FOUND DEAD WITH GAS ON

Charles E. Penn, Aged 24, Presumed to Have Ended His Life.

Another supposed suicide occurred at 467 Bathurst-street, where Charles Edward Pinn, twenty-four years old and single, was found dead in bed Saturday noon. The gas jet was turned on when Mrs. Sophia Ablitt found him. He once told her he was employed in the Adams harness factory and then again he said he was a musician and worked for the Toronto City Mission. The sperintendent in the latter place does not know the young man. Coron-er J. W. Wigham will open an inquest.

MRS. BAKER EDDY PEACEFULLY PASSES ON

The routine service, which closes with a hymn, the reading of the "Scientific statement of being" and the benediction, was strictly followed at the mother church to-day until just before the benediction, Judge Smith broke thru the usual form with the following words:

Mrs. Eddy's Farewell.

"I shall now read part of a letter, vritten by our revered leader, and eprinted on page 135 of 'Miscelaneous 'I'."

"'My beloved students: You may be looking to see me in my accustomed place with you, but this you must no longer expect. When I retired from the field of labor it was a departure, socially, publicly and finally, from the routine from such material modes as society and our societies demand. Rumors are rumors—nothing more. I am till with you on the field of battle, taking forward marches, broader and higher views, and with the hope that you will follow. All our thoughts should be given to the absolute demonstrations of Christian Science. As the churchgoers scattered after As the churchgoers scattered after the services, the question of future leadership was referred to with great reserve by the leaders and others. Those who expressed a view said that there would be no change in the methods of carrying on the work, that Mrs. Eddy's teachings and instruction would be implicitly followed, and that the church she founded would continue to grow in the future as it had in the past. It was pointed out that with the exception of a few routine matters the actual direction of the caurch work had been relinquished to a great degree by Mrs. Eddy for some years previous to her death. for some years previous to her death. the south. She also taught school. About 1850, a wave of spiritualism swept over New England, which drew her attention to some extent.

After nine years of widowhood, Mrs. Eddy married Dr. Daniel Patterson, a New Hampehire dentist. The marriage was not a happy one.

Her Discovery.

A notable event of Mrs. Eddy's life was her meeting in 1862 with Phineas Quimby, a mesmeric healer, at a hotel in Portiand, Me. Quimby was the son of a poor blacksmith. From him Mrs. Eddy became imbued with metaphysical ideas and started on a career in that line which made her one of the most famous of the world's mental healers. After spending two years in Portland, Mrs. Patterson rejoined her husband in Lynn, where she lived five years, continuing studies of mataphysics. It was in that city that she suffered an accident thru a fall on the ice which the doctor said was severe, but from which she recovered, she said, in one night. It was this incident that led directly to the promulgation of her discovery of Christian Science.

Mecca of Pilgrims.

The little house on Broad-street in Lynn, where she lived at this time, is a mecca of Christian Science pilgrims from all over the world to-day. It was in 1875, nine years after the discovery, that the first edition of "Science and Health" was published. The close ing chapters of the manuscript were written in an upper room of the Broadstreet house. In 1877, four years after her separation from Mr. Patterson, the founder of the new belief was married to Asa Gilbert Eddy. In the interval she had been admitted into the Congregational denomination and baptized.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Dec. 4 .made a discovery that the police believe will aid in breaking up an organized gang who have systematically smuggled undesirable aliens from the States to Canada for months.

Nicolo Tucci was sentenced Friday to two months in Welland jail for smuggling Ferdinand Spina into Canada. In his room the police found many things they believe to have been smuggled into the country, besides a large brass trunk and a suit case, which the Italian declared he did not own. According to the prisoner a stranger called at his shoemaking establishment a week ago and asked him to get baggage from the Michigan Central depot and keep it until called
