The Dominion

We stated last week turn to this subject, and any importance at present solid foundation on which any business rest, and expectations the Government collecting their anti and thus of performance miss they may make ourselves. In our view the total expenditure, which we consider not only creditable, but indicative of Mr. Rose's either right his calculations, and to be most satisfactory. In his speech for himself him speaking in tax people at a distance how far reason is says: "The way in which the Dominion stock had been country exhibits very true. There were 600,000 and 145 at and a most gratifying feature with the distribution of that it was not taken from the whole country, but over the whole country held by trustees and table institutions, and who thus invested the money. It had thus the effect of public at large an indemnity and establishment of the Government, which had gone to the floating debt, the sale of securities of Nova Scotia bonds was gratifying to know financial operation had been very successful to the portion of which still existed, but it would very soon the receipts from the which he had indicated which could be realized without disturbance. In the progress had been made towards the Great for realizing the stock of that country had been, with a legislative and executive independence of the Canada. There was before the House Government in possible sums as deposits companies. A country also be realized by the banks. The Government had confined them, the post office and still they had some one of these, defied the proposed Government banks. He was inferring existed to some country that the Government of too large which was needed for a country. This was not to ensure the House the which any of their operations withdrawing from the and commercial interest capital which was operations. There had drawn as yet. Very invested in Dominion upon as so without a deposited in savings banks and unproductive from the commercial department of the country, from them would come from the fiscal relations with the Confederation have been glad, and all service, but we with Nova Scotia and the public attention has largely directed to the from Mr. Rose's statement no substantial ground point he says: "The fiscal relations between Nova Scotia and the Dominion being $564,715 less than millions with which
