LAUGH AND LEARN. The Childhood of the Beart.

Oh, the rosy days of childhood, How bilssfully they sped. When not a charm had vanished, And not a wonder field! The year was full of promise then, The tongue was full of praise— But I think the cup is sweeter now Than in the childish days.

Oh, the laughing wor'd of childhood, of jenorun e and ease! The fischest touch could quicken, And the least pleasure please; Yet the upward paths are dearer, With all the thorns they bear, Than a garden of a houdred flowers When Ignorance is there!

Oh, the beating heart of childhood-

That dittle hear of snow,
That doubt has never ontered,
Nor sorrow has brought low!
Trust me, not all the rapture
Its eager life can span
Can shadow forth the perfect love
That warms the breast of man.

MR. HENDRIE GIVES FIGURES.

ESTERDAY afternoon the Finance Com-mittee of the City Council met to confer with the directors of he Central Fair Agri-cultural and Industrial cultural and Industrial Company in reference to to the proposition that the city should make a liberal grant to aid in the erection of four buildings on the new exhibition grounds. There were present Chairman Moore and Ald. Ten Eyok, Van Allen, Hancock Dewey and Kenrick, of the committee, Mayor Blaicher, and Messrs. Wm. Hendric (President), J. M. Lottridge (Vice-President), Geo. Roach, A. T. Wood, J. J. Stuart, F. C. Bruce, Robert Evans and John S. Hendrie, of the Board of Directers of the company. City Solicitor MacKeloan was engaged at the Board of Works meeting, and could not attend, his enforced absence causing same delay.

In an informal discussion President Hendrie stated that figures had been prepared, as well as possibly could be in the time, to show what the requirements would be. As Vice-President Lottridge had put, it it would be folly to begin with less than $50,000. If the city granted that amount the County Council would supplement it, and whatever herit it.

Mr. A. T. Wood suggested that the company might sell out to the city.

Mr. Hendrie replied that there was one objection to that. If, however, the city would undertake to keep the grounds for all time for fair purposes the company would sell the property at what it cost.

Chairman Moore called attention to a change which it had been thought desirable to make in the bill to consolidate the city's debenture debt. The change was to empower the city to issue debentures to the extent of $2,350,000, instead of $2,350,000 extent of $2.500,000, instead of $2,350,000 as at first proposed. A clause was also added to provide that the surplus, after providing for the outstanding indebtedness of the city, may be disposed of for such purposes and in such manner as may be decided upon by the Council, by by-law.

The changes were assented to by the committee.
