Trade will certainly win in the American men of intelligence, such as compose the committee, will not base their opinions upon the size to take all this cum grano satis—in with many grans of allowance. Yester-our knowing contemporary had something experience was gained by being for a time engaged with one of the profession to clean his horse, wash the hearse and drive for him, occasionally assisting at a funeral.

We do not desire to belittle the position of any man or cast a slur upon manual labor, but when a man makes public statements which are exaggerated and false with a view of damaging a legitimately conducted business, he for months back has anybody imagined a Gov. Hill had the ghost of a chance of port for President by his party in the State, agh it has all along been conceded that his noes of being nominated again for Goverlooked well. And we should say that, as nay probably be deemed important to conassociation in this province, which was formed association in this province, which was formed and the fall allows for the purpose of elevating a department of business which hitherto had not been looked upon with much favor from society generally.

An evidence of this improvement I need not here dilate upon, as the general public many of whom know to their own sortew) can be their own judges in this particular.

To return to my subject, there are no laws and rules failed down in our association as to what we shall charge for goods, as really the term combine means.

was given; but the special indorsement, which would have been far more valuable, was carefully withheld. Be it remembered that New York is one of the doubtful States; also that ance largely to the various home manufacture yet — And yet The Times, published in that city of manufactures, is probably the bitterest and most persistent enemy of Protection among Canadian journals. It has more in it of pure Free Trade "cussedness" than either The Toronto Globe, The London Advertiser, or The Montreal Witness; which is saying a good deal. How the Free Trade Times manages to get along with the prevailing Protectionist public opinion of Hamilton, as shown by the city's election of members of Parliathat wages are better in certain trades which protection against foreign competition exists.

It instanced men in the building trades, also barbers, which it chose to consider as not being protected, as making better wages than cotton factory workers, whose industry has to do with a protected manufacture. We take the ment by remarking that the trades it mentions protected to the extent of prohibition.

ready-made, then it might be said that the building trades had no protection. But this cannot be done, and therefore Canadian buildcannot be done, and therefore Canadian builders are protected to this extent—that they President of the Young Women's Christian have no foreign competition to meet. Of Guild, has asked me to send you a few lines course American master builders, and work- on the above subject, which is attract men too, may come over and settle here and siderable attention just now, Our young try to get a share of what is going. But peo- girls ought to have some innocent and health ple of any occupation, either masters or work-ful amusement provided for them, indeed men, may do the same if they choose; so that something of the kind is not only important, there is no favor shown as far as this is con- but necessary. In Toronto the young men cerned. If it were impossible to import Amer- are looked after in this respect. Why are the ican cottons, and stoves, and farm machinery, girls almost entirely neglected? The following

The products of the building trades cannot be imported; hence these trades have in their favor, not protection merely, but total probibition. To say that perhaps some bits of ornamental work may be imported would be the merest trifling; it would be simply childish. The essence of Protection is—to slut out foreign competition. In the building trades this is already done, without putting anything on the statute book for the purpose. And The Times must be very blind if it cannot the standard of the property of the provided for socials, concects, reading or any other amusement desirable. Will some of our philanthropic men and women assist us in trying his for one year? The girls themselves would doubtless help with running expenses by paying a small fee. $500 "see the point."

Now that the C.P.R. have secured the road from the Sault to St. Paul there is less hkelibood of the Grand Trunk extending their morthern division from Gravenhurst to the sult. It is a matter of regret that the Grand Trunk did not get there as soon as the Can would not be long before it got into Manitoba, thing that all Canadians would like to see. There is more traffic in the Northwest than onther C.P.R. or G.T.R. can carry.

sently remarked—the party must take Oleveland this time; for now there is no other what we shall charge for goods, as really the term combine means.

In this party unanimity as to a candidate is undoubted, but as to a platform there is evidently a lack of harmony which may yet prove serious. The same party convention witch adopted Cleveland's name, apparently with all the necessary enthusiasm, gave no indorsement of the Mills Tariff Bill, which puts into concrete form the abstract principles affirmed in Cleveland's last message. So well is this latter fact understood that some out-bution to concrete form the abstract principles affirmed in Cleveland's last message. So well is this latter fact understood that some out and out Cleveland men have contended for the adoption of the message as the most fitting plantorm of alf for the party to suker its stand upon. Now, The New York World is a Free Trade Jemescratic journal, and it has never been averall changes in its management. And The World, we observe, thinks it decidedly queer in the buffer of the sadduke's well-known principles as well as the man himself. Perhaps prover the border. Anyway, it may be a good plan to direct the astention of people here to what the Democratic Weals says on the cumulator of this bill.

What was the occasion and what will be the effect of this action! Will not the result be of seen exiting the policy of avoidance.

What was the occasion and what will be the effect of this action! Will not the result be of seen exiting the policy of avoidance. The same from a point in the party would be stronger in the election if this bill shall fail in the House! These are intercepting questions. They open there is an inconsistency in the election if this bill shall fail in the House! These are intercepting questions. They open there is an inconsistency in the election if this bill shall fail in the House! These are intercepting questions. They open there is an inconsistency in the election if the bill shall fail in the House! These are intercepting questions. They open there is an inconsistency in the election of the Mills Bill by the Resulting of the property of avoidance.

If by ignoring the real issue the platform makers could have removed it these might be some excinse for this realised. But the singer constitution of the Mills Bill by the Resulting contrast with the President Cleveland and tien designed to an appropriate the same from a proposition, the proposition of the Dinger of avoidance.

If by ignoring the real issue the platform the public and contrast the party was fully emphasized the public of the contrast the

We reply: "Not yet seem to have been thought of? and American lotus flowers, and even the Victoria regia blooming in the open air. At last, is largely dependent on home manufactures for work and wages. The least that can be said is that The Mail seems to be premature in concluding that Cleveland is already as In addition to the flowers. I have mentioned

In addition to the flowers I have mentioned were waterpoppies, Siberian waterliles—(miniatures from our own Nymphea)—and many other beautiful aquatic plants growing luxuriantly out of doors.

Now our elimate is not very much colder, and spring very little later, than the parts of New York and New Jersey where these can be seen, and why could we not have some of them? A couple of tanks in the Gardens about the size of the fountain-basin would hold quite a few roots. The ponds in / High Park are well fitted for their nourishment, particularly as they destroy the common, rank marsh plants very quickly, and are also supposed, in some measure, to overcome malarial exhalations. (A friend in New Jersey has planted them for these purposes in all the mar-by places throughout his grounds.) If the woodland flowers are to be burned up—a sad kind of immolation—why not take to the water and Editor World: I am a firm supporter of any movement which will benefit the emadian Pacific. There is traffic for two lines; ployes without making any class of people and once the G.T.R. were at the Sault it suffer, but I certainly think that any bylaw would not be long before it got into Manitoba. which can only shorten their hours by heaping an injustice on the small struggling store-keeper is an iniquity which should not be tolerated in any free country. The penalties attached to the bylaw are so severe and barbarous that the measure should be at once condemned by all lovers of true liberty and freedom.
