What on earth is AOSC?

Among other things, it's a little house in Toronto that is the rock bottom place to buy travel.

AOSC stands for Association of Student Councils, a non-profit organization owned and operated by the student bodies of 60 Canadian campuses.

As a student who may be thinking about going somewhere sometime, you are eligible for all kinds of special privileges and services you probably don't even know about.

You see, AOSC's principal function is to make available to students the best, most economical travel arrangements possible.

The idea is to provide a service, not make a buck.

And it shows.

You're offered the lowest dependable airfares available, on 40 charters flying between April 30 and October 5. For example - jet Toronto to London from $86 one way, or $155 return; Vancouver to London from $225 return or $125 one way.

Through AOSC's affiliation with the international network of student organizations, you have access to another 5,000 special flights originating all over the world.

All in all, this results in some fairly incredible deals.

Say, for example, you wanted to fly Toronto-Hong Kong return. A normally-routed ticket would take you westward and allow one stopover . . . for about $1,200. AOSC can fly you the long way, through Europe, with stopovers, for $600.

Such fare savings of up to 75% make your flying a dirt-cheap proposition.

AOSC also offers a wide variety of land arrangements, all specially designed for students, all ridiculous bargains.

For example, you can spend 22 days in Turkey for $235 . . . sail the Greek Islands for a week on $54 . . . or go on a 72-day camping safari from London to Katmandu, 10,000 miles, for about $400.

If you're thinking of travelling, there is more you should know about. A whole lot more: lists of student restaurants and hotels, Eurail pass deals, special car-leasing arrangements, overseas job opportunities, the International Student Card . . .

AOSC. It's your travel bureau. Use it.

Why not pick up more specific information from your student council office.

Or, contact us direct.
