Football Match.

The game between the Methodist and St. Bonaventure teams last evening ended in a draw. Darkness set in suddenly and rendered it impossible to follow the ball. There was hard play on both sides. The Methodists won the toss and decided to play against the wind. St. Bon's made a determined run at the opening but ward took the ball into the St. Bon's territory, had a try but failed to score. St. Bon's forwards now combined and made several good attempts but did nothing. Ross did some grand work saving. In the half play the game was faster than ever but no scoring was done. Two of the players were knocked out owing to the rough play. The next game will be played to-morrow. It will be between the Felidians and St. Bon's.
The players at last evening's match were as follows:—

St. Bon's.—Lundrigan, goal; Murphy, Knight, backs; Hogan, Lescman, Halley, halves; Rawlins, Crawford, Duchemin, O'Hagen, Kelly, forwards.

Burt, halves; Hayward, Tucker, Parsons, Gear, Stevenson, forwards.

Buying Heavy.

By the Portia we learn that the fishermen along that section of the coast from Cape Race to Bonne Bay are now hard at work getting ready their salt bulk fish for the Gloucester market. As we already stated the Gorton Fish Co. and Cunningham Thompson Co. have purchased all the salt bulk fish at 3 cents per pound or about $6.30 dry, less the figure for curing. Both these companies are purchasing jointly at Bonne Bay, Bay of Islands, Woods Island, Rose Blanche, Harbor Brton, St. Jacques, Placentia and Ferryland, and also during the summer and fall at Labrador.
Saturday last the first schooner sailed from Argentina taking 336,000 lbs., valued at $10,080.00. Schooners are also loading at other ports, and it is estimated that $150,000 worth of fish will be shipped to Gloucester off the West Coast by the month of January. If the companies alluded to could get double the quantity of fish they would buy it.

The Portia Arrives.

The S.S. Portia, Capt. T. Fitzpatrick, arrived here at 8:45 p.m. yesterday bringing quite a freight and a large number of passengers. The ship left here on Friday, the 13th inst., and for 3 days had dense fog with W. and S.W. gales. From the 17 to the 21st fine weather was experienced, but since Saturday the ship has been beset by dense fog which continued until she reached St. John's. The ship's passengers were:— Messrs.
Rowell, Clinton, Tuff, Rev. Fr. Mc-Namara, Master McNamara, Gibbons, Nolan, Bonia, Bagg, Capt. Jensen, J.
Anderson, Brennan, Prowse, Browning, Cohen, Keboe, Norris, Medema, Nashony, Lundrigan, White, Singleton, Whelan, Tobin; Misses Daley, Griffin, Savage, Saunders, Kearsey; and 121 in steerage.

An Average Voyage.

By the Portia we learn that the banking voyage up West this season will be a good average one. All the Fortune, Grand Bank, Belleoram and Hilcher Briton have cleared up.
The vessels which went to the Grand Banks for their last trip did but a lot of gear in the recent stormy weather. Those which went to Labrador, in the main, secured good fares and the highest were 3,600 qts., several landed 3,000 and others ranged from 900 to 1,800 qts. Taken all around the men made good wages.

Interesting Match.

Saturday morning a very interesting football match was played between Queen's College team and the Manual Training College aggregation at Llewellyn Place, which resulted in a win for the latter by 2 goals to 1.
This is the second win for the Training College and gives them the championship for this season. Sealey for the Queen's team put up a fine exhibition, and Torraville for the opposing team did some excellent goal keeping. The Queen's team as a whole showed lack of practice.

sister domestic. She was advised to Harbor Grace Notes.

Rev. F. S. Coffin arrived by Saturday's express from a visit to his home in P. E. Island. His holiday was very much enjoyed. Mr. Coffin's many friends are pleased to have him in town again.

Rev. J. M. Allan also arrived on Saturday on a visit to his sister and his host of other friends. The rev. gentleman conducted the morning service at the Kirk yesterday and delivered a very forceful sermon. We are glad to see Mr. Allan looking so well, and assure him of a hearty welcome whenever an opportunity offers to visit this, his native, town.

