THIRD PAGE. Eggs for Hatching. A. B. Washmaker and Blackmer.

LOCAL NEWS.

STOCK FARM SALE.—The N. B. R. will sell excursion tickets for the stock farm sale, on the 24th inst., one fare for the round trip.

THE RIVER.—The ice in the Nashua ran out on Sunday, the 12th, and that in the main river made a start on Friday last. It is not very strong.

ELECTION PETITIONS.—Tuesday, May 27th, is the day fixed for the trial of the York election petition. The trial of the Victoria petition stands for May 27th.

THE SCOTT CASE.—The election in St. John, North End, formerly Portland, on the repeal of the Scott Act resulted in the repeal by a very large majority in a very small vote.

"GOT THERE" AT EAST.—The Windsor Tribune says: In Nova Scotia a boy at Horton Landing ate twenty-four eggs between last Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon and he is not a very big boy, either.

MEETING.—The annual meeting of the York County Rifle Association, or the election of officers for the transaction of other business, will take place in the Drill Hall on Thursday evening, May 1st. All members of the association are requested to attend.

S. A. ARMY FUNERAL.—Miss Sarah McDonald, of Little River, a member of the Salvation Army, died on Friday last week after a short illness. Her remains were accompanied across the bridge by members of the Army, the band playing a funeral hymn.

A GOOD BEGINNING.—Now that the egg season is over, our exchanges are beginning to trot out their lamb stories. Here is one from Nova Scotia: Six ewes belonging to C. C. Schurman of West Windham, N. S. have produced 13 lambs this spring all of which are alive.

THE SUPREME COURT.—The Supreme Court is remarkably well up with its work and would probably have cleared the docket this term if a number of cases had not been allowed to stand over to suit the convenience of counsel, who were busy with Parliamentary duties. Judgments will be delivered on the 29th inst.

A YOUNG MISSIONARY.—Ernest Barker, graduate of the New Brunswick University, and son of Dr. J. H. Barker, preached on Sunday, Mr. Barker is at present a probationer in the N. B. P. E. I. Methodist Conference. He has been transferred to the Northwest Territories to labor as a missionary and will proceed to his new field in June.

C. W. J. & S. A. S. S. Co.—These are the initials of the name of a company recently incorporated at Ottawa and consisting of F. Baird of St. John, J. A. Van Wart of Fredericton, Hugh McLean of Chipman, Geo. Kitchin of Kingsclear, and Wesley Van Wart of Fredericton, for the purpose of building, purchasing, acquiring and running steamships from St. John, N. B., to ports in the West Indies and South America and for other purposes. The capital of the company is $250,000, and it will be known as the Canadian West Indian and South American Steamship Company, limited.

FIRE.—There were two alarms of fire on Wednesday—one in the morning caused by a slight blaze on the roof of John Maxwell's house Regent street. The other by a slight fire in the Cornthard building Queen street.

On Thursday afternoon an alarm was sounded. This time it was the residence of G. N. Babbitt Sunbury street, which was on fire. Owing to the high wind it was impossible to check the flames until all the building was pretty nearly gone with the exception of the main house. The loss which is considerable is covered by insurance.

ST. MARTIN'S SEMINARY.—At the close of his sermon last evening, Rev. J. E. Hopper, who preached to a large congregation in the Assembly, directed the attention of the St. Martin's. He said the success of the institution had been greater than he had anticipated. They were in fact unable to take any more pupils till the upper part of the building was finished, a work they hoped to carry to completion this year. He also said the pupils of the institution had been invited to give concerts in St. John and Moncton, the dates of which would be announced in the future.—Moncton Times.

RECENT DEATHS.—William B. Beveridge, ex-M. L. C., and for several years a representative of Victoria in the Assembly, died at his residence in Andover on Sunday, the 13th inst. The immediate cause of his death was pneumonia, resulting it is said from a cold contracted by him while on a tour of duty. He was ill only a few days. He was fifty-five years of age, and leaves a widow, a son and a daughter, and the latter the wife of Dr. Lovett, of Yarmouth, N. S. Mr. Beveridge about twenty-four years ago succeeded to the large business carried on by his father, the late Hon. B. Beveridge, and was generally thought of as one of the most successful. About six years ago he became attracted to the west and went to one of the western states, doing business also in Manitoba; but not finding the opportunities as favorable as he had anticipated he came back four years ago, and made his home in Woodstock, carrying on his usual business operations. He was very much liked by his very large circle of acquaintances.

