

NOVEMBER.

On the 22d of this month the Sun enters the 9th sign of the Zodiac, Sagittarius, or the Archer. This constellation contains 69 stars. Chiron, the centaur son of Saturn and Phyllira, who was eminent for his skill as a physician, while handling the arrows of Hercules, one of them, dipped in the poisonous blood of the Lernaean Hydra, fell on his foot, and inflicted an incurable wound; the pain was so intolerable that he desired to die, but could not, being of immortal parentage. The Gods, however, translated him to the firmament, and he became the constellation Sagittarius.

To make Excellent Bred.—Mix seven pounds of best flour, with three pounds of pared boiled potatoes. Steam off the water, and leave them a few minutes on the fire, mash them fine, and mix them whilst quite warm in the flour, with a spoonful or more of salt. Put a quart of water, milk warm, with three large spoonfuls of yeast, gradually to the potatoes and flour. Work it well into a smooth dough, and let it remain four hours before it is baked.

The weather, during nearly the entire of this month, will be unusually changeable, rain and snow, with occasional gales of wind, will generally prevail until the 27th, when a sharp frost will set in.
