

matter and, although I shall be very busy, I think that it is my duty to consent to act.

I trust that my rather late return will not be a stumbling block but there is material here which I must get before returning to me Gill.

I also think that, as