WHEN McGOORTY AND KLAUS MET

FROM T. S. ANDREWS

Milwaukee, Oct. 9.—The famous battle between the late Stanley Ketchel and Billy Papke, Jr. in 1906 was brought to the minds of many fans at the clash between Eddie McGorty, the Wisconsin middle weight champion, and Frank Klaus, the Pittsburgh brawler, as he is called. McGorty and Klaus gave a splendid illustration of how the Ketchel-Papke battle was fought, for they fought like two young bulls all the way through 10 rounds and at the end it was a good draw, with the shade, if such a thing is permissible, in favor of the Wisconsin lad. The Pittsburgh boy was the one to make it a great fight, for he carried the battle to McGorty from the tap of the gong till the final bell and it was Eddie's wonderful left hand that kept his man off and made it such a hair-raising contest to watch. The fans certainly got their money's worth and the two fighters knew they had been through more than an ordinary mill. In a long fight the odds might favor Klaus, especially if fighting were permitted, for he was a glutton for punishment and hard straight lefts to the face and right crosses did not seem to phase him. When he did land he made the Badger boy wince and some of his glancing blows cut Eddie about the eye and the mouth. They fought under clean break rules, but for a while they forgot in fighting until referee Stout stopped the bout for a few seconds and explained the rules again. His interpretation, however, was more liberal this time and they fought while in close as long as they were not in holds. This style worried Klaus more than McGorty, for the former depended greatly on lightning to wear his man down. Eddie's left hand never worked to better advantage and it carried considerable weight back of it. He had a marvelous left and Klaus testified to his unerring aim. The two men could well be matched in a long fight and the winner would surely be in line for a championship match with Klaus stated after the fight that he had net lots of middle weights, but that McGorty had the best left of all of them. It is not likely that Klaus will go to France as reported, for Manager George Engel says there is more money here for him.

Willie Ritchie, the champion light weight, was an interested spectator at the McGorty-Klaus fight and stated that he would like nothing better than to meet any of three men here—Wolfgang, Charlie White or Paddy McFarland—but he stated that McFarland would have to make 135 pounds ringside, a weight that is almost impossible for a Chicago boy to make as a strong. Ritchie said he intended to keep his date with Tommy Murphy in New York Oct. 17, and may possibly take a match in Milwaukee before going back to the coast, where he expects to have a 20-round battle before Jimmy Coffroth's club. The Queensbury club of Milwaukee, which has a seating capacity for over 10,000 people, will likely stage any match that Ritchie may have in Milwaukee. Willie also took time to say that Harry Pollock, manager of Fred Welsh, was the cause of the match being called off at Vancouver. He says he is not opposed to meeting Welsh, but that he will not do business with Mr. Pollock, so it is up to the British champion to do his own business. The Ritchie match if he wants one.

BAPTIST MISSION BOARD MEETING. Rev. Wellington Camp, one of the five delegates who represented the maritime provinces at the annual meeting of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board of Canada held in Toronto this week from Tuesday to Thursday, returned home yesterday. The most important feature of the meeting, Mr. Camp told The Telegram last night, was the discussion of the question of accepting government grants for their schools in India. The twenty-two members of the board discussed this matter from 8 o'clock in the morning until early the following morning, and it was decided to refuse the government grants, as it is the Baptist belief that state and church should be kept entirely separate. ATHLETICS WIN; FOURTH GAME SENSATIONAL

Philadelphia Scored Six Before Giants Made a Run — But Finished 6-5

Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—But one victory stands between the Philadelphia Athletics and the world's championship in baseball tonight, for the Mackmen defeated the New York Giants at Shibe Park this afternoon by a score of 6 to 5, in the fourth game of the titular series. Before the contest was clinched, however, 20,000 Quaker City fans suffered a period of suspense that will keep the Giants' eleven hitting rally green in their memory for some seasons to come. The game effort of the National League players to outdo their rivals in the closing innings of the game changed the entire complexion of the battle, leaving what appeared to be a one-sided match into a contest that hung in the balance until the last put out. Demaree received a warm welcome at the start, but was not until the second inning that the first Athletic crossed the plate. Melnis opened with a Texas leaguer that Snodgrass could not quite reach, but that they might yet overtake the double scored Melnis. The Fatal Fourth. The big blow came in the fourth. With one out, Strunk knocked Herzog over with a smashing single and Barry put him on third with another, taking second on Shaffer's throw to third. Schang followed with a vicious liner past Doyle, scoring Strunk and Barry. He went to second on Shaffer's throw to third and a third moment later on McLean's passed ball. Schang scored when Merkle fumbled Bender's grounder.

