NEW BRUNSWICKER DEAD IN CALIFORNIA

Gilbert D. Davis, Wealthy Rancher and Fruit Grower, Leaves Relatives in St. John.

"On Thursday evening, at his residence, corner San Bernardino road and Grand avenue, Gilbert D. Davis, owner of one of the largest ranches in this vicinity, died after an illness of barely two weeks," says the Argus, published in Covina (Cal.), August 1. "Death" was due to pneumonia. Mr. Davis was very heavily built and the disease which is generally fatal, attacked the system with great violence. During the last week of his illness his brother, Abner Alfred Davis, of Oakland, and wife, were present, and did everything in their power to relieve the sufferings of the stricken man. Mr. Davis' brother will remain here and supervise the settlement of his brother's affairs.

"The body is to be taken this evening by train to Bellefontaine, Ohio, where Mr. Davis' wife is buried. The Masonic lodge of Covina will escort the body to the train and the funeral will be held in Bellefontaine under the direction of the Masonic order. He was seventy-three years of age.

"Gilbert D. Davis was born in Springfield, Kings County (N. B.), and was educated in the public schools of that town. A few years of his early manhood were spent in the position of clerk in one of the business houses of Springfield, after which he removed to Bellefontaine, Ohio, remaining there for a considerable time. His next venture was that of ranching in Missouri, where he became one of the leading farmers of his community. From there he moved to Chicago. For many years he was connected with a leading tobacco firm as salesman.

"In February, 1905, after having accumulated a considerable fortune, Mr. Davis came to California and settled in Covina, purchasing sixty acres of the holdings known as the Rudbeck ranch, all of which is planted to orange trees in bearing. Since becoming a resident of Covina, Mr. Davis took an active interest in the affairs of the town, and made many warm friends. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zebulon S. Davis, of New Brunswick, and besides his brother, Abner Alfred, he leaves four sisters, Mrs. Dorcas E. Dykman, of St. John, N. B.; Mrs. Mary J. Wetmore, of Boston; Mrs. Phoebe A. Noble, of St. John, and Mrs. Annabelle Woodbury, of Brattleboro, Vt. Other St. John relatives of Mr. Davis are Eberhart P. Dykman, local agent for Clark & Sons, Germantown, Pa.; E. N. Davis, dentist, and S. H. Davis, of M. R. A.'s staff, who are nephews.

In the Douglas avenue Christian church, a branch society of the Christian Women's Board of Missions has been organized by Miss Pounds. The officers are: President, Mrs. Charles Armstrong; vice-president, Miss Margaret Roberts; recording secretary, Mrs. George Scott; treasurer, Miss Seymour. The object is the uplifting of the women in heathen countries.

England owns 40 per cent. of the mileage of submarine cables, the United States coming next with 18 per cent., and France next with 9 per cent.

The anchors, chains, compasses and sundries saved from the wrecked Battle liner Arcola will be sold at auction in North Sydney on September 2.
