

PRACTICES MUST FOLLOW PRECEPTS

Make Heathen Taunt of "Physician, Heal Thyself" Impossible.

Rev. Dr. Roberg, preached Sunday evening at St. Alban's Cathedral an Epiphany sermon on "A New Manifestation of Christ," showing that the Christianity which we are carrying to the heathen lands must be the genuine Christianity of the gospel, or else we are bound to fail in our efforts to evangelize them.

Dr. Roberg said in part: The question which concerns the whole Christian world today is whether our western civilization which our missionaries are carrying to the four corners of the earth is thoroughly the sincerely Christian. To evangelize the world is to do something more than preach the gospel, for to save men includes saving the conditions in which they live as well as preparing their souls for the hereafter.

How can we think of carrying our Christian civilization to Japan and China and expect that it will be accepted, when that Christian civilization is disgraced and smirched by evils, injustices and wrongs which disgraced the heathen civilizations of the past? In the same proportion that we work out the evangelization of the creative forces of our democracy shall we be able to construct a Christian civilization that shall carry within itself across and around the world, not only its economic significance and powers, but the message of good-will and justice.

OWNER OF CAR PURSUES JOY-RIDING YOUTHS

Thomas McEale, 249 Roxton road, and Lorne Webster, 571 Shaw street, aged 17 and 16 years respectively, were arrested yesterday afternoon about five o'clock by P.C. Hyde on a charge of stealing a McLaughlin automobile belonging to Mr. W. A. Hall, 128 Albany avenue.

As told by Mr. Hall, the story is that a Ford car driven by Pte. Smith of a local unit happened to pass his residence at the moment the car was misused. When asked whether he had noticed anyone driving a McLaughlin in that district, Smith said that he had noticed one apparently in the hands of an inexperienced man. Mr. Hall immediately got into the Ford and they went in the direction in which the stolen car had last been seen. Fortunately they were able to overtake it and managed to stop it by cutting in ahead of the young would-be motorists.

LATER DATE FIXED FOR OPENING OF HOUSE

Ontario Legislature Not Expected to Meet Until February Eighteenth.

The opening day for the provincial Legislature has not yet been decided by Premier Hearst and his cabinet, but it is expected that an official announcement will be made shortly. It is now generally believed that the Legislature will not be called as early as was first thought, and the opinion as expressed in the corridors of the parliament buildings is that Tuesday, Feb. 18, is the date which will ultimately be selected. During the past year the session has extended over a period of from six to eight weeks, and it has been the policy of the government to complete the session during the week before Easter so the members could leave for their homes prior to the holiday. If this policy is adopted this year Feb. 18 is expected to be the logical date for the opening.

ALL SALVATIONIST MEN AT PETERBORO IN ARMY

The Peterboro Salvation Army claims the unique distinction of having all its eligible male members volunteering for service in the great war, and when the military service law was put into effect not one eligible man could be found in the local corps. "This is a record," says the Peterboro Review, "which cannot be equaled by any denomination or organization in the city, and demonstrates that in the strenuous branch of war service the Salvation Army members realized their duty and did not hesitate to perform it."

LODGE ST. GEORGE, S.O.E.B.S.

The thirty-fifth annual investiture of officers connected with Lodge St. George No. 27, S.O.E.B.S., took place last evening in St. George's Hall, Elm street, W. G. Jones, D.D.S.P., performed the installation and invested the following members with their regalia of office: Walter Bamlett, president; H. Woodhouse, past president; J. Crowson, vice-president; G. C. J. Chapman, chaplain; T. H. Warrington, secretary; A. H. Young, treasurer.

An adjournment was then made, and the members and visitors enjoyed an excellent reception which was rendered doubly entertaining by the presentation of a gold jewel to Sapper H. Fletcher, who recently returned home after three years' service in the S.O.E.B.S. E. C. Green, past district deputy (Centre Toronto), made the presentation on behalf of the members. A cordial reception was then also rendered Corp. Arthur Bosanquet, who vacated the president's chair three years ago to go overseas. Interesting speeches were then given by W. G. Jones, D.D.S.P.; E. C. Green, P.D.D.; J. J. Norris, P.P. (Manchester No. 76); J. Jones, P.P. (St. Albans No. 76); and John Scott, P.P. (Concordia No. 200). Walter Bamlett, president, acted as chairman.

SCANDINAVIAN TRAIN CARRIES FEW SOLDIERS

A special train bearing 25 officers and 18 other ranks, together with their wives and children, arrived at the Union Station yesterday morning at 7.30 from St. John, B. C. The train, which docked at St. John on Nov. 10th, were passengers on the S. S. Scandinavian, ten days out from Liverpool, which docked at St. John on Nov. 10th. Owing to the early hour few but relatives were present to greet the soldiers, but on the platform were Brigadier-General Gunn, G.O.C.; Major Church, Major Gibson, Capt. Jago and other civil and military officials. As the traffic is greatly reduced on Sundays there were only small forces of civil and military police to maintain order.

