"I never complained of my condition but once," said an old man, when my feet were bare, and I had no money to buy shoes; but I met a man without feet, and became contented.

Truth being founded upon a rock, you must bodily dig to see its foundations, without fear of destroying the evidence; but falsehood being laid on the sand, if you examine its foundations you cause it to fall.

A spread-eagle orator wanted the wings of a bird to fly to every village and hamlet in the broad land, but he wilted when a naughty boy in the crowd sang out: You'd be shot for a goose before you had fled a mile.'