Zebulon Currie, for many years in the employ of the N. B. Railway as bridge builder, died suddenly in Woodstock last Monday. The deceased was sixty-eight years of age. Up to within a few years his home was in York county. He married Miss Thompson, sister of the late Alexander Thompson and aunt of Hon. F. C. Thompson. A worthy man, he was greatly thought of by the company and his many friends.

Daniel Hanson, who for some time past kept the Victoria hotel in Regent street, died on Thursday last after a long and severe illness. His death was due to blood poisoning, it is said, arising from some trouble in one of his arms. His case was a very unusual one.

Miss Margaret Swetka, of St. John, a student at the Normal School, died on Friday the 14th inst. She attended school the day previous, and appeared to be in good health, but was seized with convulsions from which she died after a few hours. Her mother came up from St. John but arrived too late to see her daughter alive. The remains were taken to St. John for burial on Monday. The Normal School students placed upon the coffin a beautiful floral offering, and the Bible class of St. Paul's Sabbath school sent a wreath of roses and Easter lilies, which were placed on the coffin. The following resolution was passed Monday, April 14, after the death of Miss Swetka, their beloved fellow student, by the Normal school pupils: Where, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our midst our fellow-student, Miss Margaret N. Swetka whose sunny face and cheerful disposition will long be remembered by us; therefore Resolved, That we her fellow-students of the Provincial Normal School, tender to the sorrowing mother and friends, our heart-felt sympathy, and trust that God will sustain them in their sorrow; further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution sent to the bereaved parent, and one to the press.

Signed on behalf of the students of the Normal School: Annie Mours, Lizzie Teay, James Edmunds, Minnie Beattie, Marie Cormier.

REVIEWED.

The Gregory - Atkinson Scandal Reviewed.

THE MOTIVES OF THE ACCUSER FULLY EXPOSED.

The Charge Shown to be Either a Malicious Slander or an Emanation From an Unsound Mind.

So much has been said in the press and elsewhere about the charge which Dr. Atkinson, as the mouth piece of Mr. Gregory, preferred against Mr. Blair, the investigation of the charge has occupied so much time and taken up so large a share of public attention and the matter is of such importance to this constituency, that HERALD readers will pardon us if we devote considerable space to a review of the accusation, the accusation and the evidence. The attack was primarily upon Mr. Blair, but was virtually an attempt to destroy the influence of this constituency in the legislature. It was because they hoped in some way or other to elicit evidence that would ruin Mr. Blair and his colleagues politically that Mr. Atkinson took up the prosecution and pressed it with vehemence and pertinacity, with utter disregard to any instinct which ought to govern a gentleman on the discharge of any duty.

Witnesses were Bullied and Intimidated, the chairman and members of the committee were grossly abused, the whole enquiry was a farce, and the people were misled as they said, that they might "see Hanington" in the part of the prosecuting counsel indicated by the name of the witness.

It is time that Westmorland had her turn. So Mr. Hanington when the charge was preferred, Mr. Atkinson did not even know what was meant by the charge he was preferring, for when asked to explain it he hesitated and in a stammering way said he thought it meant so and so. His ignorance was the correct one. He made the charge that Mr. Hanington interposed and urged that he should not be required to tell what the charge meant until after he had time to get it posted. Mr. Atkinson's direct responsibility for the charge is admitted, we may now proceed to enquire why he should make such an accusation. Two explanations only can be suggested and one or the other must be the correct one. He made the charge either because he believed it was true, or because he was so determined to injure Mr. Blair that he would prefer an accusation, knowing it to be false. If the first explanation is the correct one and Mr. Gregory believed the charge to be true, then the conclusion is irresistible that his mind is so warped by malice and jealousy that he is incapable of forming a calm judgment upon anything touching Mr. Blair. This is already accepted as a fact by many disinterested persons who have watched his course for the past year or two, until it has become a matter of common remark that his mind seems to have lost its balance in this respect. He was associated with Mr. Blair for more than twenty years in the closest intimacy. The association was terminated with mutual expressions of good feeling and personal confidences, yet within a few months Mr. Blair became the object of the most abusive assaults from Mr. Gregory's friends; and the charges which he published in Mr. Gregory's interest seemed to him.

