INSPECTING CITY PROPERTY.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the Property Committee and a number of other members of Council paid a visit to the Island to make a general inspection of the city property. The Mayor was present, and expounded his Island policy. He is strongly impressed with the idea that the city is simply throwing away its opportunities by the policy that has been pursued. His policy is to put the rentals for Island lots at such a figure that the entire available area, other than that set apart for park puroses, will be leased and built upon. The President having intimated that the Directors were prepared to answer any questions and give any informathe Directors were prepared to answer any questions and give any information which the shareholders might desire, Mr. John Crawford congratulated the Directors on the statement they had submitted to the meeting, and said that, under sill the circumstances, he considered that a profit of $22,000 on a capital of $2,000,000 was entirely satisfactory. Now that the Rest Account had reached $1,400,000, he was of opinion that the time had arrived when there should be taken into consideration the propriety of changing from the bonus system to that of regular dividends. think it is a mistake to imagine that the President rules everything. There was been transferred to the Rest, making that account $1,400,000, leaving a credit of Profit and Loss Account of $62,652.17. Our business has been conducted for a great many years, and I am proud to say that it has been successfully carried on. Since the establishment of the Bank, forty-one years ago, as a joint stock bank, we have paid an average dividend of 7.8-10 per cent. which I think is very satisfactory and speaks well for the general management of the institution. Mr. Crawford asked what the policy of the Bank was going to be. It has no settled policy; it has to be guided by circumstances. The Directors get the best information they can as to what is going on, and use their own judgment as best they can. We endeavor that the Bank shall be better than we represent it, and I may say that such is the case. We want the Bank to be better than we show it, and I think that when I and others are gone, it will be found that this is.so. I do not say this boastingly, but it has been drawn out by the nature of Mr. Crawford's remarks. I would move the adoption of the report.

The motion was seconded by Mr. S. H. Ewing, and agreed to unanimously.

THE DIRECTORS THANKED. Mr. A. F. Gault then moved: "That the thanks of the shareh ers are due, and are hereby tendered, to the President Vice-President and Directors of the Bank for their atten-tion to its interests during the year just closed."

In making the motion, Mr. Gault said that, having been at one time a Director of the Bank, he could speak of the manner in which the Directors gave their attention to the affairs of the institution. Every minutia was gone into, and the shareholders could feel that any business coming before the Bank was attended to in a thoroughly husinessitie way the consideration. oughly businesslike way. He considered that the financial statement which had been submitted was a satisfactory guarantee that the interests of the Bank had been well looked after. Wolferstan Thomas, should be included in the motion. He spoke highly of the industry and ability which Mr. Thomas had always displayed in the interests of the Bank during the twenty-seven years that he had been connected with it.

Mr. John Crawford also eulogized the services of the General Manager, who requested that his name be in no way mentioned in the resolution. It had always been his desire that votes of thanks should not be presented to himself and colleagues, who were paid for their services to the Bank. He spoke very highly of the staff connected with the institution, and mentioned that Mr. Elliott had been there, in one capacity or another, since the inception of the Bank; Mr. Durnford, the Inspector, had been there for sixteen or seventeen years; Mr. Mark Molson had been there for seventeen years, and many others had been a very long time. He thought that the staff might be termed a very well satisfied, zealous and efficient one. The motion was agreed to unanimously.
