American Association May Pool Its Players to Fight Federals

Novel Method May Be Used to Beat the Outlaws -Both Organizations Are Planning Baseball War With the Most Intense Vigor.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Outlaw and organized baseball considered war measures here today. The Federal League, with a general outline of its plans already drawn up, prepared to fight against the Philadelphia Nationals' signing of William Killifer. The American Association, holding an annual meeting to select a schedule committee and take up other routine business, accomplished none of the things on its program, but devoted its brief formal meeting and a number of informal talks to consideration of radical methods to be used in the baseball war.

An attack of illness prevented Mike Cantillon, the Minneapolis representative, from attending the meeting, though he was in Chicago. Cantillon's experience in discussion of schedules made him invaluable at such meetings, it was said, hence the brevity of the session.

Though the regular session lasted little more than an hour, leaders of the association were reported to have discussed a plan to strengthen the Kansas City and Indianapolis teams, in whose fields the Federals will have clubs. A general pool of players was proposed, to give every team a chance to better its lineup.

Stratford, Jan. 22—In ten minutes' overtime, and with Seaforth coming up from behind in the last twenty seconds, the Stratford Midgets came out victorious in the hardest fought Junior O. H. and the final 4—3. The win gives Stratford the district honors.

The game was exceptionally clean and fast. Both teams fought doggedly through every stage of the game. Cornell, between the posts for Stratford, played brilliantly, time and again proving effective when an opposing player had dodged the length of the ice. Sills, for the enemy, was one of the best men on the ice. The Seaforth defence was the hardest nut the locals had to crack. In the first part of the overtime, the Midgets played the visitors off their skates. Referee, A. Kinder, Preston. Teams: Referee, A. Kinder, Preston. Teams:

SAST AND SPEEDY WERE GAMES IN CHURCH LEAGUE

Dundas Centre, Askin Street and St. James' Churches Were The

Fast games and speedy characterized the hockey games played in the Church League last night at the Westminster Rink, South London. In every instance, from the drop of the rubber, the players uncoveed some of that "old time pep" that has made the Church League a speedy and reliable aggregation. Every contest was hard fought, the winners in all instances having to fight for their adventure.

Dundas Centres Won.

The New St. James and the Dundas Centres metaphorically shook hands in the initial contest. Then, with those official preliminaries over, they played hockey—real, red-blooded hockey. The Centres proved their existence by notching a goal near the opening of the play. After this achievement, however, the rubber was a stranger to the nets, and the half-time bell tinkled with the sore 1 to 0, and the East Enders on the upper end. In the second half, the "Jims" came across with a shot that found the nets, but the "nucleus boys" came back with two more tallies that won the game. The final score was 3 to 1. two more tallies that won the game. The final score was 3 to 1. was 3 to 1. Askin Street Won.

The South London delegation apparently could not find the nets, and the bell rang on the half to find them without a tally. When play was resumed it was an entirely different bunch that did battle for the Askins, so far as accuracy and combination were concerned. They leaned hard on the disk, pushing it around at will and notched soven goals, while their opponents, after their brilliant first half were unable to come back. The game was rung off at 7 to 3 in favor of the Askin Street Methodists.

Poorly-Attended Meeting of American Association Gives Outlaws Much Mirth-Chicago Park Leased.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Charles Weegh-man, owner of the Chicago Federals, signed his 99-year lease for the North Side property, where the new Federal League park is to be located. He said he expected to let the contract for the erection of the stands tomorrow or Saturday. The grandstand, he said, would be constructed of steel and concrete and would seat 15,000 persons.

Federal League officials laughed when told the illness of Cantillon was the reason for the delay in the American Association meeting. The Federal League park site is the property pur-chased several years ago when the American Association discussed the possibility of putting a club in Chicago Cantillon, the Federals said, spent the afternoon in Federal League headquarters in closing up the deal, disposing of the real estate to the new club.
