When a mother detects from the writhings and fretting of a child that worms are troubling it, she can procure no better remedy than Miller's Worm Powders, which are guaranteed to totally expel worms from the system. They may cause vomiting, but this need cause no anxiety, because it is but a manifestation of their thorough work. No worms can exist where these Powders are used.

AN HONORED PROPHECY.

People of Paris Had Great Faith in Madame Thebes.

An extraordinary career ended with the passing away of Madame Thebes in Paris. Until the outbreak of the war her prophetic genius won world-wide renown, but for the last year or two her guessing has been wont to miss rather than make the mark.

She has been one of the romantic figures of Paris for a number of years. With good looks, magnetic personality, and her uncanny insight, she has won her way into some of the most exclusive salons. She always wore an air of mysticism, and after the manner of her kind was apt to go into trances for indefinite periods. Her tongue was two-edged and she was feared as much as she was feted.

Madame Thebes has had a lengthy career and for some time past her health had been failing. Her son was killed recently in the war. When interviewed in Paris last March she was a broken-down old woman shivering by the fire, but with lambent flames of her old spirit still appearing at times.

"The disappearance of one of the principal authors of the war will bring about a great change," she said on this occasion.

"Which of the two I cannot tell. The future is too dim. Many shapeless shadows pass before my eyes. The sinister old man and the modern Nero. Both of them are marked men. Death follows them and will suddenly betray them both. The Hohenzollern will die a madman or as a violent means, suicide, or assassination, I cannot say which. The Empress and Prince Henry of Prussia and perhaps one of his sons, will alone survive the Kaiser." The "old man" referred to is presumably the late Francis Josef of Austria.

She foretold with accuracy the date of the death of Pope Pius, and months before the war clouds loomed up she prophesied that France in 1914 would be drawn into a great war from which she would emerge victorious.

It was the habit of Madame Thebes to issue an annual book of predictions, and in her volume for 1915 she foretold the latest earthquake in Italy which occurred in January, 1915. Among other successful prophecies were the fall of Khartoum, the assassination of President Carnot, and the death of Queen Victoria.

One of her really remarkable prophecies was that of the great bazaar fire which occurred in Paris some years ago, and in which many of the French noblesse lost their lives.

It must be admitted that most of Madame Thebes' prophecies regarding the war have already proved fallacious, and her popularity waned in proportion. There was a time when the French people had the utmost faith in everything their seers told them.

In any event, the sayings of Madame Thebes will be missed from the strange conglomeration of fact and fancy that is Paris.

Hint to Jelly Makers.
When using paraffin melt in an old tea or coffee pot, and you will be interested to see how easy it is to pour the contents of the pot into jelly glasses or other receptacles after they have been filled and need to be sealed. No scattering drops will sprinkle the floor and your apron.

The Awful Cost in Human Blood

A German authority, writing at the beginning of May, said that up to then the war had cost Germany a loss in killed of 1,300,000. This, together with the decrease in births, makes a reduction of 3,800,000. The surplus of females over males in Germany has increased from 800,000 to far above 2,000,000. "The nations have bled as they have never done since the Thirty Years' War," he adds. And the bleeding is not yet near an end.

You can run a Maxwell on $6 to $8 a month.

This is not a theory—thousands of enthusiastic Maxwell owners are actually doing it.

The Maxwell is right mechanically—the product of four years of patient, scientific development of one chassis model.

The real motor car is the mechanism on the inside, where you can't see it.

The Maxwell is a perfected machine—with powerful engine, simple, efficient transmission, mighty axles.

The Maxwell, logically, is "every man's car."
