NOTE AND COMMENT. Don't tell a newspaper reporter, when he calls upon you on business, things which you do not wish to print. He does not call for information for the fun of it. He is there on business. If you give the information frankly, you will in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred be accurately reported and respectfully treated. If you refuse on any other than trivial grounds, your reticence will be respected. If you try to outwit the reporter by an effort to mislead him or by direct misrepresentation, you are sure to make a mess of it and wish that you had been better advised.
