Local and Provincial.

Mr Osgood Morse, of the College, occupied the Presbyterian pulpit last Sunday afternoon.

Mr D. H. Newcombe will sell Household Furniture, Piano, Riding Wagon, Harness, etc., at auction in Wolfville, on Monday, May 25th, at 1 o'clock, p. m. See Posters.

It is reported that early in June the Cornwallis Valley Railway will run an extra train to connect with the late Windsor and Annapolis express, and also the morning.

Eggs wanted at 12c. R. Prat.

Next Monday having been proclaimed a holiday, the merchants of Wolfville have decided to close their respective places of business on that day. Customers from out of town will do well to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

We understand that Mr Spencer, who has been doing a large business in building here, has secured the contract for building the new station. The foundation is now nearly completed and the work on the building will no doubt soon be begun.

Mr Chas. A. Eaton, of the class of '90 is to deliver a lecture in College Hall this evening on the subject: "Can Canadians keep Canada?" Mr Eaton is well known here as a young man of ability, and we have no doubt but that a good audience will greet him on this occasion.

The class day exercises of the Senior class of Acadia College will be held in Assembly Hall at 3 o'clock, Tuesday June 21. An interesting and amusing programme has been prepared and a thoroughly good time may be expected. All are cordially invited to be present.

New Novels, just received at Wolfville Book Store.

Conductor J. P. Edwards showed us the other day an ancient document in the shape of a note issued by the first congress of the United States at Philadelphia, in 1776, for sixty Spanish dollars. This is certainly a curiosity, and one which Conductor Edwards may well guard jealously.

The Queen's Birthday sports at Hantsport on Monday evening, under the management of Prof. Woodman, promise to be of a very interesting nature. The tug of war, especially, will no doubt be an exciting contest, as considerable rivalry exists between the two teams. Those who attend may expect a good time.

Some three thousand dollars worth of pressed hay has been brought into Shubenacadie from Quebec, which is purchased for $5.00 a ton and sold at $12.50. The aluvial hay cutting lands on the Shubenacadie river are probably as extensive as those of Horton. The failure in grass last year providentially has thus its cheap complement in hay by rail. Got

Lily of the Valley Division at Port Williams, King's County, has some difficulties to contend with in the want of proper hall accommodation, but this does not discourage them. They now hold their meetings in a small room in the basement of the Baptist church, and are gathering funds to erect a hall of their own. We had the pleasure of attending one of their meetings last Friday evening and found a good number of earnest and progressive Sons of Temperance in attendance. Their example is worthy of emulation.—Temperance Index.

The Summer School of Science for the Atlantic Provinces of Canada meets next July in Antigonish. The fine new building of St. Francis Xavier college has been placed at the disposal for the occasion. Antigonish will this summer be connected with all the Atlantic Provinces by the most direct line of communication. The opening of the Pictou Oxford branch of the I. C. R. makes a straight line of rails to St. John, and New Brunswick generally; and for P. E. Island it is only one remove from Pictou. The accommodations for the school will be good and inexpensive.

Extra fine line 5 ct. Room Papers, at Wolfville Book Store.

One day last week, a special official train, in charge of Conductor Herbert, made the run from Annapolis to Kentville in one hour and twenty-six minutes actual running time. As the distance is 60 miles, this makes the average speed forty-two miles an hour. Some of the time during the run the speed exceeded 60 miles an hour. This is a very creditable rate of speed, especially as no special effort was made for fast time. The run was made by No. 1 engine in charge of Driver Wm. Ward, and shows that the road bed of the W. & A. R. must be in good order.—Tribune.

Sheep Shearing.

