

THE T. EATON CO.,
(LIMITED)

190 YONGE ST., July 17, 1895.

5 o'clock:

Remember we close at five every day except Saturday, when we close at noon.

I'll take some time for people to get accustomed to the new order of things, but the change is generally welcomed as a step in the right direction.

Shop as early in the day as you can. There's everything to gain by coming early.

More Good Things:

For the most part shoppers will please themselves when they come and in what they buy, but we know how to get the crowds and we're getting them. Without any waste of words we hold up these things for you to look at. The goods go on sale Thursday morning at 8 o'clock:

Pure Silk Gloves, 13 inch length, black and cream, in all sizes, regular price of these goods 35c; selling on Thursday morning at 25c.

Linen Towels, Lace, about 300 yards, all hand-made; white, regularly sold at 5c; selling Thursday morning at 3c.

Ladies' White Cotton Drawers, with two clusters of four tucks, feather stitch, brand, insertion between tucks and fine wide embroidery frill, sold regularly at $1; on Thursday morning selling at 75c.

The Twenty Thousand Lot of Summer Reading Books are finishing fast, being the most popular lot of books we have ever offered, being regularly sold at 25c; on Thursday will sell at 20c.

Ladies' Shirt Waists, over 300, laundered front, collar and cuffs, pleated and plain, in white and colors, all new goods, well made in every respect; bought to sell at $1.25; will be sold Thursday morning at 90c.

Pictures—Colored scenic imitation water colors, fruit subjects, 10 x 14 x 20 inch, framed in 3-inch fancy frames, with glass and back; this will be the bargain of the day; regularly sold at $1; Thursday morning selling at 75c.

Proof Etchings, size 14 x 28, framed in 2 x 4 inch frames, with gilt; regular price $1.50; selling Thursday at 1.00.

Ladies' Straw Hats, Dress Hats, all shades and colors, Walking Hats, Parasols, Flops, Bonnets, about 1000 altogether, covering 20 to 30 styles and prices up to 75c each, regular selling; on Thursday at 5 o'clock a.m. we put the lot at 40c.

The store is big and we're never at a loss for bargain material. Day after day, week after week, we shall continue to deserve your interest by offering fresh attractions in brand new goods. Come as often as you can and keep your eyes open. Many choice things are not advertised for the reason that quantities are too small. The opportunities are here just the same. Find them!

THE T. EATON CO.,
(LIMITED)

190 YONGE ST. - TORONTO, ONT.

Agricultural

Insurance Company

OF WATERTOWN, N.Y.

GEO. H. MAURER, Manager, Toronto.

FRED H. ROSS & CO., 50 Victoria-street, City Agents, 138

JUNE PRICES:

75c PER DOZEN—Some more, Some less

JUNE ROSES.

Sweet Peas, Carnations.

DUNLOP'S.

5 King-st. W. and 440 1/2 Yonge-st.

Going Away Soon?

When you go to get a supply of cheap summer books to read when it is too hot for anything else.

We keep in stock all the new novels and all the popular books of the day. Telephone 1680 or call at 138.

BAIN'S, 53 KING-ST. E., TORONTO.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.

Two Runabout Wagons, Extension Top, Carriage, Second-Hand.

Butcher Cart Apply to JOHN TEEIN, 50-B-4 McMillan-st.

Some persons have periodical attacks of Cholera, cholera, dysentery or Diarrhoea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Changes of water, cooking and green fruit are sure to bring on these attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Keen's Eucalypti Carbolates for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed no further trouble will be experienced.

THE TORONTO WORLD

NO. 83 YONGE-STREET, TORONTO.

One Cent Morning Paper.

SUBSCRIPTIONS:

Daily (without Sunday) by the year $3.00

Sunday Edition, by the month 25

Daily (without Sunday) by the year, 500

Daily (Sunday included) by the month 50

HAMILTON OFFICE:

No. 6 Arcade, James-street north.

H. E. SAYERS, Agent.

WHOLESALE NEWSDEALERS:

F. W. Beebe, 321 Spadina-avenue.

George Messer, 707 Yonge-street.

Mrs. Moriarty, 1426 Queen-west.

S. Ebdage, 635 Dundas.

S. Juggan, 462 King-street east.

G. H. Eard, 767 Queen-street east.

THE BLOOMER QUESTION.

The officers whose range of vision is limited to the horizon that bounds this city lamentably fails to realize what is going on in the big world outside. Toronto is full of such individuals. They take a local, narrow view of every issue. They fight against innovation of any kind, and every form of progress is thoroughly provincial and illiberal, although three-fifths of its people fondly imagine it to be a cosmopolitan and intellectual centre.

We do not make these remarks with the intention of wounding the feelings of our local poets, our local theorists or our local theologians. Of the latter Rev. D. J. Macdonnell on one memorable occasion stated to a local opinion, but the elders and preachers in general accepted took the starch out of him, made him toe the line, and reduced him to the level of their own dull mediocrity. He has remained on that level ever since. So is it all along the line. Trustee David Bell is one of our typical block heads. Even Hamilton could not produce a more genuine specimen of the fossilized man.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

THE TORONTO WORLD

NO. 83 YONGE-STREET, TORONTO.

