BORDENDEFINES

It even indicates an intention to in vestigate the possibilities of the (Continued from Page Seven)

TWELVE

Continued from Page Seven) Service "for important pational pus-poses." Other planks in the platform are a progressive policy of immigration and colonization, with provisions to induce setflement on the land, to encourage increased agricultural production and to aid in the de-velopment of agricultural resources. velopment of agricultural resources; general development of Canada's varied resources, effective arrangements for demobilization of the overseas forces, for caring for the disabled and for pensions and the inclusion of the outside service within the jurisdiction of the Civil Service Commisson.

An important announcement is that there will be two permanent committees of the Cabinet, instead committees of the Cabinet, instead of one, as was originally intimated. One of these committees will be charged with the duty of dealing with the details of war policy; the other will consider the lines of domestic policy laid down in the manifesto. The statement also makes it clear that a representative of labor will be brought into the Cabinet "forthwith."

Cabinet "forthwith." "The present Union, or National Government, has been formed with a desire to give representation to all elements of the population who sup-port the purpose and effort of Can-ada in this war. Representative men-of both political parties are included in its personnel; and it is intended forthwith to give to labor special reforthwith to give to labor special re-presentation upon the principle al-ready followed with regard to agricuture. Impressed by the urgent necessity of putting aside all minor necessity of putting aside all minor consideration, of sinking all party differences and of presenting a united front at this solemn and mo-mentous juncture in the nation's his-tory, the members of the Govern-ment have come together in their duty of service to the national party. "The lines of policy which will be followed chiefly relate to the prose-cution of the war and to the con-sideration and solution of problems which will arise during its progress or which will supervene upon the

which will arise during its progress or which will supervene upon the conclusion of peace. These may be outlined as follows: Lines of Policy. "1. The vigorous prosecution of the war, the maintenance of Can-ada's efforts by the provision of necessary reinforcements, the im-mediate enforcement of the Military Service Act and the most thorough Service Act and the most thorough co-operation with the Governments of the United Kingdom and of the other Dominions in all matters relating to the war. "2. Civil service reform with a view to extending the principle of the present Civil Service Act to the outside service and thus to abolish outside service and thus to abolish patronage, to make appointments to the public service upon the sole standard of merit. The Civil Ser-vice Commission has already been directed to make a report to the Prime Minister as to the necessary steps for that purpose. Such ar-rangements will be subject to the existing regulations which give pref-creace in appointments to returned soldiers who are duly qualified. "3. Extension of the franchise to women, with suitable provisions for women, with suitable provisions for enabling married women to deter-mine their nationality and to obtain naturalization, notwithstanding marriage, "4. Adequate taxation of war profits and increased taxation of in comes, as necessitated by the contin-uance of the war.

THE COURIER, BRANTFORD, CANADA, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1917.

"5. A strong and progressive po-licy of immigration and colonization, accompanied by suitable provisions to induce settlement upon the land to encourage increased agricultural production and to aid in the development of agricultural resources. Care for Veterans "6. Effective arrangements for demobilization, for the care and voca-tional training of returned soldiers, for assistance in enabling them to settle upon the land and for adequate ons to those who have been disabled and to the dependents of those who have fallen.

"7. The development of trans-portation facilities; the co-operative management of the various railway systems so as to secure the widest and most effective use of existing railway facilities; the encourage-ment and development of the ship-building industry and the establishment of steamship lines upon both oceans and upon the Great Talas. oceans and upon the Creat Lebes: co-operation with the various Prov-incial Governments for the improve-ment of highways, the investigation of the possibilities of air service for important national purposes. "8. The reduction of public ex penditure, the avoidance of waste and the encouragement of thrift. "9. Effective measures to prevent "9. Effective measures to prevent excessive profits, to prohibit board-ing and to prevent combination for the increase of prices and thus re-duce the cost of living. Co-operation Among Farmers "10. The encouragement of co-operation among those engaged in agricultural production, with a view to diminishing the cost of produc-to diminishing the cost of produc-tion and marketing so that the price paid to the producer may conform more closely to that paid by the con-

"11. The general development of all the varied resources of Canada nd their conservation and utiliza-

65c

a box by one of the side her hands in her lap and

