BERNE, Switzerland, To-day. The Swiss Government has instructed the Embassy at Berlin to lodge an energetic protest against a new violation of Swiss territory by German aviators. The protest occasioned by the act of an aviator dropping eight bombs over Chauxde Fonde on Sunday causing injury to four persons and to considerable property. Switzerland demands compensation and the punishment of the aviator.

THE CARDEN TRAGEDY.

Under the heading of the tragedy of Sir Lionel Carden, the Pall Mall Gazette, commenting on the death of the late British Minister to Mexico, severely criticizes both President Wilson and the British Government for the Huerta incident in 1914, relating how Sir Lionel Carden went to Mexico at of a sufficient number of troops for the request of Sir Edward Grey, Sectetary for Foreign Affairs, saved hundred the request of Sir Edward Grey, Sectetary for Foreign Affairs, saved hundred to the Balkans. A large number of French troops have dreds of British and American lives, succeeded thus far in protecting the only to be subsequently broken, it declares, because he insisted upon the retention of General Huerta as Pro-Albanian frontier. This proved to be the rock upon which he split, adds the Gazette. The intrigues of the ister of Serbia to this city, but owing the read-Washington Administration were too to the muddy condition of the roads, strong for him. He was not support- it is doubtful whether this effort will ed by his own Government. He was compelled to return to England. Like tion is composed of mixed forces Regulus he had kept his oath, going labout twelve divisions. The Austr out to Mexico much against his will and also like that brave Roman who went back to Carthage to face punishment, Sir Lionel returned home to find his influence undermined and his reputation assailed and his appointment forfeited. His appointment was when the junction has been effected, to a post at Rio Janeiro which never materialized for him. Thus was sacrificed, continues the Gazette, one of the most able and accomplished public servants. By his own Government alone did his great abilities seem to have been undervalued.

WHY CARSON RESIGNED.

LONDON, To-day. Carson announced in the Commons to-day his resignation from the Attorney-Generalship was due to divergency of views in regard to Near resignation from the Cabinet, Sir Edward Carson appeared in the Com-mons yesterday afternoon and set at rest all conjectures, regarding the reasons for his retirement. Rising reasons for his retirement. Rising from his old seat in the front Opposition bench, the former Attorney General in a few words made the house conversant with the cause of the min-isterial crisis which, he said, was due self at complete variance with the Cabinet on the question of the Near Eastern policy. He felt therefore, that his presence in the Cabinet would entirely to the fact that he found himbe a source of weakness and not of strength. Sir Edward added he never was torpedoed by a German submarhad the slightest personal difference with any of his colleagues. After expressing regret for the absence of REPORTED RUSSIA CEDES ISLAND Asquith and stating for this reason he would give briefer explanation than he intended, Sir Edward Carson said: I am well aware the difficulties under existing circumstances of making any full statement or of saying anything that might be taken hold of as showing any signs of weakness or divergence of the main object we have in view in carrying on the war at all sacrifices of a final and conclusive issue, I need hardly say that upon that issue there is not and never has been which it says passed the Russian censor that Japan has undertaken to supply Russia with munitions in return for the complete cession of the Island of Sakhalin, 570 miles long, and from 17 to 90 miles wide, which lies between the east coast of Asia and some process of the says passed the receive here, publishes a report which it says passed the Russian censor that Japan has undertaken to supply Russia with munitions in return for the complete cession of the Island of Sakhalin, 570 miles long, and from 17 to 90 miles wide, which lies between the east coast of Asia and issue there is not and never has been either in Cabinet or in the house or in the country, any disagreement or divergence of opinion thereon. The unity which the country wants is that steadfast unity of purpose to de-feat our enemies and save our country and I entirely deny that the fact of holding divergence view as to the best policy and methods to adopt in the various war theatres, in order to bring it to a successful conclusion is in any sense an element disunion. I have seen criticisms of myself and reasons for my resignation of a very petty malicious character, attributing the motives to party political nature petty malicious character, attributing the motives to party political nature. I do not desire to deal with these ridiculous assertions, except to say now in the presence of my late colleagues that since I entered the cabinet I never heard a word of discussion or dispute on those party questions which divided us before the war. In every cabinet meeting I attended we all devoted our energies archipelago. Russia owns the northuestions which arose with reference of the Island. o the prosecution of the war. I also lesire to say that during the whole time I have been in the cabinet, I never had any personal differences either with the Prime Minister, whose unvarying courtesy I desire to acknowledge, or with any one of my late colleagues. May I also add that no one realizes more than I the great in concert and co-ordination with our various Allies, and must also very frequently be formed with a view to DROP BOMBS ON SWITZERLAND. of these neutral countries with whom we remain on friendly terms. This often has been lost sight of by critics of our actions who cannot know the difficulties which arise

REPRISALS FROWNED UPON.

LONDON, To-day. Cabinet ministers again were bom-barded with questions in the Commons yesterday, but for the most part they managed to escape the intended frontal attack. In the course of the replies it developed that the officer who commanded the landing Fifty-two persons are reported kill-d in an explosion this effernous in ed in an explosion this afternoon in a factory in Rue de Tolbic, while one army at present, but Mr. Tennant, hundred or more were injured.
