

LONDON COMMERCIAL COLLEGE

And Business University.

WILLIAM N. YEREX, WELLINGTON PANTON, Proprietors.

Facts for Parents, Guardians, and Students.

FACT I.—Commercial Colleges are a necessity of the times, and give just such a course of training as is required by a very large majority of the young men of the country. Old-established and endowed Colleges and Universities are waking up to the fact that a course of study, to be appreciated by the masses, must be practical, and in order to keep abreast of the times they are compelled to open out Commercial Departments.

FACT II.—Some of these endowed institutions, knowing that they are not prepared to give as comprehensive and practical a business course as can be obtained at a first-class Commercial College, have adopted the very questionable expedient of endeavouring to secure students who contemplate taking a business course, by stating that the regular Commercial Colleges are not endowed, they may cease to exist at any time, and that in such an event diplomas obtained at such institutions would be valueless. Now, a person does not require a superabundant amount of common sense to know that all diplomas in themselves are utterly valueless, and that one obtained at an endowed institution is just as valueless as one obtained at a private institution. The knowledge obtained is all that is of any real value, and we are prepared to prove by a comparison of graduates, or in any other feasible way, that our course of study and our methods of instruction are unequalled by those of any other Commercial College or the Commercial Department of any College in Canada.

The London Commercial College has been established over twenty years, and is continually increasing in popularity, and to-day, as a Business Training School, it has no equal in the Dominion, and consequently diplomas granted at this institution are accepted by business men as sufficient proof of the qualification of those who hold them.

FACT III.—That this is the leading Business College in British America, is now universally conceded.

FACT IV.—Our attendance is larger than that of any similar institution.

FACT V.—The graduates of no other Commercial College in Canada are anything like so successful in obtaining good situations and remunerative salaries.

TERMS.

We charge thirty-five dollars for a full Commercial Course, and twelve dollars for all the books, stationery, &c., required to complete the course.

The subjects taught in this course are Book-keeping, including Banking, Arithmetic, Writing, Spelling, Grammar, Business Correspondence, Commercial Law, Elocution, Detection of Counterfeit Money, &c.

We charge twenty-five dollars for a three months Commercial Course, and ten dollars for books, stationery, &c. Same subjects taught as in full Commercial Course.

We charge twenty-five dollars for full instruction in Book-keeping, and eight dollars for books, stationery, &c. In this course nothing but Book-keeping and Penmanship is taught.

Those who wish to take a regular Academic Course will be admitted at the following rates:—For three months, twelve dollars; for six months, twenty dollars; and for one year, thirty-five dollars. This course does not include Book-keeping.

We charge twenty-five dollars for thorough instruction in Telegraphy. Any one completing this course is fully qualified to take charge of an office. We guarantee satisfaction.

A course in Phonography is given for twenty-five dollars.

We charge twenty-five dollars for a full course in Business Writing and Ornamental Penmanship.

NORMAL MUSIC DEPARTMENT.

Messrs. M. Draper and W. I. Freeland have made arrangements with us to open out classes in Harmony, Sight Singing, Voice Culture, Piano, &c., on the 1st of October. Special course for those wishing to become teachers. Terms made known upon application.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

We do not guarantee students situations when they graduate, but we do all we can to assist them in obtaining them.

Students can enter at any time. One time is about as good as another.

We cannot tell how long it will take any one to graduate, but the average

Address all communications to time required is from four to six months. A very few get through in a little less time, and some are longer in completing the course.

We have students at all ages, and at all stages of advancement in their educational attainments.

Anyone desirous of taking up Mathematics, History, Geography, &c., will here find excellent facilities for doing so.

We make no reduction in students entering at any particular time, nor to those who may pass other Commercial Colleges to get here, neither do we make any reduction to clubs.

We treat all our students exactly alike, and we are glad to know that our course in that respect gives general satisfaction.

PENMANSHIP.

As so many engraved specimens of penmanship and specimens executed by penmen not connected with the institutions competing, are exhibited by the proprietors of some Commercial Colleges, we deem the only sure test of superiority to be the ability to execute the work before the eyes of those who are to judge it. In this manner we challenge competition. If the penman of an institution cannot sit down and execute before you the work which he exhibits, or at least any part of the work which you may require him to do, you may pretty safely conclude that he is not the man to teach you how to become a good, rapid business writer.

REMARKS.

In conclusion we would say that hundreds of our graduates are occupying the best positions in banks, wholesale and retail mercantile houses, manufacturing establishments, &c., and large numbers are now entering our College for the purpose of fitting themselves to fill similar positions.

Young ladies, as well as gentlemen, are in attendance.

We feel grateful to the business community for so readily giving employment to those who have been under our instruction, and we beg to assure them that our course of instruction sends in the future to be even more thorough than it has been in the past, and any one in need of an assistant in counting-house or office would do well to make application to us. Remember that this is "The Business University of British America."

YOUNG MEN

who contemplate engaging in business pursuits should be thoroughly and practically trained. The advantage of this cannot be over-estimated. It has been demonstrated, by 100,000 others, that the young man who has spent six months of a year in the will have saved in money, say at the end of three years, than he could have had been working all the time. Besides, he has that thorough training which is indispensable to the successful business man. Students may enter the school at any time. For circular address THE SECRETARY, TORONTO.

MISSIONARIES WANTED.

Two of the Missionaries are WANTED FOR MANITOBA. Applications should be sent on or before the EIGHTEENTH NOVEMBER to DR. COCHRANE.
