was fined in £100, mitigated to £25, or in default, six months imprisonment, with hard labor, for manufacturing illicit spirits in his house on the 21st of July last. The accused did not appear, and it is said that he has left the county.

KING'S COUNTY.

Bernard Daly, Esq., J. P., Tullamore, an extensive distiller, and the owner of a large property in the King's county, has permitted the tenants on his Killofer property the whole of the half-year's rent due in November, and promised a further abatement of 25 per cent. while the present depression continues.

WESTMEATH.

Loftus Tottenham, Esq., of Glenfarn Hall, Enniskillen, has instructed his agent, Mr. R. Davis, Manorhamilton, to rent 50 per cent. on the rents due by his Manorhamilton, Killybegler and Glenfarn estates.

LOUTH.

Mr. Atkins, who was accidentally shot, on Sept. 23d, whilst out rabbit shooting with his friend Mr. Beatty, with whom he was stopping on a visit, succumbed on Sept. 26th to his wound.

LONGFORD.

A man named Michael Collins who was arrested on the charge of firing into the house of Keegan, at Kildordan, has been remanded by the Ballinacorney magistrates.

KERRY.

Sisters of the Presentation of the Blessed Virgin, from the county Kerry, are going to the Sioux Indian Missions in Dakota Territory.

GALWAY.

The Most Rev. Dr. McEvilly presided on Sept. 26th at a Conference meeting of the clergy of the Diocese of Tuam. Having read for the assembled priests the faculties in most laudatory terms of the great worth of the Archbishop whom he had the distinguished honor of assisting, and whose every wish he would always be exceedingly attentive to.

MAYO.

On Sept. 28th a threatening notice was found posted on the chapel of Knockmore, warning the tenants against paying any rents under a reduction of 38 in the pound. The paper was embellished with various figures representing the fate of those who should act contrary to the warning given.

CLARE.

A meeting convened by the Clare Farmer's Club, considered resolutions in reference to the land question, reduction of rents, fifty per cent., was held on Sept. 26th, on a common outside Ennis. It was attended by a number of the Catholic clergy, and by a large body of people—perhaps six or seven thousand. Large green flags belonging to the trades of Ennis surmounted the platform, and brass bands from Scariff, Tulla, Ennistymon, and Miltoona-Malbay were present and discoursed national music. Fifty men of the Royal Irish Constabulary, under the orders of Sub-Inspector Gibbons, were stationed near the side of the common; but, as the proceedings were conducted in an orderly manner, their services were not called into requisition.

On Sept. 26th, a young man named Dundon, about 19 years of age, whilst working at Mr. Russell's flour mills, at Newton Perry, Henry St., Limerick, had his head and shoulder caught between two wheels and was so shockingly torn that it is feared his death will be the consequence.

On Oct. 2d, the ceremony of solemnly blessing the new convent of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart of Mary, Ferrybank, was performed by the Most Rev. Dr. Moran, Bishop of Ossory. Shortly before ten o'clock a procession was formed in the chapel, and on its arrival in front of the convent, whose grounds adjoin those of the chapel, the Bishop, who was attended by the Rev. Joseph Dunphy, Administrator, and the local clergy, solemnly blessed the exterior of the building, and the interior. The procession then returned and the Bishop, who then addressed a brief exhortation to the congregation. He reminded them that it was the Feast of the Holy Angels, devotion to whom he impressed on such ladies as the French Sisters of the new convent amongst them, who will instruct poor children and look after them. He then gave his blessing to the congregation, and the proceedings terminated.

The Kilmacnasheen correspondent of the Waterford News says—'Everything so saturated with wet, I don't know what is to become of poor farmers. The potatoes may be said to be like marbles. A fellow would be hungry before he could dig his dinner. The summer's rain, in fact, has got into the heart of everything—destroyed fruit—and he took nourishment even out of the grass of the fields.'

At the Athlone Board of Guardians, on Sept. 27th, Lord Castlemaine in the chair, a series of resolutions, proposed by Major D'Arcy, D. L., was carried, calling on the landlords to reduce their rents, and on the Government to provide public work for the people, and a committee was appointed to draw up a memorial to the Government on the subject.

On Sept. 27th, a respectable young farmer named Timothy Carroll was killed near Clonaclogh. It is reported that the deceased was in Athlone having a thrashing machine repaired, and left in the evening in charge of the machine. The night was dark, and it is conjectured that the wheels of the car getting too near the edge of the machine, the machine toppled over, and fell on the unfortunate man. When found in the morning he was lying in a drain, with his chest terribly crushed by the machine, and he tightly grasped in his hands that he had been cut out. Much sympathy is felt for the mother of the deceased, whose husband died only a few months since. The poor fellow was only 20 years of age, and of strictly temperate habits.