The Most Scandalous Abuse of his former partner, and Mr. Gregory has bored the ears of every one whom he could get to listen to him with his imaginary grievances, until he has excited the contemptuous pity of many, who once thought him a man of good judgment and who yet on matters foreign to Mr. Blair and to his own political ambition, displays his usual calmness. The case though an uncommon one is not unprecedented and can be easily explained. Mr. Gregory's position in this community has been a peculiar one. We make no further reference to it than to say that he hoped to be able to thoroughly re-establish himself by securing his complete success in political life. Mr. Gregory professed to believe it due to double-dealing on the part of Mr. Blair and he declared war to the knife against that gentleman when the local elections came on he, at the request of no convention or party, entered the field and after employing every means of misrepresentation and corruption was defeated most ignominiously. Utterly defeated and discredited one recourse only was left to him—to plot against the honor of his Successful Opponent.

A moment's calm consideration would have told him that the charge which he has promulgated was necessarily false. That Mr. Blair would give thousands of dollars or any sum whatever for a contract which had already been awarded to him, is too absurd for credence; that having agreed to give anything the fact would be public and notorious, by much so that it would be known to Mr. Gregory as soon as it was done, is equally absurd; while to believe that the man who was supposed to have consummated the corrupt arrangement, Mr. Kelly, would when asked by Mr. Gregory to tell him all about it pass the bounds of the ridiculous and become grotesque nonsense. Now we put it to the calm judgment of every one: Can it be possible that George F. Gregory, the lawyer of whose shrewdness and coolness we have heard so much, could have been deceived by such a tissue of absurdities—that he really believed the charge which he drew up for Dr. Atkinson to make was true? He can only receive credit for sincerity at the expense of his reason, and for an intelligent comprehension of the facts at the expense of his sincerity. Dr. Atkinson to whom the legitimate expenses of an election amount to a great deal and that every party to a contest has its election fund which is subscribed to from various quarters. It is no new thing for St. John to send money to York, nor for York to send money to St. John. At the very last election more money came from St. John to Mr. Gregory than

A Charge of Gross Personal and Official Corruption against Mr. Blair and against him only. So much foreign matter has been connected with the case that some persons may have lost sight of the real issue. It is not: Was the Leary contract really awarded to Mr. Blair? Were the public interests sufficiently guarded in that contract? Or did any members of the government promise to try and get for Mr. Leary additional subsidies? These questions were not the case although ninety per cent of the evidence has been directed to them. These matters are far enough outside subjects for political discussion but they are quite distinct from the accusation against Mr. Blair. If the contract were best drawn and yet Mr. Blair sold it or agreed to give it in consideration of any assistance promised him in the elections, the crime against good government would be complete, the breach of honor on Mr. Blair's part would have been as heinous, as it would have had the contract been loosely drawn and additional subsidies promised. The offence charged is not that of a contractor—the one of the worst, perhaps the very worst of all political crimes; it even passes out of the category of political offences and becomes gross wrong upon the public—a fraud of the most detestable and really most disgraceful kind.

Mr. Blair never denied that he had the point and unshaken in any way. Not a single suspicious circumstance surrounds the payment of the money to Mr. Barry. The opposition in their eagerness to drag out suspicion from the matter, called it little hard and showed that the money was paid to Mr. Barry. Before the Contract was Signed, and that Mr. Murphy who directed the payment to Mr. Barry did not know that it was about being signed. It is also proved that weeks before the money was paid the contract had entered into the contract with Mr. Leary, had notified the city council to that effect and that all that remained to be done was to formalize the transaction. A payment of money therefore on Mr. Leary's behalf would have been senseless. But there is another important piece of testimony bearing upon this point. It was that of Mr. Murphy, Mr. Leary's agent. That gentleman said that not only did he never see Mr. Leary give any money to obtain the contract or put any money into the most detestable and really most disgraceful kind. Mr. Leary and he regarded the Result of the Election with Indifference; for the opposition were as fully pledged to the Leary contract as were the government. Mr. Atkinson, of the opposition candidate, said that he never saw Mr. Leary at the time the contract was made, and that he never saw Mr. Leary at the time the contract was made, and that he never saw Mr. Leary at the time the contract was made.

