

Stop "Soil Blowing"

Straw spread evenly over the ground either before or after seeding or right now on the snow is the surest in fact the only satisfactory method of preventing soil blowing. If you live in the blow section or on a sandy farm you can't afford to go another year without a straw spreader.

Curtis Brown says: "It is just the making of my farm. I made over $500 by spreading straw this year—my land never blowed a bit." Dick McClanahan says: "You ought to see the difference where we used the spreader and where we did not."

Straw contains valuable fertilizing properties, such as phosphorus, nitrogen and potash. It is worth $2.50 a ton for plant food, furnishing a large amount of organic matter, and placing the ground in better physical condition. Better crops are assured every farmer who uses a

You can also raise enormous crops of corn (field and sweet), oats, hay, Japanese cane, clover, sweet and Irish potatoes, sugar cane, celery, tomatoes, lettuce, cabbage, watermelons, cantaloupes, egg plant, cucumbers, radishes, turnips, and all kinds of early and profitable vegetables.

How Much Has The Guide Saved You?

$20.00 in Cash

For the Best and Most Accurate Answers

One of our readers has written as follows:

"The Guide is the best investment I ever made. I would not be without it for $10 a year. I figure that it saves me in hard cash several times that amount."

"These statements are interesting," said the Editor. "I wonder how much money The Guide has saved its other readers. I will invite them to write letters on this subject and offer prizes for the best letters."

So it was decided upon.

Every reader of The Guide is invited to write a short letter not over 300 words at the most on the subject "How Much The Guide has Saved Me." There will be six prizes.

- For the best letter $7.00
- For the second best letter 5.00
- For the next four best, each 2.00

The letters containing the most definite information will receive the prizes.

Do not write about the pleasure or entertainment The Guide has brought you; that is for another time. Make this letter a straight dollars and cents answer.

WRITE PROMPTLY, AS THIS NOTICE MAY NOT APPEAR AGAIN

This Contest will close on the 27th February, and no letters received after that date will be considered for the prizes.

Address: Editor, Grain Growers' Guide, Winnipeg, Man.

This competition is open to both the men and women readers of The Guide and your answers are not limited to the eight subjects mentioned above. If The Guide has saved you money in any other way, you are at liberty to write upon it. Of course, to many readers The Guide has been able to render service that cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. We have received many letters telling us of the pleasure The Guide gives its readers, but in this case we are limiting the answers to a dollar and cent basis.

In addition to letters competing for the prize, however, we would be glad to have suggestions on this same subject, telling us what information we can publish in The Guide that will save more money for its readers.