The walking match at Gilmore's Garden being ended, a new diversion is in order, and Messrs. Moody and Sankey, kindly offered it at the Cooper Institute on Tuesday morning. This entertainment was announced as 'A Gospel Service.' The chief performers were Moody, Sankey, and a Mr. Sawyer, kindly aided by a number of volunteers. The entertainment consisted of singing certain hymns from the Moody and Sankey books—for sale at the Cooper Institute—for the purpose of raising a reasonable price—for certain prayers; and in speeches more or less comical or depressing, as one may choose to take them, by Mr. Moody and others.

Here is a specimen of one of the solos spoken by a Mr. Bliss of Baltimore: 'Mr. Moody has asked me to tell you where the Lord found me. Well, he found me several years ago in a hospital in St. Louis, wild with delirium tremens. I had taken a knife and had attempted to cut my throat, but had been prevented from accomplishing the rash act. Well, one night I seemed to hear a voice say: 'Bliss, you're a fool!' Then I seemed to have a fortuitous vision. After that I had told in my youth seemed to be written on the wall, but then I deny it more, came, until at last all my sins appeared to be written on the wall. At last I acknowledged them all, and then God came to me and has been with me ever since.'

It is now about five years since the literary entertainments of Messrs. Moody and Sankey were commenced. With extremely encouraging pecuniary results, they have been given in most of the principal cities of the United States and in the chief towns of England and Scotland. The management has been well conducted, and on no occasion have the receipts failed to show a handsome balance on the right side of the profit and loss account. But it would perhaps be difficult to show what permanent good in any moral or religious sense has resulted from these spasmodic, emotional, and hysterical displays. In vain, we think, would any one, searching through the towns where Moody and Sankey have reaped the largest harvests, find any evidence of a better moral condition, or of a better tone of society, in consequence of their visitations. It is not by such methods as Moody and Sankey employ that men and women are made better. For a little while, perhaps, some of those who listen to Sankey's hymns and Moody's rhapsodies may fancy themselves better and wiser, but it is not long ere this illusion fades away, and a reaction sets in which leaves the last state of these people worse than the first.—Daily Review.

A seminary for the education of Catholic priests was opened on the 13th ult. in St. Petersburg. No similar institution has ever before been permitted in the Russian capital.

prior to remit and reduce his rents. Sir Roger's lands are already let on a very low valuation, and his tenants on his Mayo property, from which he derives about £20,000 a year, are among the most comfortable and prosperous in the province.

LEITRIM.

In February last, a person holding a small farm of land in the townland of Gortnaglogher, in the parish of Clonoe, county Leitrim, was ejected by the landlord, John Brady, Esq., Clones, and failing to procure another tenement the farm was let out in meadow, of which fourteen cocks had been tramped on Sept. 27th. During the night some person or persons maliciously, as alleged, threw down and scattered ten cocks of the hay, which sustained considerable damage, having been laying under a heavy downpour of rain which fell during the night. A reward of £10 has been offered by Mr. Brady to any person who will prosecute the guilty party or parties to the conviction. A claim for compensation has also been lodged.

SLIGO.

In the mountains of Levaragh, in the county of Sligo, a process server named John Whiteside, while on his way to serve a number of ejectment processes for non-payment of rent, was seized by two men, with blackened faces, who jumped from behind a hedge. One held a pistol toward him, while the other tied him to a tree. They then took from him all his processes, and burnt them before his face and dejected him. A man named Thomas Kilmarney, from near Ballintogher, has been arrested by Constable O'Rourke, of that station, and has been fully identified by Whiteside as one of the men who attacked him and burned his processes. He is committed to jail.

On the morning of Sept. 28th, a party of about thirty men (some armed) with faces blackened, attacked the dwelling-house of Patrick Mullen, of Knockadoo, and dragged him out of bed, beat him and kicked him and warned him to tell no stories to the landlady, Mrs. Thompson, the widow of Capt. Thompson. They afterwards did the same to a man named Hugh Callahan, a bailiff on the estate. Neither party has given any clue which would lead to identification.

ROSCOMMON.

At the Athlone Board of Guardians, on Sept. 27th, Lord Castlemaine in the chair, a series of resolutions, proposed by Major D'Arcy, D. THE MOODY MEETINGS.