Everyone agreed that the voyage over had been exceptionally rough, although there was no fault of the boat. Asked about the food and general conditions on board, the general opinion was that the ship had been undermanned but otherwise everything was as good as could be expected. There were a number of complaints concerning the food, but these were not substantiated by the majority.

CENSOR CAUSE OF MISUNDERSTANDING

Ignorance of Russian Ideals Due to Muzzled Press.

That the cause for the misunderstanding of affairs in Russia was due to an over-censored Canadian press, who would publish the truth, if they were allowed to, was the statement made to the People's Forum last night by James McA. Connor, in speaking on "Unchained Russia."

The speaker took his audience back to the revolution of 1905, from which Russia emerged as a staggering chaos. He told of the efforts at repression which were made by an autocratic government, under the leadership of M. Stolypin, to crush the socialistic movement by banishment, and worse. He declared that since the time of the second and third dumas, it has officially reported that three Socialists were hanged each day.

Mr. Connor related the catastrophe which overtook the second duma, in which was a Socialist majority, and who when they demanded the right to form a ministry, were dissolved. How the Okrana, or the secret police, tried to fasten the guilt of the revolution upon them, and their failure. The subsequent persecutions and trials undergone by Socialist leaders in Russia, were all related by the speaker as he traced the events in Russia right up to the revolution of 1917.

With the revolution in 1917, the duma, unable to cope with the situation which confronted them, called on the Workmen and Soldiers' Council to aid them in their efforts at government of the country. This government was at present supported by 40 per cent of the people in Russia, because it was represented all members of the country.

General Korniloff, whom the press of the world had hailed as the strong man of the country, the lecturer stated, had tried to restore monarchy to Russia, by letting the people fall into a panic by which he planned the loss of Riga. The Germans then, who were surprised at the easy victory they gained at this point.

He refuted the statements of the press, who stated that anarchy was rampant in Russia. He further said that there had not been an Associated Press correspondent in Soviet Russia for months.

"Why should not the censorship be lifted in Canada, as it had been lifted in the old country, New Zealand and other countries," he queried. "We are just as capable of understanding and digesting the news in Canada as they are in any other country."

CITY ITEMS

The condition of John Rofnuck and Harry Manuchuk, the two foreigners, who were arrested by robbers last Friday evening while defending their property in West Toronto, is steadily improving, according to the medical authorities at the Western Hospital, where they were removed by the police. On a charge of gambling on the Sabbath, seventy-six Greeks and Italians were arrested on the premises at 190 Bay street yesterday afternoon by plainclothesmen Ward and Scott. Four Russians were also arrested at 328 Queen street west by P.C. Johnston on the same charge.

Follies of the Passing Show—By Mitchell

A REAL CURIOSITY—A WOMAN WITHOUT ANY

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC.

"Oh, Boy!"—Alexandra. "Oh, Boy!" the fourth annual Princess Theatre, New York, musical comedy success, returns to the Royal Alexandra this week, commencing tonight. In presenting "Oh, Boy!" to local theatregoers against F. Ray Comstock and William Elliott, the producers, take pleasure in announcing that the original Princess Theatre cast and production will be seen, headed by such well-known artists as Anna Wheaton, Hal Forde, Elaine Wilson, Charles Compton, Jack Stafford, Augusta Haviland, Harry Quayle, Margaret Mason, Helen Francis and all the other principles who created the different roles this morning ago in New York, when this comedy, which musical enjoyed a run of 18 months, Matinees will be as usual on Wednesday and Saturday.

"Paradise"—Princess. Tonight, on the stage of the Princess, Paradise Schottel, the ravineable comic of "No. 12," will make his bow. Those who have read the book will instantly recognize each character and situation in the comedy progress, and as has invariably been the case, they will derive even more pleasure from witnessing the performance than they did from reading the book. There is but one company playing "Paradise" and that arrived from New York this morning for its first visit. The advance sale indicates that at each of the eight performances large audiences will be the rule. Matinees will be played on Wednesday and Saturday.

"Sweet Ignorance"—Grand. What is claimed to be the most refreshing of the comedies, "Sweet Ignorance," which will be presented by Bernard Daly, the noted Irish singing comedian, at the Grand this week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. Mr. Daly has been hailed by leading critics, he queries, as the coming prominent star in romantic Irish drama. He has a splendid voice, besides being an actor of first rank. The play is a love affair of a young Irish lad and his colleen, and is a classic in Irish dramatic production.

The Bill at Shea's. Commencing with a matinee this afternoon, Shea's Theatre offers as the headline attraction this week Lucille Cavanaugh, one of America's foremost dancers, when assisted by Walter Wadsworth, Neil Craig and William B. Taylor, who will present her 1919 edition of kaleidoscopic dance, color and song. Frank Orth and Anne Cody in their new play, "Lick's Take a Walk," will provoke laughter. "The Stampede Riders" features Flores La Due, the world's champion woman roper. Jim and Betty Morgan in "Songs of Their Own" and the Texas Comedy Four intersperse their good songs with comedy. Kimberley Page, in the magnificent western, "The Rainbow Trail," which will form the feature at the Grand Theatre today, tomorrow and Wednesday. The production is a play of quite novel and genuine appeal.

