

you can have till you prove yourself capable of earning money and taking care of it on your own account.'

I took the money in a sort of dazed manner, and stammered out:

"I—Why, I—I want to go into business."

"Business!" exclaimed father, contemptuously. "What do you know about managing the mercantile business? Get a clerkship and learn the alphabet before you talk to me of business;" and father left me to ponder on his words.

"That fifty dollars was the last money my father ever gave me till at his death I received my part of the property. I felt hard and bitter then, felt my father was a stingy old fogey, and mentally resolved to prove to him that I could live without his money. He had aroused my pride—just what he had intended, I suppose. For three days I looked about for a place to make lots of money, but I found no such chances, and at length I accepted a clerkship in a large retail store at four hundred dollars a year.

"Another bit of 'stinginess' at this time was demanding two dollars a week for my board through that first year. At the end of my first year I had laid aside two hundred dollars, and the next year, my salary being raised a hundred, I had five hundred laid by. One hundred cents meant more to me in those days than one hundred dollars had previously. At the end of four years' clerking I went to my father with fifteen hundred dollars of my own and asked him if he was willing to help me enter business. Even then he would only let me hire the money—two thousand dollars—at six per cent. interest. To-day I am called a successful business man, and I have my father to thank for it. Those lessons in self denial, self-respect and independence which he gave me put manhood in me.

"Years afterward father told me it cost him the hardest struggle of his life to be so hard with his boy, but he felt it was the only course to make a man of me. Many times have we had a hearty laugh over that two-dollar board bill."—Youth's Companion.

GOD'S WORD IN THE HEART.

There was once a little boy who went to Sunday School regularly, and learned all his lessons well, so that he had a great many Bible verses in his mind. He was a temperance boy. This boy was on a steamboat making a journey. One day as he sat alone on deck looking down into the water, two ungodly gentlemen agreed that one of them should go and try to persuade him to drink. So the wicked man drew near to the boy, and in a very pleasant voice and manner invited him to go and drink a glass of liquor with him. "I thank you, sir," said he, "but I never drink liquor."

"Never mind, my lad, it will not hurt you; come and drink with me."

"Wine is a mocker—strong drink is raging. Whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise," was the boy's ready answer.

"You need not be deceived by it. I would not have you drink too much. A little will do you no harm, and will make you feel pleasantly."

"At the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder," said the boy. "I think it wiser not to play with adders."

"My fine little fellow," said the crafty man, putting on his most flattering air, "I like you; you are no child; you are fit to be a companion of gentlemen. It will give me great pleasure if you will come and drink a glass of the best wine with me."

The lad looked him steadily in the eyes, and said, "My Bible says, 'If sinners entice thee, consent thou not.'" That was a stunning blow to the tempter, and he gave up his wicked attempt and went back to his companion.

"How did you succeed?" said he. "Oh, the fact is," he replied, "that little fellow is so full of the Bible that you can't do anything with him."

And every boy's mind, and every girl's mind, should be so full of the Bible, that wicked tempters cannot do anything with them.

Now there is one Bible verse which shows that this is just the right use to make of the Bible.

"Thy Word have I hid in my heart, that I might not sin against Thee."

Children, hide just as much of God's precious Word in your hearts as ever you can.

—Every violation of truth is not only a sort of suicide in the liar, but is a stab at the heart of human society.

—There are some mortals whose bodies are but the ornamental sepulchres of their dead hearts.

A VALUABLE DISCOVERY.—F. P. Tanner, of Neebing, Ont., says he has not only found B.B.B. a sure cure for dyspepsia, but he also found it to be the best medicine for regulating and invigorating the system that he has ever taken. B.B.B. is the great system regulator.

HAVE YOU TRIED IT?—If so you can testify to its marvellous powers of healing and recommend it to your friends. We refer to Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, the grand specific for all summer complaints, diarrhoea, cholera morbus, dysentery, cramps, colic, sickness of the stomach and bowel complaints of infants or adults. Let its merits be known to all those who have not used it.
