Residents of Avezzano and Sora Took Refuge in

DEATH TOLL INCREASED

ported Lost in Abruzzi District Alone.

Canadian Press Despatch.

ROME, Jan. 18.—A renewal of seismic disturbances early today served to add to the terror of the people in parts of the district that was visited by the heavy earthquake last Wednesday. Altho the shocks were light, buildings which had been cracked and were tottering from the effects of the first disturbance were completely razed. In Avezzano and Sora, the towns which had suffered worst from the disaster, the people left the temporary shelters in which they are living and took refuge in open places.

Rain and extremely cold weather in some parts of the districts are hampering badly the work of rescue. This is particularly true of Sora, where a cold rain fell thruout Saturday night and today. In many of the towns which were thrown down by the earthquake it is feared that there are, still living persons beneath the debris and that unless they are extricated soon ving persons beneath the debris and tunless they are extricated soon that unless they are extricated soon they will perish.

Death List Grows.

The latest reports received in Rome increases rather than decreases the agregate of the casualties and the extent of the damage done. In the department of the Abruzzi alone it is estimated that 30,000 persons met death.

San Anatolio has 200 dead and 500 injured, Morino 1500 dead, Canistro 800 injured, Cervare 300 victims, Borgo 100 dead, and Valleroveto 1800. At Civitella Roveto almost the entire population escaped because they were working in the fields when the shock occurred.

Frantic appeals for help have been received from Petrelialiri, 3500 feet high on Mount Arungo, eight miles from Tagliacozzo. The village was almost destroyed and the survivors say they are perishing of cold and hunger. In the highway near Ortucchio the earth opened, causing an immense pit filled with water, the depth of which is unknown.

Mountains Cracked

The terrific force of the earthquake cracked the mountains near Luco. Huge pieces of rock, each of which weighed several tons, rolled down the hillsides, burying cottages, killing

The Italian Government has appropriated $1,000,000 for the relief work, and King Victor Emmanuel has donated $60,000 for the aid of childres abandoned by their pacents and made orphans by the disaster. Relief supplies are pouring into the stricken districts, and it is believed that shortly there will be sufficient food supplies everywhere to alleviate temporarily the distress of the people. Trainloads of timber also are being despatched to the destroyed towns for the erection of huts.

Will Relieve Servia.

The capture of Kirlibaba Pass, thru which roads lead into the heart of Transylvania, is likely to have a political as well as a military effect. It will possibly hasten the action of Roumania and will compel the Germanic allies to sends troops for the defence of Eastern Hungary. With the retirement of Count Von Berchtold, the former Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, who is said to have favored another expedition against Servia, and because of the Eservia in the councils of the empire by reason of the appointment of Baron Stephan Burian at the head of the foreign department, the troops which were destined for the Servian operations are likely to be diverted to meet the new Russian threat against Hungary.

When the laymen's movement was started the annual amount subscribed had to be multiplied four times to equal the estimated sum for the evangelization of the world. Eight years ago the annual amount given for foreign missions in the United States and Canada was $5,980,000. For the year just closed it was $17,938,000.

Greater than was the financial result, the speaker considered, was the remarkable way in which the laymen of the different churches had united.