Wm. Farnum at Madison. A consummate triumph will be the feature in the magnificent western photodrama, "The Rainbow Trail," which will form the feature at the Grand Theatre today, tomorrow and Wednesday. The production is a play of quite novel and genuine appeal. Wm. Farnum, one of those virile, red-blooded parts in which he excels.

Elman Tomorrow Night. Tomorrow night, Mischa Elman, the celebrated Russian violinist, will make his Toronto appearance in Massey Hall. His striking personality, the wonder and elegance of the tone he produces are the skill with which he executes the most difficult technique all commend him to the musician as well as the layman. Rush seats will be placed on sale at Massey Hall at 7.15 tomorrow evening.

Stanley Dambos Recital. On Friday next, seats will be placed on sale for the recital to be given by Mme. Helen Stanley, dramatic soprano, and Maurice Dambos, the celebrated Belgian cellist, who will be presented by the Women's Musical Club, Tuesday, Jan. 23, at Massey Hall. The net proceeds will be devoted to the permanent Canadian military hospitals and to French and Belgian relief.

A great deal of preliminary interest has already been aroused by the announcement that Harry Lauder, the Scotch minister, will be at the Royal Alexandra Theatre all next week. Lauder has a company of international artists with him on the varied program, and he will be a little bit hand to give an added Scotch flavor to the entertainment.

"My Honolulu Girl" Coming. "Alone On" one of the sweetest and a swinging, plaintive melody that fair-ly burrows into the soul, is featured dancing novelty; the Aerial Grahams, and the Pathe Weekly News, are also included in the bill.

At the Gaiety. With a reputation of being one of the best burlesque organizations on the road, the "Mad in America," headed by burlesque's funniest comedian, Al. K. Hall, assisted by Bobby Barry, will be the attraction of the coming week at the Gaiety Theatre. This show continues to uphold that reputation. The play is a new one, nothing like it having ever been seen on the burlesque stage. The musical numbers are catchy and useful and the big chorus of 30 young women, who know how to sing and dance, is said to be one of the best on the road.

"The Beauty Review"—Star. Replete with clever vaudeville specialties and scintillating with catchy tunes, Rube Bernstein's "Beauty Review" will open a week's engagement at the Grand Theatre today. The "Beauty Review" is divided in two acts and a series of colorful scenes that blend with spirit, melody and feminine beauty to a nicety. The cast is headed by Ada Lum and embraces a number of other well-known burlesque favorites, including Eddie Dale and Harry Peterson. "Sporting Life" picture being shown at the Grand Theatre today, filled the Allen Theatre to capacity all last week. The play is a popularization of the melodrama so popular some years ago, and shows in a unique and interesting way Lord Woodstock's wooing and winning of his trainer's daughter. A good exhibition of the mimicry art, the derby which race the hero's horse wins, and the foiled attempts of the villain. De launier, keep one amused and excited through Maurice Tourneur's act and a splendid cast assure an immitable production, and lovers of the silent drama are told in their appreciation.

JAMES T. GUNN ADVISES LABOR

Fundamental Need is Co-operation Between Employer and Employed.

All manner of labor enthusiasts formed a large and orderly gathering at the open session of the Independent Labor Party on Sunday afternoon, when James T. Gunn delivered an address upon reconstruction, in which he pointed to the need of arriving at the goal of every labor man thru the channel of constitutional methods. Co-operation was also one of the fundamental needs of the day, said Mr. Gunn, co-operation between the employer and the employe, nothing less than the joint ownership of the products of labor through the world. The speaker also urged the adoption of a platform which would grant the brain worker an equal share in the affairs of the labor movement with the manual worker, something which was not yet properly recognized.

J. McCutcheon, international organizer for the Bootmakers' Union, expressed the opinion that methods of destruction were necessary in at least certain cases. It was necessary, he claimed to destroy a system which permitted tramps, both of the champagne and the box-car variety, to flourish, and also permitted the general and specific exploitation of labor.

Two Slogans. Aurine France pointed out that all present were determined upon one thing, but the exact term for that desired end, formed a matter of contention. Destroy the capitalist, was the slogan of some rabid enthusiasts; abolish the system which brought about these capitalists was the slogan adopted by James T. Gunn.

Just as Mr. Gunn was getting ready to get away, J. Birks called out: "I want you to stay five minutes longer, and answer me this. If within four months a condition of hunger should seem to force the workers to a state of revolution, what in your opinion should be the attitude of organized labor?"

"I would reply to that as I have always maintained, that organized labor should always be so powerful that such a catastrophe should never occur in this country," was the response of the other. "You may say what you will about affairs in Russia," continued Mr. Gunn, "but the fact is that none of us here knows a word as to what really is happening in that country. My advice to you, gentlemen, is to consider as fascinating a number of other well-known burlesque favorites, including Eddie Dale and Harry Peterson."