One Cent Morning Paper.

SUBSCRIPTIONS:

Daily (without Sunday) by the year $3.00

Sunday Edition, by the month 25

Daily (without Sunday) by the year, 500

Daily (Sunday included) by the month 50

HAMILTON OFFICE:

No. 6 Arcade, James-street north.

H. E. SAYERS, Agent.

WHOLESALE NEWSDEALERS:

F. W. Beebe, 321 Spadina-avenue.

George Messer, 707 Yonge-street.

Mrs. Moriarty, 1426 Queen-west.

S. Ebdage, 635 Dundas.

S. Juggan, 462 King-street east.

G. H. Eard, 767 Queen-street east.

THE BLOOMER QUESTION.

The officers whose range of vision is limited to the horizon that bounds this city lamentably fails to realize what is going on in the big world outside. Toronto is full of such individuals. They take a local, narrow view of every issue. They fight against innovation of any kind, and every form of progress is thoroughly provincial and illiberal, although three-fifths of its people fondly imagine it to be a cosmopolitan and intellectual centre.

We do not make these remarks with the intention of wounding the feelings of our local poets, our local theorists or our local theologians. Of the latter Rev. D. J. Macdonnell on one memorable occasion stated to a local opinion, but the elders and preachers in general accepted took the starch out of him, made him toe the line, and reduced him to the level of their own dull mediocrity. He has remained on that level ever since. So is it all along the line. Trustee David Bell is one of our typical block heads. Even Hamilton could not produce a more genuine specimen of the fossilized man.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

THE TORONTO WORLD

NO. 83 YONGE-STREET, TORONTO.

One Cent Morning Paper.

SUBSCRIPTIONS:

Daily (without Sunday) by the year $3.00

Sunday Edition, by the month 25

Daily (without Sunday) by the year, 500

Daily (Sunday included) by the month 50

HAMILTON OFFICE:

No. 6 Arcade, James-street north.

H. E. SAYERS, Agent.

WHOLESALE NEWSDEALERS:

F. W. Beebe, 321 Spadina-avenue.

George Messer, 707 Yonge-street.

Mrs. Moriarty, 1426 Queen-west.

S. Ebdage, 635 Dundas.

S. Juggan, 462 King-street east.

G. H. Eard, 767 Queen-street east.

THE BLOOMER QUESTION.

The officers whose range of vision is limited to the horizon that bounds this city lamentably fails to realize what is going on in the big world outside. Toronto is full of such individuals. They take a local, narrow view of every issue. They fight against innovation of any kind, and every form of progress is thoroughly provincial and illiberal, although three-fifths of its people fondly imagine it to be a cosmopolitan and intellectual centre.

We do not make these remarks with the intention of wounding the feelings of our local poets, our local theorists or our local theologians. Of the latter Rev. D. J. Macdonnell on one memorable occasion stated to a local opinion, but the elders and preachers in general accepted took the starch out of him, made him toe the line, and reduced him to the level of their own dull mediocrity. He has remained on that level ever since. So is it all along the line. Trustee David Bell is one of our typical block heads. Even Hamilton could not produce a more genuine specimen of the fossilized man.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

On this bloomer question, as on all other questions, each man has certainly a right to his own opinion. But where Brother Bell makes his mistake is in prescribing his opinion as a medicine which all others are expected to swallow. We wish they had this fossilized intellect at Asbury Park last week, where there was a meeting of wheelmen and wheelwomen of the latter other day.

THE TORONTO WORLD

NO. 83 YONGE-STREET, TORONTO.

One Cent Morning Paper.

SUBSCRIPTIONS:

Daily (without Sunday) by the year $3.00

Sunday Edition, by the month 25

Daily (without Sunday) by the year, 500

Daily (Sunday included) by the month 50

HAMILTON OFFICE:

No. 6 Arcade, James-street north.

H. E. SAYERS, Agent.

WHOLESALE NEWSDEALERS:

F. W. Beebe, 321 Spadina-avenue.

George Messer, 707 Yonge-street.

Mrs. Moriarty, 1426 Queen-west.

S. Ebdage, 635 Dundas.

S. Juggan, 462 King-street east.

G. H. Eard, 767 Queen-street east.

THE BLOOMER QUESTION.

The officers whose range of vision is limited to the horizon that bounds this city lamentably fails to realize what is going on in the big world outside. Toronto is full of such individuals. They take a local, narrow view of every issue. They fight against innovation of any kind, and every form of progress is thoroughly provincial and illiberal, although three-fifths of its people fondly imagine it to be a cosmopolitan and intellectual centre.

We do not make these remarks with the intention of wounding the feelings of our local poets, our local theorists or our local theologians. Of the latter