

THE WHITE RIBBON

"For God and Home and Native Land."

Conducted by the Ladies of the W. C. T. U.

OFFICERS. President—Mrs R. V. Jones. Vice-President—Mrs Thomas Harris.

President—Mrs R. V. Jones. Vice-President—Mrs Thomas Harris. Recording Secretary—Miss L. Sloan.

Next meeting in Temperance Hall Thursday, Oct. 10th, at 3.30 p. m.

Gospel Temperance meetings, conducted by members of the W. C. T. U., are held every Sunday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, in the vestry of the Methodist church.

One of the most honored names of the Polyglot Patagon is that of Khama chief of the Bechuanaland. The Aborigines Friend is a journal of the transactions of the Aborigines Protection Society.

The highway from that country to Matabeleland passes through Bechuanaland. A line of railway thither is now being built, but the road is at present traversed by the help of cattle wagons or horses.

But all experience shows that wherever cantons and "hotels" are proposed. But all experience shows that wherever cantons and "hotels" are proposed.

It is not the same thing to offer my country to Her Majesty to be occupied by the English settlers as it is to allow men so worthless and unscrupulous as and to come outside of all governments and flood my country with their drink after all the long struggle I made against it, withstanding my people at the risk of my life, and just as they have themselves come to see how great a salvation my drink laws have proved to be.

It is true that the Hon. Cecil J. Rhodes has written to the government repeating the assurance that the natives are not to have liquor, but he says nothing about the setting up of cantons for the "benefit" of the Europeans.

Some years ago there lived in a little whiskey town among the mountains of Southern California a poor woman whose husband spent all his earnings in one of the many saloons of the town, and she was compelled to do washing to eke out a scanty living for herself and family of small children.

Among her patrons was the saloon-keeper's wife. Times were hard, money scarce, and the winter came on. The drunkard's wife had a serious time to keep the wolf from the door.

A FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION.

How it Cured Mrs Somerville, of Brantford.

Her Case Had Been a Ten Years of Treatment—The Trouble Brought on by an Attack of Typhoid Fever—She is Again Enjoying Good Health.

From the Brantford Nationalist.

That Dr Williams' Pink Pills are a favorite medicine in Brantford and vicinity will be readily borne out by the local druggists and that much suffering has been alleviated by the use of the wonderful healer, is amply shown by the number of strong statements in favor of Pink Pills from this section. And yet the number of cases published is small in comparison with the total number that have found benefit from the use of this great blood builder and nerve restorer.

It is true that Pink Pills are used in many cases to tone up the system, enrich the blood and stimulate the nerves where no serious illness exists; but it is equally true that in many cases in which they have been used, other medicines have failed, and the result achieved by Pink Pills was very truly characterized as miraculous. The editor of the Canadian Nationalist came across just such a case recently. It is that of Mrs. Somerville, a well-known and highly respected resident of this city.

Mrs. Somerville does not seek notoriety; but is willing that a statement of what Pink Pills have done for her shall be made public in the hope that some other sufferer may be benefited thereby.

"My illness at first," said Mrs. Somerville, "was a serious attack of typhoid fever. Although I recovered from the fever it left its effects that have caused me many years of misery. The doctor said that my blood had become impregnated with poison and that it would take a long time to eradicate it.

The trouble seemed to have its chief seat in my limbs, which caused me a great deal of pain. For about ten years I continued doctoring, not continually, but at times, and I tried many remedies without permanent results. This went on until the end of '92, when I became so much crippled up that I despaired of getting relief. I had read much of the remarkable cures through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and became interested in them.

One day I asked my physician if I might try them. He gave his permission and I began using them. By the time the third box was finished I found myself very much improved—in fact, the pains had entirely left me and I was growing healthier and more fleshy.

I continued using the pills until I had taken six boxes more, when I felt that I was entirely cured, and was enjoying better health than I had done for years. I am satisfied that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I owe my recovery, and have implicit confidence in their curative power, and shall continue to recommend them to other sufferers.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are not a patent medicine, but are a long tried prescription acting upon the blood and nerves. They are of great value as a tonic during recovery from acute diseases, such as levers, etc., building up the blood and system, preventing the often disastrous after-effects of such troubles. Sold by all dealers or sent post paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Refuse all imitations and substitutes.

Footish Risks. Alpine tourists continue to get crushed by avalanches and to tumble over precipices with the usual regularity of the season.

Just when pleasure people can take to scrambling among ice hills, freezing half to death and risking dangers that they frequently do not see, no ordinary tourist can understand. There seems to be something in the human system that impels certain people to leave the comforts and safety of civilized habitation and grope for what they know not in almost inaccessible places.

Some are satisfied with the top of an alpine glacier, while nothing less than the North Pole will do for others. When a climber does get up a glacier, what then? He only has to climb down again. If he discovered the North Pole to-morrow, of what commercial value would it be to the world?

