LABOR'S ATTITUDE. "The agreement of labor," said a New York stock letter "to the wage adjust- ment of the lower selling price of copper and the immediate transaction of large sales of the metal at the reduced prices are the encouraging features of the new developments in the industry. The steps have to be taken sooner or later, and recognition of this fact by the producing interests is most encouraging."

PRICES FIRM TO CONSUMER

Paying Almost as Much as Last Fall for Hog Products—Hoping for Big Orders

(Toronto Globe.)

There is a great difference of opinion regarding the value of bacon and other hog products. Prices to the retailers have declined, but the consumers are still paying, in most cases, within two cents per pound of the prices asked last fall when hogs were selling to the abattoirs at from $21 to $21.50, as compared with $16 and $16.50 during the last few days.

The packing houses claim that quotations to the retailers have declined about four cents per pound, but some of the corner store dealers say that in some cases there has been no reduction at all.

Many factors, however, enter into the problem of determining the value of bacon, ham and pork roasts. Bacon has to be cured, a process which requires anywhere from three to four weeks.

Plan requires an even longer time. Pork, which is the raw material, is sold in which to cure. On this account the packing houses are not in position to cut the prices immediately the cost of hogs drop.

Considerable bacon bought at the higher rates is still unsold. Packing houses are still quoting this stock at the old prices in order to save losses.

Pork roasts, declined about three cents per pound. This meat is ready for the consumer almost as quickly as the hog is dressed. Consequently the prices of dressed pork were lowered long before the cheaper bacon became cured.

Lard dropped about two cents per pound within three or four days of the time hogs declined. Lard is rendered immedi- ately.

Whether the price of bacon and other hog products will decline very much more is a question. The packing houses are now paying slightly more for the live product, but even at the advance the price is $4.50 per hundredweight low the levels reached last summer and fall. This reaction will probably keep the cost to the consumer from dropping very much lower than present prices.

The Canadian packing houses are still hoping for more European orders for all pork products. If further orders are available in the near future the stock now on hand will likely be shipped im- mediately and the cost of hogs advance simultaneously. In which event retail prices will be forced up instead of down.

CANADIAN BOOTMAKERS ASKED FOR QUOTATIONS

Trade Commission in London also Wants Prices on Pulp, Paper and Leather

Ottawa, Feb. 12.—The Canadian Trade Commission has been asked in a cable from the Canadian mission in London to secure information from boot manu- facturers in Canada as to their produc- tion, facilities for delivery and approximate prices of cheaper grades of boots for men, women and children. The cable also requests approximate prices and del- iveries in pulp, newsprint and leather.

LABOR TRUCE PENDING ARBITRATION EFFORT

New York, Feb. 12.—A truce has been signed between the striking union of the building trades and the building trades employers' association, extending from Thursday morning until Saturday noon, in the hope of arbitrating the differences with the carpenters' union which brought on a sympathetic walk- out.

At the concluding session of the On- tario Horticultural Association's annual meeting the following resolution, moved by T. E. Buch, Ottawa, and seconded by J. A. Taylor, St. Thomas, was adopted:

"That this convention of delegates from the horticultural societies of the province please itself on record as being in favor of the establishment of chil- dren's peace parks throughout the cities and towns of the Dominion as war memorial parks, and advises all horticu- lural societies throughout the Dominion to do all in their power to forward the movement."

LABOR'S ATTITUDE. "The agreement of labor," said a New York stock letter "to the wage adjust- ment of the lower selling price of copper and the immediate transaction of large sales of the metal at the reduced prices are the encouraging features of the new developments in the industry. The steps have to be taken sooner or later, and recognition of this fact by the producing interests is most encouraging."

"It seems to me," said a buyer re- cently, "that if some of the manu- facturers in this city gave more atten- tion to the hiring of their employees, both male and female, it would certainly in- crease the efficiency of their organiza- tion."

"In just what respect?" asked a Times reporter.

"As an example," said the buyer, "I went in to see a certain manufacturer one morning last week about buying a bill of waists. It was my first visit to the establishment and will probably be my last. In stepping out of the elevator I noticed two or three people sitting in the office, but none seemed to be in- terested as to who came in. I walked into the showroom and walked around a while. In the meantime one of the girls looked in, and I thought perhaps she would call one of the salesmen. How- ever, she was not apparently interested. I waited fully ten minutes for some one to show up and wait on me. At last my patience was exhausted and I started to go out.

"Just as I was stepping on to the elevator to go down, a man came running out of the office to see me. I later learned he was the owner. 'What can I do for you?' he asked. 'Nothing,' I re- plied. 'I have waited at least fifteen minutes for some one to see me, but I cannot wait all day, so it will be neces- sary for me to buy my waists else- where.'

"I was busy," he said; and, 'My time is limited,' I replied, 'but I will tell you frankly that you could have sold me a bill of goods if it had not been for the indifferent attitude shown by the people in your office.'