In reference to the communication which appeared in your issue of the 1st inst. under this heading, in which your correspondent advocates the postponement of the lambing season until after shearing. Columns have been written on sheep and their management from the days of Jethro Tull and Bakewell to the present time; scientific agriculturists have devoted much attention to improving the breed of sheep and to experiments in the use of various kinds of food for fattening them with the object of bringing them to an early age to market. Primarily wool was the source of profit. For example, before the frozen meat era Australians kept sheep for their wool, now they have profit on the carcass as well. In pre-historic times no doubt our progenitors wore sheepskins with the wool on as some large sheep owners do now, but during historic times, since the art of weaving woolen fabrics was invented, sheep shearing has been a sort of festival and a good time generally. Not having had the advantage of a college education, I am unable to inform your readers whether Orion, the first king of the Chaldees, was a shepherd, washed his sheep or not, but I can say that the proper time for shearing will always be a matter of judgment and cannot be determined by the weather and temperature to be expected. It is impossible to wet a sheep to the skin. Nature has provided an ally in the form of the fleece next to the skin is saturated, rendering it waterproof. Common sense and humanity dictate that the sheep be shorn in dry weather and washed in rain. Sheep should not be shorn before May nor until after lambing. Where sheep are wintered in small lots in stables, and roots and oats are plentiful, the sheep will be a little trouble to raise early lambs. From Easter onward lambing fetches a high price, and the farmer will be able to graze the ewes for some time after lambing. As regards sheep washing, the Spaniards wash their Merinos in buildings so as to increase the yield and thereby the weight of the fleece. Austrians wash the sheep in the open air, and the Welsh their mountain sheep. Where turnips are fed off where they grow, in a wet time, the sheep get their fleeces caked with clay and washing is necessary. Scientific agriculturists have discovered that dipping lambs in a composition sold by chemists for the purpose actually causes them to thrive, it kills all sheep-lice and stops the fly. Losses by dogs at Greenfield and Lower Horton mentioned in your paper, leads me to suggest the enforcement by Act of Parliament of a system for dogs as adopted here, every dog must wear a collar and tag with its registered number, and any dog found without such tag is liable to be caught and destroyed. Such a means of identification and the judicious use of the gun and rope would bring home the responsibility of owners and lead to the extermination of sheep-worrying dogs.

Major Drennan, Mayor of Kingston, will be appointed Brigadier-Major of Military District No. 3 and 4. This is a good appointment, as Mayor Drennan is the most popular military officer in Eastern Canada.

Three government bills were introduced yesterday, one by Hon. C. H. Tupper, respecting the transfer of the vicar-admiralty jurisdiction.

Mr Davin has given notice of a motion granting second home-leave to settlers who entered the Northwest between 1882 and 1886, and who for a policy to more rapidly people the Northwest, who for a commission to inquire into the conduct of Commissioner Hetherington and the N. W. M. Police force.

Hon. Mr Chapleau states that the revision of the Dominion voters' list should not be shorn before May nor until after lambing. Where sheep are wintered in small lots in stables, and roots and oats are plentiful, the sheep will be a little trouble to raise early lambs. From Easter onward lambing fetches a high price, and the farmer will be able to graze the ewes for some time after lambing. As regards sheep washing, the Spaniards wash their Merinos in buildings so as to increase the yield and thereby the weight of the fleece. Austrians wash the sheep in the open air, and the Welsh their mountain sheep. Where turnips are fed off where they grow, in a wet time, the sheep get their fleeces caked with clay and washing is necessary. Scientific agriculturists have discovered that dipping lambs in a composition sold by chemists for the purpose actually causes them to thrive, it kills all sheep-lice and stops the fly. Losses by dogs at Greenfield and Lower Horton mentioned in your paper, leads me to suggest the enforcement by Act of Parliament of a system for dogs as adopted here, every dog must wear a collar and tag with its registered number, and any dog found without such tag is liable to be caught and destroyed. The estimates have been laid on the table by Hon. George Foster and the budget speech will be delivered on Monday next.

Mr Taylor has withdrawn his bill to prohibit the importation of foreign labor under contract after a statement by Sir John Thompson that in his opinion it would be unwise to proceed with the bill now, in view of the fact that the regulations to be resumed at Washington in the fall would cover this as well as all other questions of international character.

There are 119 straight Conservatives and 91 straight opposition in the House at present. With Conservatives returned in Algoma, Three Rivers, d'Archenay, the majority would thus be thirty. As expected, the three independent or doubtful members with the government the figure will be 33 on the first party division in a full House.

The death of Senator Leonard at London, Ontario, leaves only 16 gill members in the present Senate.

Ice Cream Freezers, Lawn Mowers and other reasonable household hardware at Brown's.

The public will learn with regret of the death of J. L. Wickwire, Esq., who died at his residence in Canning Tuesday morning at one o'clock. Mr Wickwire has been a landmark in the social, business and political concerns of this County for more than thirty years. Always active in every matter with which he was identified, he brought to his aid his originality and force of character which enabled him to make a mark which is permitted many to reach in the various walks of life. His untimely death is a loss to the community and a life of unassailable morality gave no weak points in his armor for a friendly shaft to penetrate. Firm in his attachment to his friends, now that he has gone it will be conceded by all that few men can be pointed out whose place it would be harder to fill than the one he has occupied.—Western Chronicle.

Mr J. D. Chambers and children arrived in town last week. Mr Chambers has taken the residence formerly occupied by Dr. Parish. On leaving Wolfville Mrs Chambers was presented with a purse by the Presbyterian church in recognition of her five years' service as organist.—Yarmouth Light.
