Assault Cases Before Magistrate Masson

In police court a number of cases were this morning disposed of by Magistrate Masson.

The case was adjourned to Saturday to procure a witness as there was a discrepancy between the parties as to blows being struck. Wm. Carney for plaintiff and Mr. O'Flynn for the accused.

In the case of B. H. Clarke charged with obtaining by false pretences a sum of money from the Union Bank. Col. E. D. O'Flynn acting for the accused asked for an adjournment of the case. Mr. W. Carney, county attorney consented and an adjournment was made until the 18th inst.

Mrs. Letta Naylor was charged that she did in the Township of Thurlow on the 23rd of November, 1919 unlawfully assault and beat Sarah Welsh, thereby causing grievous bodily harm. The accused pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by His Worship, Wm. Carney for Crown and Mr. Butler for the accused.

Black and Son Won the Action

Attorney General's Department Was Defendant—Other Cases in Supreme Court

At the resumed sittings of the non-jury court before Chief Justice Sir Glenholme Falconbridge, which was unfinished last week, the following cases were disposed of, finishing the list which was a very heavy one and the court closed at six o'clock last night.

Orv vs Orv

The plaintiff and defendant are husband and wife. About twenty years ago the plaintiff's mother promised to give her a piece of land to build a house on, so the daughter would be living near her. When the deed of the land was given the plaintiff alleged, owing to the persuasion and influence of her husband, she consented to its being in the name of herself and her husband jointly, and since then she had given a mortgage on the property at her husband's request to supply necessaries for the home when she was sick and weak. She had since paid with her own money which one of her sons had given her. That she had kept boarders, doing all the work and washing and mending for them and in this way had saved some money which she used in building and repairs on the property. Lastly the husband became so abusive and ill-treated her so badly that she could not live with him. She was to be the owner and entitled to the mortgage which she had paid. After hearing the evidence His Lordship reserved judgment, advising the parties in the meantime to try and agree to differences. E. Guss Porter, K.C. and C. A. Payne for plaintiff; W. C. Michel, K.C. for defendant.

Parry vs Parry

This case we noticed when tried last week when judgment was reserved. It involved the interpretation of the will of Caleb Parry, who died about sixty years ago leaving the front 100 acres of his farm to his son W. H. Parry, and the rear 50 acres to his son Lester and giving Lester a right of way over the land given to W. H. Parry to go to and from his land. The parties to the action are grandsons of Caleb Parry and succeeded to the lands on the death of their father. The plaintiff kept the right of way to keep his cattle in and the defendant in passing would not shut up the bars but threw them over the fence.

Judgment was given in which His Lordship held in favor of the defendant in not putting up the bars after using them was unreasonable and unlawful and that using the bars as the plaintiff did was no substantial interference with the defendant's right of way, which he must use subject to the plaintiff's reasonable user of his farm and awarding the plaintiff an injunction restraining the defendant from further repetition of his wrongful conduct in putting up the bars when he used them together with $5.00 damages and costs of action. E. Guss Porter, K.C. for plaintiff; Wm. Carney for defendant.

Robinson vs Shannon

The plaintiff until last spring was a farmer in the extreme northern part of this county near Lake St. Peter and sold his farm, here and came out to the front to rent or buy a farm. The defendant is a conductor on the Central Ontario Railway and met the plaintiff on the train coming to the front and finding out his intention the plaintiff alleged that defendant induced him to rent a park lot in Trenton of about 10 acres by falsely representing that the orchard that covered nearly the whole ten acres was a 11 orchard in good condition, except a few trees that had been damaged by the British Chemical Company, that the produce of orchard would pay the rent, $250, and had always paid the rent, that the land was good and in good condition and the house in A1 condition. The plaintiff found these representations to be false. The orchard had been rendered almost worthless by the Chemical Company and for which damages Shannon had collected $1500.00 from the company; the land was so poor and in such a state that he could not get but $8 worth of crop and the house was also in bad condition and brought this action to have the lease set aside and declared void for misrepresentation.

The defendant denied making the representations and counter-claiming for damages, alleging the plaintiff had not fulfilled his covenants in regard to working the land and caring for the orchard.

After hearing the evidence His Lordship reserved judgment. E. Guss Porter, K.C. for plaintiff; F. E. O'Flynn for defendant.

Situation in the Coal Strike

(Special 4 p.m. Despatch from Canadian Press Ltd.)

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Further disruption of national industry because of fuel shortage brought about the strike of bituminous coal miners was in prospect today. Regional directors of railroads had authority to suspend passenger trains where the public would be least inconvenienced and many additional manufacturing plants throughout the country faced a shut-down either through lack of coal supplies or strict rationing decreed by fuel administrators. Only in isolated instances were there reports of a change of front on the part of the miners generally. The workers adhered to their attitude of remaining away from the mines until better terms than those decreed by the government were forthcoming. Optimistic reports came from the district embracing south-eastern Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, where the operators claim the back bone of the strike has been broken.
