BARKWELL'S BRONCHIAL BALSAM.

Dear Sir, --- I wish to testify of the merits of that grand preparation known as Barkwell's Vegetable Healing Bronchial Balsam. I was told by a neighbor what a grand Balsam it was. My little girl was very ill with bronchitis, and a very few doses restored her and I believe saved her life. I feel it my duty to let others know that they also can be cured of this terrible of ection. MRS. MARGARET LOWTHER,

Even the one-horse London minstrel show pandered to the Toronto prejudices by getting in a crack at Hamilton. "Do you know why they want railways so bad in Hamilton?" asked an end man. The following dispatch from Philadelphia will be read with interest by Londoners: The performance of "M'iss," at the Arch Street Theater, came to a support of the street The performance of "M'ilss," at the Arch Street Theater, came to an unexpected termination shortly after the rise of the curtain Monday night, through the sudden illness of Miss Annie Pixley, who had a severe attack of hysteria and was obliged to retire from the stage. The curtain was rung down when Miss Pixley's illness became known. After a few minutes it was announced by her physician that Miss Pixley would be unable to continue the play and the audience was dismissed. The ticket money will be refunded.

The Kinstrels' Return.

The Young Liberal Minstrels returned to the city last evening from Toronto, all delighted with the treatment they received from the Toronto people and the success which attended the performance in that city on Monday evening. They describe the reception of the various selections as very enthusiastic. After the train left Hamilton on the way home the entire party was invited to the dining car by Col. Leys, who accompanied the boys on the trip to the Queen City. The minstrels enjoyed the treat very much. From the energetic president, Mr. George M. Reid down to the man with the big base drum all wore the look of men who knew they had done their duty, not alone by the organization of which they are members but to London as a city.

Active Baseball Club's Ball. Active Baseball Club's Ball.

The City Hall presented a gay appearance last evening on the occasion of the second annual assembly cf the Active Baseball Club. The attendance was large and the aflair passed off very nicely under the management of Messrs. D. Jennings, R. A. Drennan, T. Farnworth, T. Ball, W. Ball, G. Wiley, J. Player, J. Ward and J. Arthurs. Music was supplied by Dayton's Orchestra, and during intermission refreshments were served. At an early hour this morning the affair broke up, all agreeing in the belief that the club knew how to conduct a hall—either on the field or with the assistance of flags, bunting and bright music. Quite a number occupied the spectators' gallery.

It Never Breathed.

The inquest on the body of the infant found yesterday in the vault of an outhouse on Wellington street, near Queen's avenue, was held yesterday by Dr. Flock, the following jury being empaneled: T. Gillean (foreman), James Wilkins, P. Walsh, R. Elliott, C. Bayley, J. Deacon, J. Young, D. Howden, S. Mitcheltree, J. Darch, J. McAdams, T. Wilson. Evidence was given as to the finding of the body by Joseph Carson, Detective Rider, J. Lewis. Dr. Payne made an examination of the child, which, he said, had never breathed. The infant was, however, a healthy one. It had not been there more than six days. The jury shortly returned a verdict that the child was born before the full time, but that as it was a healthy child there was evidence of a crimmal act committed by some person or persons unknown.

Lilly Clay Gaiety Company.

The Lilly Clay Gaiety Company at the Grand Opera House last night gave a very satisfactory entertainment, the whole programme being well carried out and throughout there was nothing that exception could be taken to. The scenery was magnificent, and the costumes were extremely pretiy. The first part "Eeauty in Dreamland" was a miscellaneous entertainment, introducing various songs, and was interspersed with amusing gags, some new and some not quite so recent. The choruses were well sung all round. The "Knockabout Clowns," Keating and Flynn, were perhaps the funniest part of the programme, and kept the house convulsed for some time. Miss Fannie Lewis sang very well, and Miss Hazelton as "Anthony" in the burlesque, danced in lively style. The skirt dancers were equally nimble. The tableaux shown in the first act were very fine, and each one was warmly applauded. The house was well filled, and the performance such as to show that the Clay combination is one of the brightest of the kind on the road.

day, in J. M. Rev. Leonard Gaetz, formerly of Queen's Avenue Church in this city, who on account of ill-health was obliged to give up the active work of the ministry some years ago, and left for the Northwest to engage in farming, is now in Ottawa. He has brought with him from the Red Deer district samples of wheat, barley, oats and flax which were grown there. Among his samples are black hulless barley weighing 35 bushels to the acre; common white barley, weighing 57 pounds to the bushel, and a yield of 45 bushels per acre. In good years Mr. Gaetz has harvested 50 and 60 bushels per acre; flax standard weighing 642 pounds per bushel, with a yield of 40 bushels per acre; and a yield in good years Mr. Gaetz has had a yield as high as 83 bushels per acre in an ordinary year. Mr. Gaetz has had a yield as high as 83 bushels per acre of Sandwich oats, which yield 75 bushels per acre in an average year on the Red Deer, but will go as high as 90 bushels in a good year. Mr. Gaetz intends spending five or six weeks in Ontario with the object of promoting emigration to the Red Deer district. The settlement where he resides is eighty miles north of Calgary.

the current of air passes through the rooms effectually prevents the continuance of any of the disagreeable odors which are unavoidable in a large class room of little folks. The janitor claimed that the farnaces were very economical in fuel, chiefly owing to the manner of construction, which presented a large iron surface and was easily heated with a small fire.

The dry closets were a complete surprise to the entire party, and although they are used by over 800 pupils, no difference could be distinguished between the atmosphere of them and of the school rooms. Immediately adjoining the closets are the play rooms for the scholars, where they disport themselves with as much safety as if the closets were a mile away. On lifting one of the covers the janitor showed the party that there was a strong down draft which prevented the escape of any noxious odor, and was sufficient to extinguish a lighted torch held at the opening. The refuse falls on a brick floor laid on iron bars, and the hot air pouring over and under it dries the deposits, which it was claimed were perfectly odorless in six days. Some of the gentlemen being dubious of the statement went down into the vaults and examined them, when it was found to be strictly true. By the process of drying the accumulation is reduced more than two-thirds, after which it is consumed in the furnaces.