A very enjoyable dance and sociable was held at St. Patrick's Hall on Thursday evening by the young ladies of the C. I. T. Club. About 20 couples were present and the affair was voted a grand success. This club is composed of a number of young ladies who meet once a week at the home of one of the members and spend a couple of hours at fancy work. It is said they are going to do something for the hospital fund, but we are not in a position to say just what it is.

Sunday last was a busy day in this town. The s.s. Solway was at Messrs.
Murray & Crawford's wharf landing freight, &c., from Labrador, and two Bell Island steamers were also here taking on board freight for the Island. Men with horses and carts were rushing around and the day seemed anything but Sunday. It occurred to us that it would be nice to leave such a scene and go countrywards, where we felt sure the Suburban bath would be better observed. When near the race course we were surprised to hear the puffing of a gasoline engine and to see the Agricultural Society's thrashing machine in operation, and being fed by a well-known business man and prominent church worker. The landing of freight, &c., may be considered a work of necessity, but the latter is an unnecessary breaking of one of the laws of God and man, and should not be tolerated in a civilized community at any rate. The Government should put a clause in its Agricultural Policy forbidding the use of these machines on Sundays or there is no knowing where the matter will end.

The King Edward Branch, accompanied by the British Society band, attended the forenoon service at Christ Church yesterday. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Stickings, and was a very hearty one. It was thoroughly enjoyed.

The weather for the past week has been very favorable for potato digging and farmers are busy storing their stock. Owing to so much wet weather in September the winter keeping potatoes are not so good as they otherwise would be, but still the crop is fairly good.

Rev. J. M. Allan intends leaving here to-morrow for St. John's, where he will spend a few days before proceeding to his home at Bay of Islands.

Quite a number of our citizens went to Carbonere yesterday to attend the funeral of the late W. C. Hawker, Esq. Mr. Hawker was well known and highly respected in this town.

Several wrecked crews arrived from Labrador yesterday by the s.s. Sol-way. Mr. John T. McEae also arrived by her.

Fortunate He Was Arrested.

At 5:30 p.m. yesterday the police picked up an inebriated fisherman of Bay Bulls on Water Street, and it was fortunate they did so in more respects than one. Had he tried to get on board his craft he might have gone overboard and been drowned, or had he been left to wander about the streets the money he had on him might have been "blifted." He had on him when brought to the station $46 in notes with two bottles of liquor.

IN DANGEROUS CONDITION.—At 6:30 p.m. yesterday officers Faraday and Blundon discovered an unfortunate inebriate lying in a dark corner off George's Street near the S. A.
Academy. It was fortunate they did so as the man might have smothered.
He lay on his face and his collar pressed so hard against his wind pipe that he could scarcely breathe.
He was taken to the station in a caucigar's Liniment Cures Colds, Etc.

Reviews Old Scenes in the Bazaars of Long Ago—Mrs. Tucker Takes a Hand in the Cadets' Fancy Fair.

When I arrived at Tucker's last night a pretty sight met my eyes, for there was Mrs. Tucker plying her needle and making a handsome cushion for the sale of work in connection with the Cadets' Fancy Fair. We fell in chat over old times, and Mrs. Tucker recalled old scenes of the long ago when Bazaars used to be held in the old Star of the Sea Hall for educational and church purposes. People in those days were very enthusiastic, and worked night and day to make the Bazaar a success. At night all the young women and men of the town met there, and a lively scene was presented, while the outport friends gathered in their thousands and helped on the good work; nothing seemed to be too much trouble and the amount of work performed was simply amazing. The older folks amongst us will recall these Bazaars with pleasure, for there was a feeling of friendship and gaiety there that we seldom meet to-day. Who can forget the "wheel of fortune" and the simple pleasure that it sent out to the happy throng that surrounded the man holding aloft a pair of vases, the round timepiece or a fancy cushion.
The wheel that seemed to be most popular blazoned forth on its dial the names of the Districts, such as Bona-vista, Fortune, Placentia, etc. After the tickets had been sold for ten cents such, and the enthusiastic and hoarse-voiced "man of affairs" had disposed of the "only one more left," away she went with a rattle, the iron hoop at the top of the dial grating on the protruding nails, and as the force of the wheel did "out how anxiously the ticket-holders gazed to see which District won, and with what pride did the lucky holder of the right ticket walk up to receive his or her prize.
Could any amusement be more simple or captivating? Look at the happy faces of the crowd, men and women who worked and dragged all day smiled an honest, happy smile, enjoyed a little relaxation from the cruel torture of the hum-drum life, and displayed their kindly feelings to their fellows by clapping the winner on the back or greeting him with a simple unassuming word of congratulation.

