unusually large short interest in July wheat gave a hoist to-day to market as a whole. Prices received special support from the big owners of the contract stock here. In consequence, latest figures were % to 1% higher than Dairy Producelast night. Corn showed a net gain of % to 11%, and oats a rise of 1 to 114 to 1%. The outcome in hog products varied from 10c greater cost to 221/2c decline.

July wheat was at one time a full cent above September, as against a discount of ¼ last night. Once the bulge had started, no important setback occurred, the the final tone was easy at a slight recession from the top level of the day. During the session, September ranged from 88½ to 90¾ with the close at 90½, a net gain of 1½ to 1½.

Cats advanced to the highest notch of the season thus far, and kept strong to the last. Estimates of the shortage in the crop ran all the way from 250,000 to 1,000,000 bushels less than last year. A report from Iowa showed from 20 to 30 per cent. damage and there was excited speculative buying as a result. Upper and lower limits touched by the September option were 45½ and 43% to ½ with the close Ic net higher at 44%.

Foreign Crop Summary. Eroomhall's weekly foreign crop sum-ary is as follows: United Kingdom-Crops been benefited France and Germany-Recent rains

France and Germany—Recent rains have caused improvement.
Roumania—Crop outlook favorable.
Russia—Weather conditions generally favorable in southwest. In southeast there have been beneficial rains.
Turkey and Hungary—Outlook favorable; cutting about to commence.
Spain—Wheat crop this year will be about 20,000,000 larger than last.
Italy—Some damage in the north by rains. In south weather has been unsettled India-Weather favorable for autumn

Australia-There has been much chart-ing done recently.

Crop Advices.

Snow wires: County returns covering from one-fourth to one-third of the area in each state warrant the statement that the July report will show a material reduction in the condition of winter wheat resulting from but weather at time of filling. In spring wheat some extraordinary losses are showing in Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, and South Dakota that will heavily reduce the spring wheat output.

Messages from Minneapolis claim North Dakota crop has been damaged 25 percent, and that state will not produce ever 20,000,000 bushels.

Ingils wires: An important oat section thruout South Dakota and extreme southern countles of North Dakota practically a failure. In North Dakota they are looking well.

Cover on the advance. Receiving houses concede that the country is offering a great deal more wheat than the leaders of the cash trade here care to take at this time. Reports from the spring wheat country are still a little mixed. On the whole the serious crop injury is limited to South Dakota. Additional rains with lower temperatures were bearish features at the opening. No doubt that strength was helped by actions in corn and oats. Finley Barrell wires:

the whole a little more favorable, but this was over-shedowed by the unexpected buying in July and strength in coarse grains.

Erickson Perkins & Co. had the following at the cleans. Erickson Perkins & Co. bad the following at the close:

The market opened easier and had a weak spot during the earlier portion of the session, turning very strong later and advancing sharply with the July delivery in the lead. Offerings of this month were light and it was easily bid up. Northwestern markets were not as firm as our own. The market is still largely of a professional character, but is showing a better undertone, and we are inclined to think that prices may work some higher.

climed to think that prices may work some higher.

Corn—The market has ruled very strong all day with a very slight recession in prices during the early part of the session. Predictions of warmer weather were helpful and speculative sentiment still leans very strongly toward higher prices. The ultimate effect of the shortage in the oats and hay crops is making many friends for corn, and there seems to be good support on all little breaks. We continue to favor the long side on any fair setbacks.

We continue to favor the long side on any fair setbacks.

Oats—Prices continued their upward trend, new high records being again made for all deliveries. According to our Mr. Snow, reports thus far received, the decline in condition which the report of July will show will be sensational. We can see but one end to the prices of this cereal and continue to advise the long side.
