ST. JOHN'S GREATEST MERCANTILE EVENT WELL UNDER WAY

A great selling event which holds a big place in the mercantile life of the city opened Wednesday morning at Oak Hall. All day long the big store was crowded with buyers, who came away well satisfied and greatly enthused, when they realized the values offered and received the benefit of the low prices. The store is fully stocked with new goods of quality, all of which are offered at prices lower than the lowest. Judging from the opening day, the big event this year will surpass all others of past years, both in the volume of business done and the values received by friends and customers of the firm.

Henderson's $20,000 Stock Of Men's Clothing Still on Sale at Half Price

The $20,000 stock of men's clothing being sold at half price at A. E. Henderson's is the greatest bargain feast that the public has ever had a chance to get splendid overcoats and suits at pre-war prices. This sale is being held to raise money. I believe in getting money by liquidating merchandise not by borrowing it, hence this sale. Men's winter overcoats that were $50 now $25.

Of Men's and Young Men's Overcoats—What You Buy "Sight Unseen"

You know the importance of that hidden steel frame in any large building.

There's a frame in clothes too, that holds them up or slumps them. It's INSIDE, where you can't see.

One reason why our clothes hold their shape so well is because the frame is built RIGHT.