When the Athletics next came to bat they faced Marquard, and after two outs had been recorded Strunk walked on four successive wide ones. Barry's second double to left put Strunk on third, and Schang promptly singled to centre, scoring Strunk and Barry. Bender went in on this with another, taking second on Shaffer's throw to third. Suddenly the Indians became transformed from bitless weaklings to real Giants, who hammered the speed and slant of the Indian twirler to all parts of the park. It was in the "lucky seventh" that the storm of his blows upon the astonished Athletics, and before the afternoon was half over, three Giants had crossed the plate and the fusillade continued into the next session, when two more scores and the team, which was but a few moments before apparently outclassed, was battering down the last defenses of the Mackmen. Merkle's Home Run. Fred Merkle, whose injured ankle still caused him to limp perceptibly, was the player who was directly responsible for the breaking through of the coat of whiteness that Bender was applying so artistically. With Burns and Murray on second and third as the result of two singles question has now been settled and from now on, as has been the custom in previous years, the Baptist schools in Indiana will not accept aid from the government. The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: N. Stensness, of Toronto, chairman; J. W. Spinder, of Fredericton, vice chairman; and Dr. J. S. Brown, of Toronto, general secretary. The general secretaries elected were Rev. A. A. McKay, Toronto, and Rev. M. E. Fletcher, St. John. The reports read at the meeting showed that during the last year the sum of $86,000 was raised in the maritime provinces for foreign mission purposes. Of this $12,000 was contributed by women. In the whole of Canada $128,000 was raised.

and a double steal, and two out, Merkle caught one of Bender's low balls on the outside corner of the plate and lifted it far into left center. Merkle neither clearing nor Strunk could quite reach it. The sphere hit the ground out of Shibe Park and with a mighty bound hopped over the fence into the bleachers, and Merkle trotted home after his two teammates with the third home run of the series, thus joining Baker and Schang in the roll of baseball immortals. Spurred on by Merkle's example, Herzog, who had not made a hit in the series to date, opened the eighth with a single, only to be forced by Doyle, who was similarly forced by Fletcher. Burns came through with a double down the third base, scoring Fletcher, and Shaffer shot a triple past first, tallying Burns. Murray smashed a scorching drive at Collins, but the Columbia boy managed to hold the ball until he could steady himself and throw the runner out at first for the third out. Although McGraw sent two pinch hitters to bat in the ninth, the Giants could not get over the run that would have tied the score, for Bender was now fully aware of the danger that beset him and his teammates, and pitched a ball that fairly whistled as it flashed and broke across the plate. McGraw's Men Not Hopeless Yet. It was the narrowest kind of an escape and but for the equally heavy hitting of the Athletics in the forefront of the game, and some brilliant displays of defensive activities, the Giants would now be on even terms with the Philadelphia team instead of trailing two games in the rear of the American League. The rally was effective, however, in that it encouraged the men of McGraw to believe that they might yet overtake the flying Athletics. The probabilities are much against such a feat, but the Giants are preparing for a last stand at the Polo Ground tomorrow and claim that if they can once get going they will yet win the series.

To Encourage Correspondence. London, Oct. 11.—The west riding of Yorkshire educational authorities, who have favorably noted the growing practice of scholars corresponding with scholars overseas, have resolved to spend five shillings per certain number of children for exchanging letters with children in other parts of the empire.

Proposed this movement. It is worth noting that Canadian emigration authorities have distributed over a hundred thousand alphas of Canada in English schools this year.