But the scene is changed. We can have our Fancy Fairs. We are allowed that freedom yet, but you must not thicker with a "wheel of fortune." The makers of our laws have spoken and in their great wisdom have pronounced this little pastime a crime. We bow our heads in submission, we will get down on our marrow bones and honour the law, but at the risk of getting six months twice a year we say that in our opinion to shut out this little bit of venture was certainly a straight-laced piece of audacity. If we had become a perfect people, law-abiding to such an extent that you could go to bed without locking your doors, or if we had reached that stage of brotherly love that it was no longer necessary to dun a man for his winter's coal, there would be some reason why we should cap the climax by shutting out all games of chance, some excuse for attempting to increase the dimensions of halo by removing the temptation to shut out this "wheel of fortune." But that we had not come within an Irish Mile of that stage of perfection is well known to all of us, and judging by the strides we are making in this age in a backward direction, the shutting out of the "game of chance" seems to have miscarried as far as its influence on the present generation is concerned.

But nevertheless the Cadets' Fancy Fair will be attractive, nothing will be left undone to make the visitors enjoy the evening. There will be bargains in galore, and you can fill up the inner man with all the delicacies of the harvest season. So come one and all and bring your sisters, your cousins and your aunts, and though we will not be permitted to dabble in such recklessness as the rickety wheel, still we will meet these old friends, and we can renew old acquaintances as we chat on the good old days and revel in the bygone scenes of the old-fashioned Bazaar of the "long ago."

The Hygienic Aspects of Gas Lighting and Cooking.

Experiments were made at the Lewisham Infirmary during the month of November 1910, with the following in view:—

- (1) To compare hygienically the relative values of the open fire and the Gas Radiator as warming agents.
  - (2) To ascertain if, and to what extent, the quality of the atmosphere of a room is affected by incandescent gas burners and lamps.
  - (3) To ascertain the hygienic value of the gas fire.
- The experiments were carried out by Dr. F. S. Toogood, M.D., London, D.P.H., the Medical Superintendent of the Infirmary, and the full report of the experiments appeared in the London Medical Magazine, February 1911.
The general conclusions arrived
were as follows:—
- (1) That both large and small apartments which have normal means of ventilation gas consumed in modern incandescent burners can be used for lighting without any detriment to health, being found, in fact, to assist ventilation by the increased circulation of the air.
  - (2) That a gas fire, properly constructed and fixed, not only does not vitiate the air, but is a valuable adjunct to the ventilation of the room. Its advantages in the sickroom in respect of its reliability, avoidance of noise, freedom from dust producing propensities, and saving of both work and anxiety, are obvious to every professional man or woman.
  - (3) That in large rooms, adequately ventilated, fuelless gas stoves can be used for heating without any hygienic disadvantages, the heated products of combustion (mainly CO<sub>2</sub> and watervapour) ascending quickly above breathing level. This method of heating by radiation and convection from fuelless gas stoves, is economical, but proper ventilation of the buildings in which it is adopted is essential, which, of course, is also the case whatever means of heating is adopted. A ward or other public building in which gas radiators cannot be used with advantage is improperly ventilated.