The location could not even be utilized for tourist purposes. Foolhardy feats should at all times be discouraged. The individual who goes through some daring but absolutely useless performance should be put down as a lunatic and not held up as a hero. Then these kind of things would stop and fewer lives would be lost.

How Whiskey Bills are Paid. Some years ago there lived in a little whiskey town among the mountains of Southern California a poor woman whose husband spent all his earnings in one of the many saloons of the town, and she was compelled to do washing to eke out a scanty living for herself and family of small children.

Among her patrons was the saloon-keeper's wife. Times were hard, money scarce, and the winter came on. The drunkard's wife had a serious time to keep the wolf from the door.

Scraps for Odd Moments.

If we will make it the habit of our lives to look on the bright side, we will always have a bright side to look on.

Next door neighbor—"My new organ has twenty stops." The sufferer—"Why don't you use them once in awhile?"

"Three minutes for dinner," yelled the railroad porter. "Good!" exclaimed the editor. "The last time it was $3."

Friend—"Your son, I understand has literary aspirations. Does he write for money?" Father (tearfully)—"Unconsciously."

An old friend—A amateur humorist—"That's a pretty good joke, now isn't it?" Weary editor—"I used to think so ten years ago."

"You say it was a runaway match?" "Partly. He tried to run away but she brought him to lime by threats of a breach of promise suit!"

The worst example of the "bicycle race" is that of the man who keeps coming around to borrow your money.

Summer Reporter—And is everything on your farm nice and fresh? Farmer—Nice and fresh, I guess you'd think so if you'd see some of our city boarders.

Mamma-in-law—So, Harold, your papa said he hopes my trip would be of benefit to me. Harold—Yes; he said he hoped if you went to California you'd go for good.

After a sea-voy, to prevent boils and assist acclimation, use Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

In a New England Restaurant—The guest—"What can I get here?" The waitress—"We have coffee as mother used to make it." The guest—"Well, please make it."

"Did they treat you cordially?" "Indeed, yes. Why, about midnight her father came to the head of the stairs and called down to know if I wouldn't stay to breakfast."

For Worms in Children—CHERRY KEEL VERMIFUGE.

Mistress—Did you tell the lady I was out? Ward—Yes, ma'am. Mistress—Did she seem to have any doubts about it? Ward—No, ma'am. She said she knew you wasn't.

With but a Single Thought—Van Dusen—"I wish I were your wife, as I might hold both your hands." Miss Keene—"Indeed, I do, too. I think a monkey muffs is real nice."

"Excuse me for running into you," said the girl to the post. "My fault," said the post. "If I hadn't been in your way and pretty well set up, you wouldn't have done it."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is warranted to cure all cases of malaria. Sold by druggists. Price, $1.00.

A maiden writes: "Can you tell me how to change the color of my hair, which all the young men tell me is red? Certainly we can. Get rich; then they will call it golden or Auburn."

Hall's Hair Restorer is pronounced the best preparation made for thickening the growth of the hair and restoring that which is gray to its original color.

A man who hath no virtue in himself ever envied virtue in others; for man's mind will either feed upon his own good or upon other's evil, and who wanteth the one will prey upon the other.

If you do not know how good remedy Gardell Tea really is for constipation and sick headache, send a postal card to D. Deansmore & Co., 271 Queen Street, West, Toronto.

School Teacher—What little boy can tell me where the home of the swallow is? Bobby—I kin, please. School Teacher—Well, Bobby? Bobby—The home of the swallow is in the stomach.

Fame's Pinnacle.—Rob—"My dad's a 'quire and sits his name in the paper every day." Young Adeline—"Your friend, Miss Helen, is awfully nice; we got on famously together." Miss Mable—"I never saw another like her. She can get on with anybody."

When Voltaire began the study of the English language, and found that "agony" was pronounced as two syllables, and "plague" as one, he said that he wished that half the English had the first disease and the other half the other.

Two soldiers were talking of their reasons for joining the army. I had no wife or children, said one—no one but myself to think of, and besides, I like war. I had a wife, said the other, and joined the army because I liked peace.

Sweet girl—The man I marry must be both brave and heavy. Adeline Young—When we were out sailing and upset, I saved you from a watery grave. That was brave, I admit, but it was not heavy. Yes, it was. I upset the boat on purpose.

Many Disappointed. Toronto Post. Visitors hoped to see the Manufacture of a well-known Product.

Toronto, (Special) Sep. 23.—Many cures were expressed by visitors to the Industrial Fair that the Dodd's Medicine Company of this city did not have a display of their well-known Dodd's Kidney Pills, the remedy which has by this time become so widely and favorably known for the absolute cure of all complaints of the kidneys even in the most acute stages.

A rumor was current that a public exhibition of the manufacture of the remedy made this year prevented the impossibility of such a scheme. Those who want any more information as to seeing the manufacture of this favorite remedy will have to wait till next year.