Mr. Blair and Mr. Blair Only who was the object of attack, whose political and personal integrity it was intended to destroy. Without rhyme or reason he was singled out from among his colleagues although if he were the only one who was equally culpable. The point is one which the electors of York will do well to remember. They know now whence the accusation emanated; they know at whom it was directed. They see that it was a personal and dishonorable attempt on the part of the man whom they have thrice rejected to blacken the reputation of the man whom they have thrice rejected triumphantly returned and who has again triumphantly returned and who has again triumphantly returned.

For two years has Mr. Gregory pursued him with the bitterest hatred. There has been no accusation too base to be made against him. Let the electors think what manner of man Mr. Blair must be if only one of the accusations made against him by Mr. Gregory is true. He is a man of high character. In the course of his public and private career Mr. Blair has had transactions of important nature with hundreds of men, he has been placed in positions in which the strictest light of public opinion has fallen upon him at any time has ever ventured to assail his honor and integrity as a citizen or a public man, save and except George F. Gregory, and he has never been found wanting in political preferment or merit. Does not this fact count for much? Is all the world wrong and only George F. Gregory right? George F. Gregory posing as the assailant of any honorable man, he has done so by putting his reputation up for comparison with that of any one! George F. Gregory a champion of purity and honorable dealing! What a screaming farce the thing is! So we see that the whole business is nothing more or less than the culmination of George F. Gregory's efforts to blacken and destroy his former friend and greatest benefactor.

The Evidence Completely Disproves the Charge. It shows not only that Mr. Blair did not commit the offence alleged against him, but that nobody committed such an offence, that the whole matter is as baseless and unsubstantial as the schemes for political preferment misdirected. Does not this fact count for much? Is all the world wrong and only George F. Gregory right? George F. Gregory posing as the assailant of any honorable man, he has done so by putting his reputation up for comparison with that of any one! George F. Gregory a champion of purity and honorable dealing! What a screaming farce the thing is! So we see that the whole business is nothing more or less than the culmination of George F. Gregory's efforts to blacken and destroy his former friend and greatest benefactor.

was sent up to aid the government ticket. It can be proved if an opportunity were offered. Mr. Blair never denied that his friends in St. John helped him in the only way they could and he helped them; but it is one thing for political friends to subscribe to an election fund, it is another thing for the leader of the government to sell a contract—and it is the latter which is the charge.

Not a Single Suspicious Circumstance surrounds the subscription of this money. Mr. Kelly's evidence stands directly to the point and unshaken in any way. Not a single suspicious circumstance surrounds the payment of the money to Mr. Barry. Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for May, 1890. Francesco Crispi, the Italian Premier, is undoubtedly, since the retirement of Bismarck from the Chancellery of the German Empire, the most potent and picturesque figure in European politics. A striking portrait of the Sicilian statesman is given in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for May, with a very interesting article entitled "Signor Crispi and the Italian Chamber," by the Hon. George Makepeace Towle. Douglas Sladen eloquently describes "Yanover (British Columbia); A Great Sea-port of the XXth Century." "Elephant-catching in India, with Prince Albert Victor of Wales," is written about a British officer, and illustrated with great spirit. "The Forest Destruction by Fire," by Col. R. J. Hinton, is truly an object-lesson to Congress. There are papers on "Carries and its Cathedral," "Brass-hammering, and responsive work," etc., directed with the usual amount of first-class matter and the literature provided in every number of this remarkably voluminous and entertaining magazine.

The bid of the Louisiana Lottery Company to the legislature for a renewal of its charter from 1895 has just been made public. At the approaching session of the general assembly of Louisiana, which meets May 5, a proposition will be submitted to pay the state $12,500,000 for the purpose of maintaining a lottery for a period of twenty-five years. The license of $300,000 per annum then offered to be paid is to be devoted to certain specific purposes named in the proposition: one-third of this sum goes on bloc to supplement the public school fund of this state; one-third goes to the support of certain existing charities named in the proposition and such other charities as the legislature, in its wisdom, may see fit to establish; and the remainder goes to the levee system of the State; $100,000 per annum for the construction of levees and $50,000 as an emergency fund for maintenance during periods of high water. This, in substance, is the offer that will be made to the people of this State for the privilege of maintaining a lottery in Louisiana. The question is shall the legislature submit this proposition to the polls to be voted on at the general election in 1892.

Miss Alice Elliott of Ottawa, aged 23 while suffering from dementia, swallowed a small penknife with the blades open. So far she has experienced no unpleasant results, but Dr. Bell is watching the case with great anxiety.
