Yes, but I sent what I usually send in such cases.

What you usually send! No wonder Mrs. Moore, my neighbor, complains of her clothes wearing out; I find you usually send her the same soap.

Creelman Bros. Typewriter Co., City.

Nearly four years ago, I purchased my first Underwood Typewriter, and on account of the great satisfaction this machine has given me, I have gradually increased my equipment until now I have eighty machines in daily use—sixty of which are Underwoods. I have given the typewriter question most careful attention during the past few years, owing to the increased demand for expert operators, and after watching results carefully, I have no hesitation in most heartily endorsing the Underwood machine. I find that the pupil can learn the art of typewriting with very much less effort on the Underwood as compared with other makes, as the writing is continually in full view of the operator. This is a decided advantage, and I would consider it a retrograde step to confine pupils to machines on which the carriage has to be raised to inspect the writing. As a further proof of this, I may state that the Agent of the Remington Typewriter Company recently offered to replace my entire outfit of machines, none of which are four years old, with an equal number of new Remingtons of the very latest pattern even up. I declined the proposition, as our school must be up-to-date in every respect, and especially so in the Shorthand and Typewriting Department, in which I cannot afford to use antiquated machines.

You may be pleased to learn that I propose, during the ensuing year, to give every pupil who attends our school an opportunity to learn Typewriting. and that I intend to increase my present number of Underwood machines to an even ONE HUNDRED, thenso that I shall have the very best Typewriting equipment to be found on this American continent.

It is every man's duty to really BE a man. Why? Because there is no excuse for weakness. Folly during boyhood leaves its marks in nervousness, drains, impotency, lame-back, varicocele, shrinkage of parts, etc. But what of it? Sitting in a draft is a folly productive of a cold, but you assist Nature and recover. It doesn't last forever. That's what you want to do for your weakness, my friend. Assist Nature. It's a duty you owe yourself and your family. The only natural aid is Electricity, not drugs. Every honest doctor says as much. That's because Electricity is Strength itself.
