PROSPECTUS OF THE EVANGELICAL PIONEER, VOL. II.

IN submitting the prospectus of our second volume, i becomes us with humble gratitude, to acknowledge the success with which an enterprise, planned amid many fears, a d conducted amid many infirmities, has been crowned. To indulgent patrons, to efficient agents, to the self-sacrificing friends who have lent their time, their counsel, and their money to sustain it; above all, to Him who alone giveth the increase—our heartfelt acknow-ledgments are here paid. It is twelve months since our first prospectus was issued, and when we look back and look around, there is nothing save ground of thanksgiving. The paper, established in a circulation beyond our most sanguine expectations, will henceforth itself be a standing memorial of the attainment of our prominent object. That object was st ted to be the promotion of the unity of Baptists in this Province, and the Pionecr will appear in its second volume, as the property of the Regular Baptist Union of Canada." It is not necessary that we should now speak particularly of the principles on which the Pioneer will be conducted, or the objects to which it will be directed. It is set for the defence of evangelical truth; to contend earnestly for the faith once delivered to the saints; to disseminate a knowledge of the things most commonly beleved amongst us; to cultivate a unity of spirit and principle; to encourage an extending interest in all proper objects of Christian enterprise; to summon the scattered nosts to rally around the standard of the Captain of our

us, or to their own fears.

Be not hasty in buying—try our article, then decide. Every good farmer that had previously purchased in the reighbourhood where we sold last year, regretted his purchase when he ascertained the superiorary of our article. It was the superiority of our mills that occasioned our loss by fire last August. Still we are on hand again, and have commenced selling for the season. We appeal to the good sense, interest and profit of the farmers, not to their prejudices. Now, what do you say, will you have a perfect article? If you will, we have just the one for you; but if you want a poor, common Mill, do not come to us to purchase.
